

California Governor Favors "Tough" Program, Increased Pay for PCC Football Teams

Los Angeles —(UP)— Gov. Goodwin J. Knight says he favors lifting the ban on UCLA if charges against other schools prove to be true, and recommends adoption of a "realistic," "get tough" athletic code for the Pacific Coast Conference.

Appearing on television Sunday night, the governor indicated he favored increasing the present $75 a month allowance for athletes to $150.

He said if charges against other PCC schools are substantiated and a realistic code of $150 a month is adopted he would recommend the conference commissioner be empowered to institute a "get tough" program. "I mean the type of program that Judge Kenesaw Landis imposed on major league baseball in which a player found violating the code was barred from further baseball," Knight said.

Favors Sliding Scale

He also told the United Press after the hour-long program, moderated by Freeman Lusk, that he would favor a sliding scale for large and small cities where the cost of living varies. "There should be a fair approach to this whole matter," he said.

At a May meeting in Victoria, B.C. PCC officials cracked down on the University of Washington and UCLA for violations of the athletic code. The Bruins were hardest hit.

The commissioners placed UCLA on three years probation, fined the school $95,000 and stripped a year's eligibility from every member of last year's freshman and varsity football squads. Washington was slapped down also with a fine and probation.

Knight's recommendations came shortly after announcement by Conference Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt that a special PCC meeting will be held in San Francisco July 7 and 8.

Prof. Emmett B. Moore, conference president, called the session to discuss possible "rules violations which have been re-

Water Show Draws

Thousands in Portland

Portland — (UP)— Despite heavy morning showers, thousands of spectators crowded the banks of the Willamette river here yesterday to view the final event of the 1958 Rose Festival. The Marine day show drew crowds of all sizes and descriptions from 11 yacht clubs and non-affiliated owners.

The water show program included speedboat races, water skiing and boat parades.

Eight racing heats were staged over the four-mile course extending from the south end of Sellwood bridge to the southern boundary of Powers park.

Named as outstanding driver of the day and awarded the Rose Festival Marine Day perpetual trophy was Jack St. Clair, Salem.

The first known American motion picture feature on record was produced and exhibited to the public in 1903.

Two Are Arrested In Connection With Murder of Ex-Con

Boston — (UP)— Police jailed two longshoremen today on suspicion of murder in the one-way ride slaying of an ex-convict believed to have turned informer on two Brinks holdup gang suspects.

The two waterfront toughs were picked up after the body of William F. Cameron, 49, was found slumped early Sunday in a black Cadillac at the Navy's Fargo building parking lot. Two .38 caliber bullets had been fired through his right temple. One of the suspects, Thomas J. Ballou, 27, Quincy, Mass., had been free in $20,000 bail. He pleaded innocent to an accessory indictment in the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery.

The other hoodlum booked on suspicion was Thomas A. Callahan, 50, an ex-convict and pal of Jordan Perry, 31, whose arrest in Baltimore last week led to recovery of $100,000 in Brink's loot.

Murder Motive

Police said Cameron may have been slain to prevent him from testifying in the trial of the 10 men under indictment for staging the nation's largest cash robbery Jan. 17, 1950.

Cameron was reported to have furnished an apartment for the last two Brink's suspects captured along with Ballou, who was charged with helping maintain their hideout.

Callahan, police said, gave a beating to Cameron a few days ago.

Cameron was found in a kneeling position in the front seat of the car. Police said he was outraged at not being paid for his services and tipped off authorities to the whereabouts of the last two Brink's suspects, Thomas L. Faherty, 44, and Thomas F. Richardson, 48.

The first legislation barring communists from the ballot was enacted by Indiana's legislature in 1933.

British Columbia, it is estimated, has 400,000,000 feet of standing timber.
