Brewer Beats Indians; Snider Homers Twice as Dodgers Take Cardinals

By FRED DOWN United Press Sports Writer Coach Dave Ferris' tip to slow down his delivery was credited today with enabling Tom Brewer of the Boston Red Sox to reach stardom in a big hurry.

Brewer, a 24-year-old right-hander from Wadesboro, N.C., took the former Red Sox pitching star's advice and says "It's the big reason" he now owns a glittering 9-1 record and a 2.41 earned run average. Brewer leads the American League in victories and his eight in a row are a season high for the majors.

Brewer scored his eighth consecutive win Monday night when he flipped a three-hitter to give the Red Sox a 5-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians. The Indians had won the afternoon portion of the day-night doubleheader to extend a Red Sox losing streak to three games.

Williams Raises Average Tom was touched for a run on a walk and two singles in the second inning but allowed only one more hit the rest of the way. Jackie Jensen hit a two-run homer for Boston in the second inning and the Sox added three more runs in the fifth with the aid of a double by Ted Williams.

Al Smith, Chico Carrasquel and Al Rosen homered for the Indians in the afternoon game, enabling Cal McLish to pick up his second victory with relief aid from Ray Narlek.

The Baltimore Orioles dealt the Detroit Tigers their third straight setback, 5-4, when Bob Nieman blasted a 430-foot, two-run homer in the fifth. Hector Brown won his third game, taking over for George Zuvrink in the eighth.

Vic Power Stars Vic Power drove in three runs with a homer and a double to lead the Kansas City Athletics to a 6-3 triumph after Carlos Paula's three-run pinch homer in the eighth gave the Washington Senators a 4-3 decision in the opener of their two-night doubleheader. Alex Kellner pitched a seven-hitter for his third win in the second game. Bobby Shantz was the victim of Paula's game-winning homer and suffered his second defeat.

Patterson-Moore Battle Discussed

By JACK CUDDY United Press Sports Writer New York — (U.P.)—Promoter Jim Norris expected to have preliminary chats today with the managers of young Floyd Patterson and veteran Archie Moore about a possible match for the vacant heavyweight crown in late September.

Gus D'Amato, Patterson's pilot, is confident Floyd will be able to fight in September although he has a fractured bone in his right hand. He suffered the injury last Friday night while whipping Tommy Hurricane Jackson at Madison Square Garden.

New X-rays Planned New x-rays will be taken Wednesday night or early Thursday to determine whether the bone pieces are in position to knit properly or whether they must be "pegged" with little steel bolts by surgery to hold them in place.

D'Amato insisted today, "It's a clean break, and there'll be no surgery. He'll be able to start training at Greenwood Lake, N.Y. in mid-August, at the latest, and begin boxing early in September."

Dr. Kazuo Yanagisawa, bone specialist at St. Clare's Hospital, was less optimistic. He said the first x-rays showed an "angular fracture" that might require surgery if the pieces did not remain in proper position in the temporary splint.

Thirty-nine-year-old Moore, light heavyweight champion and top contender for the vacant heavyweight title, said, "I believe Patterson will be able to fight in September. I had three hand fractures when I was young, and the longest took eight weeks to heal."

No Other Fighter Suitable Charley Johnston, Moore's manager, said he hoped young Floyd could meet Archie in September because they'll draw "about $700,000" and Moore will become the "official successor" to the retired Rocky Marciano.

Both Moore and Johnston emphasized that no other contender could be substituted for Patterson for a heavy-title bout. "And if Patterson can't fight me, I'll just have to ask every commission in the world to recognize my claims to the heavyweight championship," Archie declared.

Ortega, whose long-range counter-punching and superiority in the exchanges earned the verdict, was substituting for Danny Giovannelli of New York, who sprained an ankle in training. Nevertheless, Gaspar was favored at 6-5 in a last-minute betting switch.

It was an excellent fight, in which each bled from the nose—Ortega profusely. And Poirier suffered a bruised neck under his right eye. Ortega was a bounced to the canvas for a "slip" in the eighth round. Each was knocked back onto his heels several times. Poirier was groggy in the sixth and Ortega's knees were buckled in the seventh.

SHE'S OFF AND RUNNING—Marine Pfc. Gloria Griffin, 22, of San Antonio, Texas, shows her fast getaway under the watchful eye of U. S. Women's Olympic track coach Mrs. Roxanne Andersen during training in San Francisco. The bashful "blonde comet" is being touted as one of the most promising Olympic Games prospects to come out of the women's branch of the Armed Forces. She recently set a Pacific Association AAU meet clocking in the 50-yard dash of 6.4.

Four Teams Remain in NCAA Series

Omaha, Neb. — (U.P.) — Undeclared Minnesota tackles once beaten Bradley tonight in the fourth round of the NCAA college world series.

Arizona and Mississippi, each of which have bitten the dust once in the double elimination national championship, were scheduled for an afternoon contest.

The Gophers walloped 19 hits Monday night as they shot past the Mississippi Rebels, 13-5, for their third victory. Bradley stayed alive by eliminating Wyoming, 12-8, and Arizona advanced to the fourth round by squeezing home a run in the ninth to oust New Hampshire, 1-0.

Monday's thriller was the Arizona-New Hampshire clash. For eight frames, neither team could move a man past second. Then the Arizona club loaded the bases without a hit in the top of the ninth. Craig Sorenson dropped a perfect bunt and Harry Messick tore home from third.

ZOOT SUIT UNIFORM Detroit — (U.P.) — Patrolman Donald La Pasky got his missing uniform back Monday, and refused to wear it. The uniform, stolen May 17, was found in the apartment of Alva Perkins, 49, who had cut the pants down into Bermuda shorts.
