The Medical Roundup

by Walter Alvarez, Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic. Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Diet For Arthritis

Every week many persons ask me for a diet for arthritis. As I have said many times in this column, experts on arthritis rarely prescribe a diet unless the patient is too fat or too thin.

Naturally, anyone who is much overweight is putting terrible strain on the joints of his legs and, particularly, the knees, the ankles and the feet.

day brought me his very stout wife with painful flat feet, painful bulging ankles, and painful knees. He said disgustedly, 'The trouble with the missus is that she, who started out in life with a one-ton-truck chassis, has piled tons onto it. It just won't carry it.'

Alfalfa Weevil Larvae Are Delaying Second Cutting

Alfalfa weevil larvae are holding back some second cutting alfalfa field growth by feeding on tender young regrowth alfalfa shoots, according to W. B. (Ben) Tucker, county agriculture agent.

cholor may be used with equal results. 'There are parasitic flies that normally hold these alfalfa weevil in balance so that no noticeable damage to alfalfa is evidenced. Sometimes this balance is upset and the alfalfa weevil increases at a rapid rate.

Work on Area Roads Nearing Completion

Road crews have almost completed reconstruction work on Carpenter Hill rd. and Wagner Creek rd., Paul Rynning, county engineer, reported Saturday.

Crews have been spreading gravel on Carpenter Hill rd., and have removed a sharp curve in Wagner Creek rd.

Effective Chemicals

There are several chemicals which are effective in either a spray or dust application. One-half pint of aldrin emulsifiable concentrate (two pounds of actual per gallon) in any quantity of water necessary to cover an acre is one of the most economical applications, the county agent stated.

Work on Area Roads Nearing Completion

One pint of heptachlor will be equally effective. Lindane, parathion, malathion and methoxy-

To show what goes on in some of these places: a patient came to me saying he had been to a 'Clinic' for the treatment of piles. The men there told him that he had a very bad case of piles that any day would turn into cancer.

affidavit saying that they had cured him of cancer. All laymen should remember that fine big clinics and fine hospitals do not have to advertise for patients. They have all the patients they can take care of.

back themselves. Also, no good physician will let his patients go there. Burning Skin in Older Persons I think, usually, older persons who suddenly develop a burning patch of skin that feels as if it were scalding water have had a little stroke. I have seen many of these persons who went on with the burning for years in spite of much treatment with sedatives and other drugs. People ask if this disease is likely to spread or to injure them greatly, and my reply is that I doubt it. Why? Because I have known many persons who had had such burnings for years without coming to any bad end. Unfortunately, I know of no good treatment.
