Citizens for Ike Urged To Fight for Republican Victory

Energetic Campaign Intentions Revealed

Washington—(U.P.)—President Eisenhower told cheering GOP campaign workers today that he is feeling fine and intends to campaign for reelection "as cheerfully, energetically and enthusiastically as it is possible to do so."

He said he feels so good that he wouldn't even know he had a heart attack last fall except that "the doctors keep reminding me of it."

Mr. Eisenhower told leaders of the recently-reorganized Citizens for Eisenhower movement that "I am perfectly ready to go forward."

He urged them to go out and fight, not only for his own reelection, but also for a Republican Congress.

'Clean Government' Campaign

His voice rose noticeably as he told a group of 500 citizens leaders he will campaign for "clean government, good government, progressive government and government that knows its place and does not interfere with me as I go about my daily business."

He followed this with a quick explanation that his use of the word "me" was generic and referred to "all of us."

"You know, I was ill last fall," he said with a broad grin. "The only way I know about it now is that the doctors keep reminding me of it."

That brought thunderous cheers from the leaders from 40 states assembled here for a three-day campaign conference.

Warning against a campaign complacency, the President said, "it has no place in my vocabulary."

He called for a tremendous get-out-the-vote campaign, saying that when an American citizen votes "the form of self government justifies itself."

He said the goal of the campaign is to make sure "that this great middle-of-the-road philosophy of government can continue."

"We are carrying a torch, carrying a fire and we are not carrying ashes," he said.

Urging the Citizens for Eisenhower to devote themselves energetically to the election of a Republican Congress as to retaining him in the White House, he said that if the voters elected him again "to carry the burdens I have for the last four years," he thought the people who run with him should be bound to him by "party loyalty as well as personal and official loyalty."

DOPE BILL PASSED

Washington—(U.P.)—The Senate today approved a tough narcotics control bill calling for death penalties to help stamp out illicit drug peddling.

The measure would let juries in federal courts hand down a death sentence for a third conviction for the sale or smuggling of narcotics. It also would permit juries to mete out the supreme penalty for sale of narcotics to persons under 18.

Seaton's Voting Record Shows Liberal Tendency

By A. ROBERT SMITH Mail Tribune Correspondent

Washington—Fred A. Seaton, newly appointed Interior Secretary, can best be described as an Eisenhower Republican, tending to be more liberal than his party as a whole.

This is the indication from his voting record during the year he served in the Senate, as well as his political affiliations down through the years when he was in the more liberal faction of Nebraska politics.

More Liberal Than Ike

But the voting record of Seaton indicates that on two big issues he was even more liberal than President Eisenhower. He voted for Alaska statehood, which the President does not support, and he opposed giving the tidelands to the coastal states, contrary to the position of the President.

Curiously both are topics that fall within the domain of the Interior Department, although the tidelands question has been settled legislatively. As far as statehood for Alaska is concerned, Seaton is expected to find himself acceding to the chief executive's wishes on this question.

But most observers expect Seaton to be more aggressive than his predecessor, Douglas McKay, in trying to win White House support for his ideas. This could possibly lead to a reappraisal of the statehood issue by the President.

Seaton's record in the Senate shows that he has a streak of independence. Taking all of the record votes in which he participated in 1952, Seaton voted with the majority of the GOP in the Senate only 69 per cent of the time.

In addition to breaking with his party on tidelands and statehood, Seaton voted against various GOP attempts to cut the budget of the Corps of Engineers.

Seaton backed his party on Niagara power development, voting to give the engineers funds to study its feasibility. Ironically,

Billy Nunn Pleads Innocent to Charge

Billy Junior Nunn, 28, of Klamath Falls, pleaded innocent to charges of first degree murder in Jackson county circuit court today.

He is charged with the murder of Alvin William Eacret, 14, also of Klamath Falls, at Tub Springs State park off Highway 66 between Ashland and Klamath Falls last April 19. Eacret's body was found about a week later by two girls.

Judge H. K. Hanna set July 17 at the date for trial.

Sam Harrison, court-appointed attorney who is representing Nunn, said he asked the trial date to be set so far in advance to give time for a psychiatric examination for Nunn. He indicated to the court he would explore legal possibilities of pleading insanity when the trial is held.

Nunn was arrested in Alturas, Calif., three days after Eacret's body was found.

Election Friday On Medford School District Budget

A poll will be open between 2 and 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Medford High school girls' gymnasium for school district 49 residents to vote on a proposed budget of $1,992,437.11 for the 1956-57 school year operations.

Those eligible to vote are residents of the district who have lived in the district for six months and who have been registered to vote at least since May 1.

Increased Expenditures

The proposed budget calls for increased expenditures totaling $200,203.76, resulting from increased enrollments, higher salaries and other increased costs of operation, according to Leonard Mayfield, school superintendent.

Some of the changes in the budget structure were required by the addition of Dewey and Kenwood districts, which will become part of the Medford district July 1, 1956.

Residents of the Dewey and Kenwood districts and residents of the Oak Grove and West side districts will not be eligible to vote in tomorrow's election. The districts will become a part of the Medford district this year but will operate under separate budgets for one more year.

Lawsuit Questions Governor's Directive

Portland—(U.P.)—District Attorney William Langley today filed a suit in Circuit Court questioning validity of Gov. Elmo Smith's recent directive giving Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton exclusive control of the Multnomah county grand jury.

Langley seeks a declaratory judgment clarifying his right to present to the grand jury routine criminal matters. The governor's directive specifically excluded Langley from handling any matters connected with the attorney general's investigation into alleged vice conditions here.

Langley also asked for an order during pendency of the suit restraining Thornton from preventing him from presenting matters to the grand jury. A hearing on the restraining order was scheduled for next Monday.

Tallahassee Negroes Plan Bus Boycott

Tallahassee, Fla.—(U.P.)—Negroes vowed an all-out boycott of local buses today in a carbon copy of the Montgomery strike but the spirit appeared lacking so far to make it half so effective.

Many Negroes walked or rode in car pools to work to back up demands for first come, first served seating arrangements and "more courtesy" from drivers.

The boycott appeared to be about 50 per cent effective in the morning rush hours, but Negro leaders said that was partly because many of the city's 14,000 Negroes hadn't heard yet about the free car pools.

The boycott emerged from the Saturday arrest of two Florida A&M University coeds who sat in the White section of a segregated bus.

Ike Looks Healthy, Hitchcock Declares

Portland—(U.P.)—Philip S. Hitchcock, who returned here from an eastern trip and a visit to the White House, said today President Eisenhower "looks the picture of health."

Hitchcock, who lost to Douglas McKay in the May 18 primary for the Republican nomination to the U. S. Senate, stopped in Washington, D.C. on his way home from a Presbyterian church meeting in Philadelphia.

for electrical energy development. But he agrees with the current "partnership" power policy under which local utilities are aided in supplying their own power requirements.

Seaton worked hard to help win support from his own party on Capitol Hill for the administration's Upper Colorado reclamation project, a $760,000,000 federal development involving four Rocky Mountain states.

Some say he was largely responsible for drafting the president's soil bank plan, which has won wide support in Congress and now has been signed into law.

Seaton comes by the label "Eisenhower Republican" honestly, from the standpoint of intra party loyalties. He was a supporter of Eisenhower months before the Chicago convention in which Eisenhower defeated Sen. Robert A. Taft for the nomination. To do this, Seaton had to go against the prevailing sentiments of his conservative home state and his senior colleague, the late Sen. Hugh Butler, who backed Taft.

Served for Stassen

Prior to this political affiliation, Seaton served Harold E. Stassen as a campaign secretary and earlier, in 1936, was secretary to Alf Landon, the GOP presidential candidate that year.

If Seaton had a small hand in making possible President Eisenhower's initial success in politics, it can be said that the Seaton family even had a hand in launching the five-star general's career. Fred Seaton's father was the assistant to Sen. Joseph L. Bristow (R-Kan.).

Bristow served only one term, 1909-1915, during which he at least made one historic decision—he appointed to West Point a Kansas farm boy named Dwight David Eisenhower.

Open House Set at East Side Station

An open house from 1:30 to 5 p.m. Sunday will "dedicate" the city of Medford's new east side fire station, Fire Chief Gordon Barker announced today.

Mayor Earl Miller, city councilman and City Manager Robert Duff will be present. Eugene Amann, Oakland, Calif., Medford's first fire chief, will be special guest. There will, however, be no formal ceremonies, Barker said.

The chief invited all residents interested to make a Sunday afternoon tour of inspection of the station. Refreshments will be served by firemen.

The station at 330 Highland dr. was placed in service Tuesday. Equipment and personnel were moved from the temporary fire hall at 147 South Keene Way dr.

Myron Corcoran Construction company was builder of the new station. It received the contract in February on a low bid of $20,990.

UN Command in Korea Orders Members Chased

Flagrant Violation Of Armistice Charged

Panmunjom, Korea—(U.P.)—The United Nations Command today ordered the neutral truce supervision teams expelled from the Republic of Korea for flagrant Communist violations of the armistice and perversion of the truce teams role.

The U.N. Command gave the teams one week to leave the Republic of Korea where the Polish and Czech members have been denounced by President Syngman Rhee as spies. There was no criticism of the Swiss and Swedish members.

8th Army To Take Action

U.S. Maj. Gen. R. G. Gard, head of the delegation which ousted the truce teams, told newsmen the U.S. 8th Army will "take necessary action" if the inspectors do not leave. He did not elaborate.

In response to a question he said U.N. military forces in South Korea "are always on the alert for attack."

At the same time an official U.N. Command spokesman in Tokyo said U.N. forces were ready to meet any Communist attack if the Reds resume warfare because of the expulsion order, and presumably with atomic weapons that would be flown in from Tokyo.

Temporary Suspension

The U.N. Command told the Communists the expulsions amounted to temporary suspension of some of the armistice regulations until the Reds correct their violations. The major violation was the illegal building up of a North Korean air force.

U.N. sources said the Reds had brought between 400 and 500 planes into North Korea, about half of them jet fighters and bombers, since the armistice. The armistice provided that forces should be frozen at end of the fighting. The neutral observation teams were formed to check for violations.

North Korean Coy. Lo In Hui, who attended today's meeting in the unexplained absence of the senior Red delegate, Maj. Gen. Jung Kuk Rok, said "if the United Nations side takes in any unilateral action it will have to bear all consequences."

Two Ships Collide Off Thames Estuary

Margate, England—(U.P.)—Two ships collided off the Thames estuary in the North Sea today. One reported it was taking water and needed immediate assistance. There was no immediate word on the other's fate.

Radio messages from the 5671-ton Liberian steamer Centaurus said it and the Japanese 9300-ton freighter Philippine Maru collided two miles off Sandiettle lights.

The Centaurus said it was taking water and needed help. A British Coast Guard cutter put out from Ramsgate, and the French salvage tug Jeanbart moved to the scene from the French shore.

The Centaurus radioed about a half hour after the crash that visibility was very bad and asked that all other ships keep clear of the area to avoid collision.

Rainfall Reducing Food Value of Hay

Current rainfall is reducing food value of hay which has already been cut and is delaying harvest of the remainder of the crop, W. B. (Ben) Tucker, Jackson county agent, reported today.

Tucker said some farmers are conserving their cut hay for feed purposes by converting it into silage.

He added that uncut hay is becoming over-ripe in the fields and protein content will be reduced if the rain continues and harvest is delayed much longer.

Columbia Inches Toward One of Highest Crests

Situation Said Not Critical

Portland—(U.P.)—The Columbia river inched slowly upward toward one of its biggest crests in history today but so far no critical situation was reported despite some sandblows and seepage and one breached private dike.

The Columbia was 24.7 feet at 8:30 a.m. today at Vancouver, Wash. River Forecaster Elmer Fisher predicted a stage by next Monday of 25.4 feet. Flood stage at Vancouver is 15 feet. There was no assurance the final crest would be reached Monday.

Fourth Highest

25.4-foot reading at Vancouver would be the fourth highest on record there, exceeded or equaled only in 1894, 1928 and 1948. However, the stream was still some six feet below the 1948 crest with no indication it would approach that level this year.

Army engineers said some seepage in dikes had been reported along the Columbia but that no real danger spots have appeared. A private dike in the Batchelor island area northwest of Vancouver, Wash., was breached yesterday, flooding fields and pastureland. Farmers moved cattle to higher ground.

Knife-Bearing Teen-Age Gangs Riot Aboard Excursion Boat on Lake Erie

Buffalo, N.Y.—(U.P.)—Knife-bearing teen-age gang members seized control of an excursion boat crossing Lake Erie Wednesday night and terrorized its passengers to climax a day-long Memorial Day race riot.

Buffalo police met the boat, the Canadiana, when it docked late Wednesday night and escorted a group of sobbing white girls to safety. The clothes of many of the disheveled girls were torn.

Strictly Racial Riot

Both white and Negroes were injured in the rioting, which took place on the boat and 12 miles across the water at Crystal Beach, Ont. Cpl. J. E. Legate of the Ontario Provincial Police said the rioting was "strictly racial."

Six persons went to hospitals with minor injuries and scores more were given first aid or refused treatment for cuts and bruises. Canadian police arrested five Negro youths and four White youth and Buffalo police arrested three more Negro youths.

Police Overwhelmed

Canadian police tried with little success to break up the rioting at the crowded Crystal Beach amusement park and it resumed completely uncontrolled aboard the boat on its return trip.

Two special police aboard the boat were overwhelmed and Buffalo and Canadian police were helpless to come to the aid of the passengers. International agreements forbid interfering our race," a witness said.

Pope Begins Period Of Forced Rest

Vatican City—(U.P.)—Pope Pius XII today began a period of rest forced by too much worry, work and heat.

The 80-year old Pontiff limited his activities to receiving only his aides from the Vatican secretariat at state, Msgr. Angelo Delacqua and Msgr. Dominico Tardini.

The Pope, suffering from what his doctor described as "general fatigue" and a sore throat stemming from nervous causes, suspended all audiences Wednesday until further notice.

Vatican source said there was no cause for concern and the audiences might be resumed by the end of the week.
