

Mrs. Olive Dean To Be Honored On Anniversary

A tea and open house Sunday, June 10, will honor Mrs. Olive Dean on her 85th birthday anniversary. The event will be held at Mrs. Dean's home in the Willow Springs area, and hours will be from two to five o'clock.

The family states that all of Mrs. Dean's old-time friends in the valley are especially invited to attend. Also invited are members of all Order of Eastern Star chapters in the Rogue River valley.

Mrs. Dean was born June 8, 1871 near Little Rock, Ark., and came west as a girl of 16 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Glass. The family arrived in Oregon in January of 1888 on the Southern Pacific railway just one month after the completion of the line between Roseburg and Dunsuir.

Sunday's party will also commemorate her 60th wedding anniversary because Mrs. Dean was married on her birthday to Ralph F. Dean and came as a bride to live on the N. E. Dean donation land claim in Willow Springs. She has lived on the old farm continuously since that time, and still leads an active life.

Assisting with the tea will be Mrs. Dean's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Glass, brother and sister-in-law of the honored woman and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dean, nephew and niece of the late Ralph F. Dean.

Society Matron Promotes Jazz Festival in Newport

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY United Press Correspondent
New York — (U.P.) — The crusading zeal of women has planted trees, built playgrounds, routed politicians and awakened slumbering social consciences.

But for sheer community commotion, few causes championed by modern women can top the pet project of Mrs. Louis Lorillard.

Mrs. Lorillard came here recently from her home in Newport, R.I., for a brief visit. She is a slim, blonde society matron who dresses conservatively and speaks softly.

"What is a bash?" Mrs. Lorillard asked politely during breakfast with a small group interested in hearing about her project.

"An event," one young man replied promptly, and Mrs. Lorillard smiled her thanks.

"I'm trying to learn the jazz language," she explained, "but by the time I learn the words I find they're not using them any more."

Promotes Jazz Music
"I have learned to play barrel-house badly. And I took a course in jazz at Boston university."

This all began when Mrs. Lorillard gave up the vice-presidentcy of the Newport Garden club to promote jazz music in social circles. The American Jazz Festival, launched two years ago in Newport by the Lorillards, attracted hordes of tourist jazz lovers and repelled scores of wealthy, quiet-loving summer residents.

"In many social groups we simply do not mention the Jazz Festival," Mrs. Lorillard admitted.

The unique idea of a member of this exclusive summer colony starting a festival of jazz musicians gave Hollywood the idea for the plot of "High Society," the next movie starring Grace Kelly.

The publicity Mrs. Lorillard has received has brought her letters from all over the world.

"Much of the mail comes from school teachers who would like to borrow money on a music scholarship," she said.

The two young Lorillard children promptly named their two new Dachsund dogs Rock and Roll, a form of jazz not highly regarded in classical jazz circles. And Louis Lorillard, who his wife says "was more of a square than I was when we were married 10 years ago," has changed from collecting "swing" records to jazz.

Satchmo Attending Festival
The third festival begins in Newport July 5. Mrs. Lorillard and her fellow festival directors will welcome people like Louis Armstrong, Duke Ellington, Peanuts Hucko, Dave Brubeck and a Japanese jazz pianist named Toshiko.

There are rumors the festival will be moved out of Newport after this year to a nearby city where it could be run more profitably.

If it happens, Mrs. Lorillard said, it would be strictly for profits devoted to promoting American jazz," she said and added with the dedicated disdain of all crusaders, "I don't worry about the neighbors. After all, it is only three days out of their lives."

The money we make is used for scholarships or other projects.

fit and not because of social pressure. She calmly states she doesn't mind "braving the social scourge."
