Heavily Slashed Foreign Aid Bill Approved by House

$600 Million Less Than Is Requested

Washington—(U.P.)—The House today approved a heavily slashed $3,800,000,000 foreign aid bill to bolster 54 U.S. allies in the world struggle against Communism.

The roll call vote was 273 to 122. The measure now goes to the Senate, where the administration will try to get more money. The bill was $600,000,000 less than President Eisenhower told Congressional leaders was absolutely necessary for the safety of the free world. In all, the House slashed $1,100,000,000 from the $4,900,000,000 program Mr. Eisenhower originally requested.

Authorizes Program
The bill approved merely authorizes the program. Appropriations must still be approved to carry out the program, and these faced still further cuts in the House.

The House denied Mr. Eisenhower a special request he made for authority to make long term economic commitments to friendly nations at the rate of $100,000,000 a year for 10 years. Instead, the House voted to give the President authority to reallocate the money in the program wherever he believes it is most needed.

Dike Watched As Floodwaters Fall

Portland—(U.P.)—A soggy dike which protects Portland Meadows race track and several hundred acres of the old Vanport area was the focal point of attention today as Columbia river floodwaters continued to fall. A boil which has been eating away at the levee since May 29 grew larger yesterday. Army engineers said the boil was ringed with sandbags seven feet high and that two big pumps capable of handling 20,000 gallons of water a minute were being installed.

Alarm was expressed yesterday when a strong flow of silty water began to pour out of the levee. Early today clear water was running at the boil, a hopeful sign, engineers said. The Columbia dropped .3 of a foot at Vancouver, Wash., in the 24 hours ending at 8:30 a. m. today, the biggest fall in weeks. Its stage today was 25.6 feet, more than a foot below the crest of a week ago but still 10.6 feet over flood stage. River Forecaster Elmer Fisher said he expected the stream to continue dropping but to slow down the rate of fall in a couple of days.

Neuberger Introduces Power License Bill

Washington—(U.P.)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) introduced a bill today to suspend federal licenses for incomplete power projects until the licenses comply with state law. He said the bill would have the effect of suspending a Federal Power Commission license granted the Portland General Electric company at the Pelton site of the Deschutes river in Oregon.

The Senate Interior committee last week approved a bill which would require federal agencies to follow state laws in Western states on water use.

38 Executed After Pro-Peron Revolt

Buenos Aires, Argentina—(U.P.)—A government spokesman said today that summary court martials—and firing squads—were taking care of the Argentine rebels who staged an abortive "Communist-Peronist" counter-revolution this week end.

The government said at least 41 persons had been killed by early this morning. Thirty-eight were executed and three other rebels were killed in fighting at La Plata. Scores of pro-Peron rebels were arrested and awaited trial.

President Pedro E. Aramburu's revolutionary government had advance warning of the revolt by the followers of ousted dictator Juan D. Peron and were ready for it. The revolt, which began at 11 p. m. Saturday, lasted only 12 hours.

La Plata Bombed
The heaviest fighting was at La Plata, the provincial capital 35 miles southeast of here, where Vice President Rear Adm. Isaac F. Rojas sent planes to bomb and strafe rebel strong points. It was there three rebels were killed.

The other scene of heavy fighting was at Santa Rosa, 375 miles southwest of here, the capital of La Pampa, formerly Eva Peron province. Buenos Aires saw brief but bitter fighting. The entire countryside was reported quiet today.

Comdr. Eugenio Fuentesosa, of the presidential press secretariat, indicated that the executions are not yet ended. He announced 14 more executions shortly after midnight and announced the "summary trials are continuing."

The executions were being carried out under martial law in force throughout Argentina. Decrees dictated by Aramburu empowered any loyal officer to try any persons carrying unauthorized weapons, disobeying police orders or "demonstrating suspicious behavior."

One Leader Executed
At least one leader of the uprising was reported executed and another captured. Former Army Capt. Adolfo Cesar Phillippeaux, leader of the insurrection at Santa Rosa, was captured and awaiting trial.

Equalization Board To End Session Soon

Board of Equalization sessions will end June 15, according to County Judge Rodney Keatings, chairman of the board. Because of the number of petitions for correction of assessed property valuation a motion was passed by the board for a two week extension of board sessions on June 1.

The board announced today that an unequal assessment has existed on two properties located on Front st., and adjoining the Rogue River Packing corporation with property across the railroad track. The board ordered that the property be equalized by the assessor to conform with the property across the railroad track belonging to the Rogue River Packing corporation, which was reduced to $70 per front foot.

$4,328,000 Set Aside for Crater Lake in Proposal

Neuberger Explains 'Mission 66' Program

A total of $4,328,000 would be spent at Crater Lake National park under the 10-year "Mission 66" program, it was announced today by Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.).

Senator Neuberger said he obtained the figures from Conrad L. Wirth of the National Park service. The funds are contained in the long-range national park improvement plan now being considered by Congress, and were listed for members of the Senate interior committee, of which Senator Neuberger is a member.

The funds contemplated for the program are all for construction and improvement of facilities, and are in addition to routine operating and maintenance appropriations.

Senator Neuberger said he believes the planned expenditures "will do a great deal to help bring Crater Lake National park up to the recreational standards essential for its expanding tourist trade."

The $4,328,000 total includes $1,493,000 for buildings, utilities and facilities, and $2,835,000 for roads and trails. Initial expenditures under the program, already proposed, include road and trail improvement, and new all-weather buildings for park personnel at park headquarters.

Order for Lower Rates Is Upheld

Washington—(U.P.)—The Supreme Court today upheld a government order for lower railroad freight rates on certain commodities moving out of the Pacific Northwest through Ogden, Utah, to eastern markets.

The 7 to 2 decision, delivered by Justice Hugo L. Black, said the court is unable to say that the Interstate Commerce Commission did not "strike a fair balance in finding that the evidence required the establishment of these through routes and joint rates."

The complex case began in 1949 when the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad sought an Interstate Commerce Commission order for "joint rates" with the Union Pacific via Ogden and Salt Lake City.

This is a long-haul rate agreement between two or more carriers, each of which receives a designated portion of the revenue. But the total rate paid by the shipper is less than the sum of all the local rates.

After extensive hearings, the ICC ordered joint rates on livestock, fresh fruits and vegetables, dried beans, frozen poultry, frozen foods, butter and eggs, in carloads, moving out of the Pacific Northwest; and on granite and marble monuments, in carloads, moving into the territory from Vermont and Georgia.

Harriman Says Illness Won't Effect 2nd Term

New York—(U.P.)—Gov. Averell Harriman said Sunday night that President Eisenhower's illness should have no effect on his bid for a second term in the White House.

Caroline G. De Sapio, Harriman's campaign manager, said, however, that the health of the President will be an issue in the coming campaign.

Replace Blood Given To Friends, RC Says

Residents planning to donate blood between 1 and 5 p. m. Wednesday, when the Bloodmobile will be at the Elks club in Medford, were reminded by Red Cross officials today that their donations may be designated as replacements for blood used by friends.

Donors desiring to replace blood used by a specific individual should report the intended recipient's name and the hospital in which his transfusion was administered, it was emphasized. They should report this information at the desk when they arrive at the Bloodmobile. The Red Cross will send to the recipient a list of names of donors who have given blood on his behalf.

Needs Blood Regularly
For those desiring to replace blood used by Jackson county residents but have no specific individual in mind, the Red Cross suggests they give blood on behalf of Frank C. Thompson, who is receiving daily transfusions at Community hospital, and to date has been given approximately 21 pints. Thompson, who is married and the father of two children, is suffering from a rare blood disease and his life depends upon transfusions. He is expected to need blood regularly for an indefinite period.

No Charge Made
No charge is made for blood used in transfusions and the blood is given as needed whether or not it is replaced. The Red Cross said, however, that replacement is important to keep an abundant supply on hand for emergency use. It is not necessary for a donor to have the same type of blood as the recipient.

Public Hearing on Foundation Slated

Washington—(U.P.)—The House Un-American Activities committee will open public hearings this month to find out whether the Fund for the Republic is serving an "inimical" interest.

Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) said Sunday the committee wants to know if the $15,000,000 fund created by the Ford Foundation is a "friend or foe."

Chairman H. Rowan Gaither Jr. of the Ford Foundation said the foundation has "complete confidence" in the integrity and patriotism of the members of the fund board.

Walter said the hearings will open June 27. He previously disclosed that the committee was checking into the educational fund since 1954. At that time the fund's annual report told its issue with Congress over legislation branding the Communist party as an "international conspiracy."

BLM Opens 33 Tracts Along Sandy River

Portland—(U.P.)—The bureau of land management office here announced today that 33 tracts of land along the Sandy river near Welch school, suitable for recreational homesites, have been opened for filing.

The Sandy river intersects the 40-acre subdivision which is located on the Mt. Hood Loop highway.

The tracts, ranging in size from about 2.3 acre to 1.4 acres have an appraised value of from $131 to $176. The tracts will be subject to lease at $22.50 to $30 advance rentals for three years but may be purchased at the appraised value whenever compliance has been made with the improvement requirements, the bureau said.

Veterans will be given preference for lease of the tracts, officials said but must file prior to July 14 to qualify for the first bid opening.

President Walks 40 Feet; Makes Executive Decision

Eisenhower Rejects Russian Invitation

Washington—(U.P.)—President Eisenhower walked 40 feet in his hospital room today and made his first major executive decision since he underwent emergency surgery.

The decision was to reject a tentative Russian invitation for all four of the American military chiefs of staff to visit the Soviet Union this month. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, air chief of staff, will observe a Soviet air show June 24.

Mr. Eisenhower instructed Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams in a 10-minute bedside business conference this morning, to turn down the Soviet invitation for the other three chiefs to accompany Twining. But he left the door open for a possible later visit by the U.S. military chiefs.

Four Decisions
White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty disclosed the action, the most important of four official decisions which the President made during his brief talk with Adams. Hagerty cited "them to show that the President "has resumed a light schedule of duties."

He said Mr. Eisenhower, who walked 30 feet Sunday with two attendants supporting his elbows, walked 40 feet today. Dr. Isidor Ravdin, a member of the operating team who performed the operation Saturday morning, supported "just slightly."

After the walk, Hagerty said, Adams arrived with other White House staff members. They conferred in the lounge of the presidential suite with Dr. Ravdin, Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, who performed the actual surgery, and Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder the President's personal physician.

Adams, the staff and the doctors discussed what sort of program the President should follow. Then Adams entered the bedroom and was alone with Mr. Eisenhower for about 10 minutes.

Other Action
Hagerty said the following decisions were reached "as a result of the governor's (Adams) discussion with the President":

2. To hold the regular weekly national Security Council meeting at the White House Thursday with Vice President Richard M. Nixon presiding. Nixon has presided on several occasions in the past.

2. To hold the Conference on Fitness of American Youth at Annapolis, Md., as scheduled June 18-19, but to cancel Mr. Eisenhower's address to the meeting. Nixon will preside, as he had been scheduled to do.

3. To hold a luncheon Wednesday for West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer at Blair House, the government's guest house. Nixon will be host and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will attend. Hagerty said there has been no decision, and probably will not be for another day or so, on whether Adenauer will pay a visit to Mr. Eisenhower at the hospital. Adenauer will arrive in Washington tonight.

Sudden Wind Storm Whips Washington, Idaho Areas

By UNITED PRESS
Eastern Washington and northern Idaho residents today were checking damage caused by a sudden storm which brought wind, dust and rain to the region yesterday.

The storm left .85 of an inch of rain at Yakima and Ellensburg, toppled trees and powerlines and chased fishermen off many of the region's lakes. Gusts up to 71 mph snapped tree limbs.

Two Youths Fall From High Bluff During Troop Hike

Crews Attempt to Move Pair From Wilderness

Rescue operations began this morning for two injured Medford Boy Scouts in a wilderness point near the mouth of Silver Creek. They will be moved to an airstrip at Agness about 13 miles down river.

The injured youths are Bruce Blachly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Blachly, 1121 Spring st., and Tom Turpin, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Turpin, 3533 Jacksonville highway. They fell down a bluff toward the river at about 4 p. m. Sunday, while hiking with 35 other Scouts of Troop 9, according to incomplete radio reports. They will be picked up by a Mercy flights plane at Agness and returned to Medford for hospitalization this afternoon, it was planned this morning.

Boy Unconscious
Turpin is reported to be unconscious as the result of head injuries, including a broken jaw and Blachly is believed to have suffered a broken ankle.

The troop left early Saturday morning from Oak flat on the Illinois river. They planned to travel down the Illinois river and Rogue river with Gold Beach as their destination. Accompanying the boys was Dr. William Roberts, Scout master, and two other adults whose names were not known this morning.

After Turpin and Blachly fell, two other Scouts, Mike Roberts and Roger Johnson, hiked all night to a forest station, where they summoned assistance from Agness.

Rescuers Leave
J. R. Philbrick, Grants Pass, staff officer of Siskiyou National forest, reported that a five-man ground party of forest service men left Agness this morning for the accident scene. A private boat was also dispatched from Agness in case it was not possible to raise the boys up the cliff.

Two Cave Junction smoke-jumper squad leaders, Orville Looper and Roger Newton, parachuted from a forest service plane and radioed at 10:25 a. m. that they had arrived safely at the accident scene. The two are considered experts in first aid. Radios, litters, first aid equipment and climbing gear were dropped to them from the plane.

Experienced Hikers
Cliff Hanson, Scout executive for the Crater Lake Area council, said this troop is considered the most experienced hiking group in the council. Troop 9 attracted national attention two years ago when they took a boat trip down the rugged Owyhee river in eastern Oregon. The troop is sponsored by the Christian church of Medford.

Hospital Construction Bid Opening Tuesday

Bids on the projected 78-bed Rogue Valley Memorial hospital, to be constructed at Barnett rd. and Murphy lane, will be opened at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the offices of the present Community hospital.

Six construction firms hold plans on the $2,000,000 structure, and are expected to submit bids.

Plans were prepared by Rogers & Butler, architects, New York City, and A. D. Harvey, Medford, is consulting engineer. The hospital, to be paid for by public subscriptions and federal funds, will replace Community hospital.

Short and Medley suffered stab wounds. Their condition was serious. A flying bean can lacerated Vela's head.

The navy said the riot broke out when Negro and white sailors, most of them Southerners, exchanged "sharp" remarks while waiting transportation back to their ship. Some 20 sailors in all were involved.

The Navy refused to call the incident a race riot, but it admitted that whites and Negroes squared off against each other.

The dead man was identified as Airman Apprentice Willie D. Dansby, 18, Graceville, Fla. He was white.

Navy police said Seaman Apprentice Johnny Green, a Negro, Vicksburg, Miss., admitted plunging a knife into Dansby's heart.

Three sailors, white Texans, were treated for injuries. They were Airman G. O. Medley, 19, Fort Davis; Aviation Machinist's Mate 3C W. L. Short, 21, Austin; and N. O. Vela, 18, a seaman apprentice from Alice.
