

Studs Squelch Bend Loggers 16-0, 9-4; Oppose Drain Next

Catcher Frank Roelandt, with a perfect afternoon at bat, drove in six runs yesterday to spark the Medford Chensy Studs to a 9 to 4 triumph over the Bend Loggers in a non-league semi-professional baseball encounter at the fairgrounds diamond here.

Yesterday's decision gave Medford a sweep of a two-game series with the Loggers of central Oregon. The Studs took the opener Saturday night 16 to 0 on sparkling two-hit pitching by Don White and heavy slugging led by outfielder John Kovenz. Third baseman Bob Selsor and Roelandt.

Roelandt three-baggered with the bases loaded yesterday. He batted in a run with a double and another with a single and his sacrifice flyout allowed another to score.

The Studs blasted out 11 hits altogether in the Sunday mix with Kovenz and Derald Wooten each getting two for four to go with Roelandt's three for three.

Nine Bend Hits

Bend got to Medford pitchers for nine safeties, four off starter Jerry Droscher and five off reliever Jim Kelly. Droscher issued seven bases on balls in 4 1/3 cantos, walking in two runs, and he fanned one batter. Kelly gave four passes to the bases, all in the final inning, and whiffed five batters in 4 2/3 frames.

Frank Zaniker of Bend yielded four hits and five walks, hit a batter and was responsible for six runs in three innings. The Studs got seven hits off Logger relief man Lowell Pearce, who walked only one man over five panels.

White's pitching was the feature of the Saturday night engagement. He struck out 14 batters, walked seven and hit one in the shut out. The Roseburg high tutor was seldom in any difficulty and was backed by fine fielding, a characteristic of both games for the Studs.

Kovenz 3 for 5

Along with White's outstanding work on the mound, Kovenz hit three for five. Selsor two for four and Roelandt two for five. Roelandt and Kovenz each drove in three runs and Selsor and Terry Maddox two apiece. Nine Bend errors and eight walks issued by Logger tossers Fred Sandren and Ray Lunde helped out the Studs.

Yesterday Medford got two first inning runs on three walks

bles by Maddox and Roelandt, tallied a run in the seventh inning. An error and a walk loaded the bases and Roelandt scored after the catch of Twink Pederson's fly to center field.

Droscher threw three innings of effective ball in the Sunday fray but in the fourth he was tagged for a hit by Maury Rasmussen and walked three men to force a run across. In the fifth he gave up a hit to Denny Lenaburg and three walks to let in another counter. Kelly came in for relief and the side retired on a flyout and a strikeout.

Six Run Innings

The Medford reliever was found for raps by Lowell Pearce, Dan Luby and Chris Christianson for a run in the sixth inning. Kelly gave up only a scratch hit each in the seventh and eighth frames but in the ninth he yielded the four bases on balls for a Bend run. Lenaburg hit three for six and Rasmussen two for five for Bend yesterday.

Medford had two six-run innings, the fourth and the fifth on Saturday evening. Singles by Cooney, White, Kovenz and Roelandt, two errors, three bases on balls, a fielder's option and a wild pitch figured in the fourth. Wooten and Selsor singled and Roelandt doubled in the fifth. There were four errors, a base on balls and fielder's choice.

Drain Next

One miscue, a single by Kovenz, a double by Maddox, a fielder's option and a base on balls accounted for two third-inning Stud runs. Kovenz got a hit in the sixth, and there was a base on balls, a wild pitch and two errors as two final runs tallied.

The glaring sun helped Selsor to a three-bagger yesterday. Bradshaw lost the high fly in center field. Kovenz in the same pasture lost in the sun a fly hit by Chris Christianson but the Bend swatter got only one base on the blow.

Maddox and Roelandt during the series each hit balls which bounced over the outfield fence for automatic doubles. Cooney

Rainiers Move Near Top in Coast Loop

By SCOTT BAILLIE
United Press Sports Writer

The Seattle Rainiers, with Joe Taylor waving a deadly bat, hammered on the door to first place in the Pacific Coast league race today and apparently had a cinch series coming up with fading San Francisco.

Manager Luke Sewell's Suds moved to within half a game of first place Los Angeles Sunday night as they swept a twin bill from Sacramento, 3-1 and 9-3.

Taylor drove in five runs for Seattle in the nightcap, two with a homer, two with a double and a fifth with another double. His hitting helped Howie Judson win his fourth game of the campaign. Earl Harrist left in the second inning with the loss.

Singleton Wins Ninth

Sewell also got plenty of mileage out of Elmer Singleton, who won the route in the opener to record his ninth win of the season and seventh in a row. A three-run burst in the third frame, which cost Roger Osenbaugh his fifth defeat, sewed things up for Elmer.

In other games, Hollywood won its eighth straight, beating Portland 6-5 in a single contest while Vancouver swept two from San Francisco, 7-6 and 6-5.

The first Angel-Padre contest turned into a slugfest with 30 hits going into the books while a total of nine hurlers saw action.

Los Angeles sewed it up with a three run blast in the 10th frame. Bob Speake singled in one run and a two run double by ageless Piper Davis accounted for the other pair. Dave Hillman was credited with his sixth win. Tom Herrera was charmed with his third defeat.

Eddie Kazak and Joe Astroth each cracked two-run homers in the nightcap to spark the Padre win. Cliff Ross, although derrick in the fifth when he lost his control, got the win and Harry Perkowski the defeat.

Allie Homer Wins

Hollywood also won in the last inning, collecting three runs in the ninth frame to offset a similar burst by Portland which had given the Beavers a 5-4 lead.

Gair Allie won it with a bases empty home run just after Joe Duham had smashed a round tripper with R. C. Stevens aboard to knot the count.

George O'Donnell won his third at the expense of Rene Vales.

The lowly Vancouver Mounties hauled San Francisco down into seventh place by sweeping their twin bill. Reinold Duren staggered the distance to win the opener. Jack Osborn, who had a one hitter going into the seventh inning, took his seventh loss.

The Mounties won the second contest with a three-run rally in the seventh.

Rogue Girls Lose, 6 to 5

The Rogue Valley girls softball team was beaten 6 to 5 by Roseburg Sunday.

Three Roseburg runs crossed the plate in the last half of the seventh inning to give them the win. For the Rogue Valley club, Bernice Bigham hit three for four with one double, and Arlene Hoffman and Jean Maine both hit two for four.

For Rogue Valley the box score read five runs on nine hits with eight errors. Roseburg had six runs on five hits with three errors.

Sunday at 2 p.m. on the Camp White field the Rogue Valley girls will play the Klamath Falls girls softball team in a seven and five inning doubleheader.

Grants Pass Boy Wins in Shoot

Salem — (UP) — Don Peters of Sublimity took top honors yesterday as the Oregon State trapshoot wound up a four-day stand here.

Peters broke 100 straight targets yesterday for the second day in a row for a perfect 200 score to take the singles crown.

Larry Horn 14-year-old Grants Pass boy, won the title in the Oregon state handicap in a shootoff with Earl Simpson of Portland. O. S. Ballew of Eugene was second in singles with 199 out of 200.

Easterners Aim At Big Track Title

By DON REED
United Press Sports Writer

Sanger, Calif. — (UP) — A glittering eastern track contingent will continue its running—and jumping—dispute of West Coast track supremacy this weekend at Berkeley, Calif., as collegians from all over the country convene for the NCAA track and field championships.

Dave Sime, the raw-boned, red-haired comet from Duke University will attract most of the attention. Sime is presently waging the most concerted assault on sprint records of any athlete since fabulous Jesse Owens.

Last Saturday night at the Central California AAU track and field championships, Sime's young career reached a new high point as he smashed the world's record in the 220 yard dash with a blistering 20 seconds flat. Minutes earlier he tied the 9.3 second standard in the 100 yard dash for the third time—a feat which is becoming standard procedure for the sizzling sophomore.

Add to all of this Sime's world mark of 22.2 seconds in the 220 yard low hurdles and you have America's top Olympic prospect. The fact that he is only 19 years old removes any foreseeable limits to his potential.

Sime was not the only invading beige gun to make his presence felt Saturday night. Teammate Joel Shank turned in a respectable 13.7 second time in the high hurdles but it was a losing effort. Veteran Jack Davis, now a lieutenant jg at the San Diego Naval Training Center, tied the world's record in 13.5 seconds. Davis has his diploma though, and won't compete at Berkeley.

Villanova's Don Bragg continued his mastery over West Coast pole vaulters with a 13 foot leap and teammate Charley Jenkins copped the 440-yard run in 46.9 seconds.

To little Mike Agostini of Trinidad and Fresno State goes an assist in Sime's dazzling efforts. Agostini, a fast starter, threatened just enough in the 100 and 220 to push Sime to exertion. Agostini's times were 9.4 and 20.4 respectively — very good indeed.
