

News About Books From the Library

Of the 256 books added to the Medford and Jackson County library during May, 56 volumes were gifts.

Individual donors included Miss Florence Lance, Miss Lou Reymick, and E. P. Ireland of Medford, Mrs. Lelia Lamb of Central Point, and Mrs. Elizabeth Buck of Rogue River.

A fund of $100 donated to the library by the Jackson County Health association is making it possible for the library to amplify and modernize its collection of books and pamphlets on the subjects of child development, the family, and mental health.

A list of new book titles follows:

The child and the family: The personality of the young child, Ribble; The jealous child, Potolsky; The mentally retarded child, Levinson; Psychosocial development of children, Josselyn; Youth: the years from ten to sixteen, Gesell; Love is not enough, Bettelheim; The adolescent and his world, Josselyn; Sex attitudes in the home, Eckert; You and your child, De Kock; How to play with your child, Arnold; Have fun with your children, Horwich; Saving children from delinquency, Stott; Facts of life and love for teen-agers, Duval; How to be a woman, Frank; The happy family, Levy; Paradoxes of everyday life, Sapirstein; Helping your child's emotional growth, Wolf; Parents and children, Valentine; Juvenile delinquency, McClellan.

Grange

Live Oak Grange

The Rogue River advanced school band presented a musical program at Live Oak Grange during the meeting held May 24. The boys and girls, under the direction of Neil Stone, were served ice cream and cake following the concert.

The agricultural committee reported that hog prices had taken a sharp upturn and that spring lamb prices were holding steady, as were egg prices.

Legislative chairman Larry Sheehan reported that the revised farm bill, including the soil bank, had been passed. He also mentioned several other bills that were up for consideration.

The building committee was authorized to purchase asbestos siding to finish the Grange building, with work scheduled to begin in the near future.

Chaplain Edith Osborne presented an impressive service in memory of Grange members Nellie Robinson and Truman Drew. Mr. and Mrs. Plank served coffee and doughnuts following the meeting.

A pheasantlike bird in Australia builds a nest as big as a man's house. Using leaves, sticks and debris, Megapodius reinwardt constructs a home sometimes as much as 15 feet high and 50 feet in circumference. It lays its egg deep in the pile where they are incubated by the heat of fermenting vegetation.
