

Grand Matron, OES, Elected

Portland — (U.P.) — Some 500 delegates to the grand chapter of Oregon, Order of Eastern Star, convention meeting here, yesterday elected Mrs. Bertha O. Burton of Portland as worthy grand matron and Walter R. Bailey of The Dalles as worthy grand patron of the organization.

Mrs. Burton and Bailey will be installed at ceremonies tomorrow night. The Eastern Star is holding its 67th annual grand chapter assembly here.

Domestic Wrangles Called Crash Cause

New York — (U.P.) — Don't argue with your husband. You may be driving him to his death on the highway later.

One expert said that emotional upsets may cause as many highway accidents as careless driving or faulty brakes.

Leonard M. van Noppen, who supervises a car fleet that travels 30,000,000 miles yearly for the Universal C. I. T. Corp. said that studies show that thousands of motorists involved in accidents are physically fit and expert at the wheel. They cracked up because their emotions overthrew their usual alertness and judgment.

"When you know your emotions are at a depressed point, be extra careful," he said. "Better still, stay out of your car altogether. A motorist's biggest enemies are his own feelings."

He urged couples to avoid domestic arguments especially in the morning, when one or both may drive to work.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Our national treat, the hot dog sandwich, was originally developed as a device to keep fingers clean while eating sausage. According to Tee-Pak, Inc., makers of casings for skinless wieners. It was born in St. Louis at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase exposition.

TO WED—After announcing they'll wed in next 10 days, Sonja Heme, 44, and shipping tycoon Niels Onstad, 46, break into smiles in famed ice queen's apartment in New York. Sonja, recently divorced from Winthrop Gardiner Jr., was previously married to Dan Topping.

The Family Council

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, a newspaper editor, a women's page editor and two newspaper writers. These consult with clergymen of all faiths and denominations. All letters are held in complete confidence.

Evelyn—Our boy possesses an arsenal.

Stanley: I want to head off serious trouble.

Evelyn—Our son, Robert, goes to a high school where there has been a great deal of violence in gang outbreaks and some boys have been so badly beaten up that they required hospital treatment. Recently, I found a knife and brass knuckles in my boy's pocket and I told my husband about it. Now he wants to take these weapons to the police and inform them that we found them in my boy's clothing.

I feel it would be a terrible thing for us as parents to do, and that our boy could never forgive us for turning him in. Furthermore, I do not believe it is our legal or moral duty to inform on our own son. I am in favor of having it out with our boy within the family, but I do not want this information to get outside of our family.

Stanley—My wife does not realize that we may be playing with fire. She does not understand the possibility that a gang may hold a boy like ours in their grip, and that he may lie to us and we would have no way of checking up on his story. I know from my own boyhood recollections that there were things I would not have told my parents. I would be willing to run the risk of being fooled by my son if it were not for the fact that the gangs in his school seem quite capable of committing major crime. I do not want to run the risk of finding my son in the midst of a serious assault, even a murder.

It is not necessary that our son ever learn that we informed on him. I think if the police were tipped off and ran down the leads, we and all the people in the community would be spared a great deal of danger. I think it is our duty to ourselves, our boy and the community to give the police the information we have.

The Council—There are some fine points in this sad situation but the risk of inaction cannot be exaggerated.

The wisest course, it seems to us, lies somewhere between those advocated by the wife and husband. The boy should be confronted with the weapons that were found in his clothes and required to explain. Hysteria should be avoided in any confrontation and the boy should be made to understand that he is not being convicted in his parents' minds on circumstantial evidence. It is always possible that his possession of dangerous weapons is consistent with complete innocence. Boys sometimes are the strangest collectors.

The boy should, at the same time, be made to understand the full extent of the danger in gang warfare and the danger to him in being implicated. There may be some extremely delicate problems ahead in appraising the boy's story and possibly in persuading him to cooperate constructively.

Utmost patience and sympathy will be necessary and the parents may need advice and help in dealing with their boy.

Keep open minds, avoid being upset and, if there is the slightest doubt on the course to follow, appeal to your clergyman for advice and, if necessary, help in reaching an understanding with the boy.

(COPYRIGHT 1956, GENERAL FEATURES CORP.)

Tournament Set At Camp White

Camp White—The first session of a two-week tournament for men's and women's pairs is planned by Camp White Duplicate Bridge club for Friday, June 8. Play starts at 7:30 p.m. in Building 218 at camp, and those planning to play are asked to be on hand promptly.

Second session of the tournament will be played Friday, June 15.

At last week's session of the club prizes furnished by the Medford American Legion auxiliary were awarded to veterans holding high scores for the month of May. They went to Killen Miller, first; T. Randall, second and Mike Dillon, third.

Mrs. Richard Milestone and Mrs. Ray Wise took charge of a buffet supper served following the play.

Play last Friday was for master points. North-south winners were Mrs. S. W. Alcorn and Roy Pruitt, first, 179½; Mrs. William Kennedy and Mrs. W. W. Stevenson, second, 170½; the Howard Boyds, third, 154½; B. L. Sanderson and Ray Wise, fourth, 146½.

Last-west winners were Mike Dillon and John Peterson, first, 189; Mr. and Mrs. T. Randall, second, 149; Mrs. Ila Evans and Mrs. E. K. Ricker, third, 141; Mrs. William Isaacs and Mrs. Milestone, fourth, 139½.

Former Movie Star Now College Queen

Asbury Park, N.J. — (U.P.) — Former actress Evelyn Venable, who went back to college to join her two daughters, now is the honorary college queen of 1956.

Miss Venable, who left Vassar College in her teens to launch her movie career and star in Will Rogers' films, recently was awarded a Phi Beta Kappa key at the University of California in Los Angeles.

She will be invited to the annual national college queen grand finals in Asbury Park Sept. 8-10 to receive an honorary mortarboard plaque for her scholastic accomplishments.

Miss Venable is the wife of Hollywood cameraman Hal Mohr.

Half-Size Style

9014 SIZES 14½-24½ by Marian Martin

Here's an easy way to slim your figure! Sew this pretty dress—see how its graceful lines whisk the inches away! Bodice beautifully detailed with rows of tucks; skirt has a soft flare, smart hip pockets. Proportioned to fit perfectly—no alteration problems!

Pattern 9014: Half Sizes 14½, 16½, 18½, 20½, 22½, 24½. Size 16½ takes 3½ yards 35-inch fabric.

This easy-to-use pattern gives perfect fit. Complete, illustrated Sew Chart shows you every step.

Send THIRTY-FIVE CENTS in coins for this pattern—add 5 cents for each pattern for 1st-class mailing. Send to Marian Martin, care of Medford Mail Tribune, Pattern Dept., 232 West 18th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly NAME, ADDRESS with SIZE and STYLE NUMBER.

Wednesday, June 6, 1956

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THREE

Princess Margaret Due in Stockholm

Stockholm — (U.P.)—Princess Margaret of Britain arrives here Monday with Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh and already there were whispers of a possible royal romance.

The rumors started last month when a Swedish newspaper reported that Sweden's 44-year old Prince Bertil was informed by telephone from London of the princess' visit.

The afternoon newspaper, the Aftonbladet, asked cautiously, "Dare we hope for another romance between the British and Swedish royal houses?"

Prince Bertil, known as Sweden's most eligible bachelor, is the third son of the present King Gustaf IV. He is the only one of the king's sons who has retained hereditary rights and comes next in line to the throne after ten-year old crown prince Carl Gustaf.

Wine-treated Camembert is perfect on crackers or crisp melba toast to accompany glasses of tomato juice or dry sherry or port wine. Place a very ripe Camembert (pared or not, as you prefer) in a deep dish. Pour on just enough white table wine to cover. Let cheese steep for 12 hours or longer. Then work in half as much soft butter as cheese until you have a smooth paste. Store, covered, in the refrigerator.

Guest-Best Linens

7169 by Alice Brooks

Say "welcome" to house-guests with exquisite bedroom and bath linens! These are crochet and embroidery—such interesting work!

Make a matched set—towels and scarf! Pattern 7169; transfer of five embroidery motifs 5x11 inches; crochet directions included.

Send TWENTY-FIVE CENTS in coins for this pattern—add 5 cents for each pattern for 1st-class mailing. Send to Medford Mail Tribune, Household Arts Dept., P.O. Box 188, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly NAME, ADDRESS AND PATTERN NUMBER.

Two FREE patterns—printed in the new Alice Brooks Needlecraft book for 1956! Stunning designs for yourself, for your home—just for you, our readers! Dozens of other designs to order—all easy, fascinating hand-work! Send 25 cents for your copy of this wonderful book right away!

Dead line Sunday Classified is at noon Saturday; 10 a.m. Monday for Monday; other days 5:30 previous day.

FUR STORAGE

NEW, MODERN VAULT
Cleaning, Glazing, Remodeling

Frances' Furs

Formerly Frances Dallaire
1100 Crater Lake Ave.
Telephone Remains 2-6526

CALENDAR

Calendar notices and news for the society section of The Mail Tribune must be submitted in writing and deadlines for the Sunday edition is 1 p.m. Friday. Deadline for the weekly calendar is 9 a.m. of the day of publication and for week day news is 5 p.m. the day before publication.

Wednesday

7 p.m.—Chapter CG, PEO Sisterhood, Mrs. R. C. Beatty, 1798 Myers lane.

8 p.m.—Medford barracks, Veterans of WWI and auxiliary, Redman hall, Apple st.

8 p.m.—Medford Jayettes, Mrs. Ronald James, 205 South Barneburg rd.

Thursday

10 a.m.—Wenonah club, Redman hall.

12 noon — DAV auxiliary Sewing club, Mrs. Ruth Elliott, 513 Oregon terrace.

2 p.m.—Medford Garden club, Pythian hall, Fifth and Grape sts.

STOP IN NOW AT Terole's Jewelry

39 S. Bartlett Medford, Ore.

FOR THE LUCKY 7

KELVINATOR 18 cu. ft. UPRIGHT FREEZER

Holds 630 Pounds Of Frozen Foods

Now is the time to buy your own home freezer. Just in time for easy freezing of fresh strawberries. Ready for your garden and meats when they are at their best.

Model KFZ18

$375
$10 Down $18 Month

31 Inches Wide
61¼ Inches High

KELVINATOR REFRIGERATOR Model K67F12

12 CU. FT. DELUXE

Sale Priced $359.95

- ★ Fully Automatic Defrosting
- ★ 80 Lb. Frozen Food Chest
- ★ Moist Cold Control, Keeps Food Fresh Without Covering
- ★ Convenient Roll Out Shelves

Trade-In Allowance Too!

No Money Down $18 MONTH

JOHNSTON STORES

AT YOUR SERVICE FOR THE YEARS AHEAD

- KELVINATOR
- R.E. & VICTOR
- DU MONT
- SUNBEAM
- MERRYILLER
- MOTO-OWNER
- B.F. GOODRICH

112 SOUTH RIVERSIDE

DRIVE IN PARKING