

Open House Held on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Loros observed their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday, May 27, with open house held at their home, 1862 Delta Waters road. About 100 friends called during the afternoon.

Miss Jacqueline Loros, their daughter, assisted by Miss Donna Shore and Miss Carol Van Ausdall, poured. Mrs. Earl Bradfish and Mrs. Carl Oestreich had charge of table decorations and serving. Miss Lynne Loros, another daughter, attended the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Loros came to Medford from Sioux Falls, S.D., in 1948. They were married May 24, 1931, at Glenwood, Ia. Mr. Loros is manager-owner of a local package delivery firm.

They are parents of four children, the others being Richard Loros, who also lives at home, and Milton A. Loros Jr., a lieutenant in the Air Force now stationed in Texas. They have one granddaughter, Kim, a daughter of Lieutenant and Mrs. Loros.

Attending the open house from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Dutton and children of Redding, Calif., former Medford residents. Mrs. Dutton and Mrs. Loros are sisters.

Family to Meet Returning San Francisco

Mrs. Milton E. Vanderlinden, 1125 1/2 West 10th street, plans to leave the end of the week for San Francisco to meet her husband, Technical Sergeant Vanderlinden, on his return from 18 months' service with the Marine Corps in Japan and Okinawa.

She has been living here with their children, Mark, 9, Becky, 5, and Trudy, 2, during his tour of duty. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Watson, 1121 West 10th street.

Sergeant Vanderlinden has been a gunner with H and S company, second battalion, of the 12th Marines. He joined the division in April, 1955, from the training center at Twentynine Palms, Calif., where he served as a gunner sergeant of the 155th gun battalion.

The World War II and Korea veteran enlisted in the corps July 15, 1942 at Appleton, Wis., and has served as an artillery crewman with the 2nd Marine division at Guadalcanal, Saipan, Tarawa and Tinian in World War II, and with the local security forces in North Korea.

It is expected that his next station will be at Camp Pendleton, Calif., and his family will accompany him there after spending his leave in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Loros are shown cutting their silver anniversary wedding cake during open house held last Sunday in observance of the date. Mr. and Mrs. Loros were married in Glenwood, Ia., and have lived in the valley since 1948.

Camp Fire Awards Made At Grand Council Fire

Camp Fire Girls in the Medford-Eagle Point area recently held a grand council fire at McLoughlin Junior High school gymnasium. Parents and other relatives and friends attended.

Mrs. Elliott Harlow was in charge of music, and Miss Sharon Roberts, Horizon member, was mistress of ceremony.

Linda Luman opened the ceremony, carrying the traditional Camp Fire taper. She was followed by Horizon, Camp Fire and Blue Bird members, who entered with torches and who sang the professional chant, Kahinto Kanya.

The Star Spangled Banner was sung, and the handsign, which is a motion following the imaginary flame of the camp fire, was given.

Three Wohoio candles representing work, health and love were lighted by Susan Yoder of the Eldakati group; Susan Gifford, O-Ki-Oi-Ya-Pi member and Sara Hinkle of the Ayuzunta's.

Blue Birds lighted their seven blue candles, one for each Blue Bird wish, and sang "Pretty Little Blue Bird." Fourth grade Blue Birds graduating into the Camp Fire program were Paullette Chinn, Jacquita McConnell, Diane Medcalf, Monte Noble, Jerilee Shouts, Joann Unger, Vicki Hall, Barbara Champion, Katherine Crosby, Elaine Davenport, Nancy and Susan Elmgren, Marcia Kanne, Judy Keif, Ruby McCullough, Gail Moeder, Betty Plankinhorn, Dianna Lu Taylor and Lola Ackerman of Eagle Point.

They were called forward by Linda Luman and repeated their Camp Fire desire and law of the Camp Fire Girl. They then gave their handsign and were presented their ties by their parents. The girls were then taken into the Camp Fire circle by their Camp Fire sisters.

Mrs. Jack Suksdorf presented Red Cross swimming honors. Polywog honors were won by Janice Taylor, Joanne Holmstrom and Jacque Chesnut; frogs were won by Jacque Chesnut, Janice Taylor, and Linda Medcalf; Linda Medcalf and Janice Taylor won their fish and Janice Taylor her flying fish awards.

Five year memberships were awarded to Rebecca Rowan and Linda Luman, Linda being a member of one of the first Camp Fire groups ever organized in Medford.

Three year memberships were given to Virginia and Dorothy Daniels, Sandra Edwards, Betty Falk, Toni Spence, Sandra Elrod, Susan Gifford, Jacque Chesnut, Treva Toenniges, Ann Younger, Linda Medcalf, Sara Hinkle, Donna Unger, Joanne Holmstrom; Lana McGrew and Edna Gray of Eagle Point.

National birthday honors for the completion of the "Plant Seeds—Reap Friendship" project were awarded to Jacque Chesnut, Janice Taylor, Mary Margaret Barr, Susan Baize, Treva Toenniges, Linda Medcalf, Sara Hinkle, Joanne Holmstrom, Ann Younger and Mrs. Rufus Younger.

Eagle Point girls receiving awards were Joanne Calloway, Joyce Cearley, Susan Ansted, Phillis Perry, Connie Hinkle, Edna Gray and Lana McGrew. Mrs. Milton Medcalf, committee of awards for the Medford district, awarded trail seeker ranks to Sheila Neidermyer, Susan Bandy, Barbara Morton; Joanne Calloway and Joyce Cearley of Eagle Point.

Ken Jones, a chairman of the Rogue council, presented wood gatherer's rank to Stephanie Hertager, Sharon Roberts, Rebecca Rowan, Mrs. J. P. Rowan, Karen Mayfield, Mary Margaret Barr, Susan Baize, Janice Taylor, Joanne Holmstrom, Jacque Chesnut and Susan Yoder. Girls from Eagle Point receiving the rank were Martha Ansted, Phillis Perry, Connie Hinks, Carol Adams, Darlene Christian, and Carolyn Sinclair.

Mrs. Edna Gray, committee of awards for the Eagle Point district, presented fire maker rank to Mrs. Rufus Younger, Ann Younger, Treva Toenniges, Linda Medcalf, Sandra Elrod, Christy Allingham, Mrs. Tom Gerety and Virginia Daniels.

Linda Luman extinguished the Wohoio candles and the recessional chant was sung as the girls left the circle.

Frake and Smith To Exhibit Art

Arrangements have been made at Frake and Smith store to exhibit selected pieces of original art work by local artists. The space will be given to a continual showing of paintings to be changed about every two weeks.

On exhibit at the store now are paintings done by two high school students, Bill Henderson Jr. and John Jones.

Workers Needed At Scout Camp

With camping season approaching, volunteer workers are now needed to give their week end time to put the Girl Scout camp, Low Echo in readiness for the opening of the camping season in July and August.

Both men and women workers are needed, according to the word from headquarters. Families are welcome. Family groups should take their own food, but persons coming individually will be provided with food. Each person is to take a bed-roll, and cots and mattresses will be provided.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Ritchey of the camp committee went up to camp Friday night, and work will begin this week end. Workers will be welcomed for whatever time they can give, and they are asked to notify the Scout office, telephone 2-5912, in advance of their going.

The building of three new shelters which will house eight additional girls per session is one of the main projects to be accomplished. It is suggested that each man volunteer take his own hammer and saw. One of the main chores for the women volunteers will be putting the kitchen in readiness for use.

Rebekah Lodge Plans Visit to Jacksonville

A brief business session for Olive Rebekah lodge is planned for Monday, June 4 at 8 p.m., in the Odd Fellows hall when Mrs. J. D. Brummond, noble grand, will preside. The remainder of the evening will be devoted to a visit to Jacksonville Rebekah lodge.
