Germany Leads, U. S. 17th In Equestrian Olympic Games

By PETER UEBERSAX
United Press Sports Writer
Stockholm, Sweden — (AP)—Germany's finely disciplined riders and their expertly trained horses were the favorites today to win the equestrian Olympic games ahead of strong-contending Great Britain, but the U. S. riders appeared completely out of it.

After the opening day of dressage competition, Germany's riders unofficially led the ratings with an average of 100.4 points per rider. Great Britain was next with a 101.6 mark.

Best To Come
But Germany's best rider, August Luetke Westhues, still was to compete in the windup of the dressage competition today and he was expected to lower Germany's average below 100. The points are assessed against riders for various penalties and the rider with the fewest points is the winner.

The riders in the dressage events bring their mounts through a series of intricate maneuvers, 31 complicated school figures, in a 20 by 60 meter rectangle.

In other unofficial point ratings, Russia was third at 115, Sweden fourth with 119.6, France fifth with 125.6, Canada sixth with 127, Switzerland seventh with 127.8, and Finland eighth with 130.2. The American was 17th in the field of 19 with a team average of 159. Only Ireland with 159.6 and Spain at 170.8 trailed the Americans.

U. S. Bitter
The U. S. riders and trainers privately were bitter over the scoring. "I can't figure out how those five judges scored Maj. Jonathan Burton," said Maj. John Borg of The Dalles, Ore., after Burton of Fort Polk, La., was tagged with 155.6 penalty points.

Another American, Frank Duffy, Birmingham, Ala., was hit even harder. He had 182.4 penalty points. Burton was 27th and Duffy 28th after the Monday competition. The third American in the dressage event, Walter Staley Jr., of Mexico, Mo., will ride today.

Emeralds in Second Spot

By RAY ANDREWS

The Eugene Emeralds gave the big-inning technique a work-out in last night's Northwest league baseball play and it paid off with a 7-5 decision over Wenatchee.

Eugene had been blanked for seven innings by Chuck Lybeck but in the eighth the Emeralds sent up 12 hitters who produced five singles, a triple, a double and two walks for seven runs.

The victory moved the Emeralds into second place ahead of Lewiston.

Don Baker of Yakima allowed 10 hits but spaced them nicely for a 8-2 victory over Lewiston. The Broncs scored one in the second on Joe Riney's solo homer and got their final tally in the seventh on Joe Jacob's double and a single by Doug Osbourn.

Yakima got one in the first and added three more in the second on a three-run homer by Pete Mikacich. The Bears finished up with two runs in the eighth on two singles around a double by Herm Lewis.

The two games were the only league action although the Spokane Indians battled the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast league to a 3-5 tie in 10 innings in an exhibition game.

SERVICEMEN WARNED
Rabat, Morocco — (AP)—The U. S. 17th Air Force warned all servicemen Monday to keep off the streets of Moroccan towns between midnight and dawn because of a number of early morning attacks on American personnel.

SLOW START—Defending champ Sam Snead drops one in the cup during annual round-robin tournament at New Rochelle, N. Y. He wound up the first round with a 72 and a tie for eighth place.

Hogan, Snead Top Threats In U. S. Open

Rochester, N. Y. — (AP)—Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, two of golf's gray-beards, came out of the preliminary practice rounds today as the men to beat for the U. S. Open championship starting Thursday.

Although neither has burned up the tree-lined 6,902-yard Oak Hill Country Club course thus far, they are the names you hear when you discuss the possible winners.

Hogan Old Hand
It wouldn't be anything new for the 43-year-old Hogan if he won, for he has taken four U. S. Open titles and is seeking to become the first man to win five. But it would be something new for the 42-year-old Snead, who has won every title in the game except this biggest one of all.

Snead, who has been runner-up four times and is competing in his 16th Open, isn't too happy about his game right now, but observed that he might "get hot starting Thursday."

"I sure hope so," he said smiling. "It's about time I won this one, isn't it?"

Furgol Picks Snead
Among those who are picking the Slammer from the West Virginia hills is Ed Furgol, who won

Man Can Still Take Flying Lessons From the Birds

Washington—As man shrinks his world with faster and farther-ranging aircraft, he can still take lessons from the birds that inspired his early yearning to fly.

The earth's most tireless travelers, birds regularly perform amazing feats of endurance and navigation.

The Arctic tern, farthest voyager of them all, nests as far north as there is any ground to nest on. The other half of the year it spends in the Antarctic.

Traveling more than 22,000 miles yearly, the birds fly south along the coast of Europe and Africa to the Antarctic Circle returning north by the east coast of South America, over the Atlantic Ocean to Labrador and Greenland.

One tern was found recently on a beach near Perth, Australia. It had been banded in Sweden, 10,000 miles away.

Plovers Navigate Expertly
While no other bird matches the tern's journeys, many perform prodigies of travel and accurate navigation.

Pacific golden plover nest in Alaska and winter in New Zealand. They make the trip by way of Hawaii and the tiny coral islands of the Pacific, locating them unerringly after flights of 2,400 miles over trackless ocean. That is a respectable accomplishment for a pilot with intricate navigation aids in his cockpit and a half million dollars worth of radio equipment on the ground.

Bobolinks that arrive in the United States in spring have completed a 6,000 journey. From their wintering grounds on the pampas of Brazil and Argentina, they fly over the vast forests of the Amazon in early March, swarming north to the Caribbean. They traverse that sea in a single night, visiting Cuba before they arrive in New York and New England in early May.

the Open title two years ago.

"This course is made to order for him," Furgol said. "This course requires a long hitter and that's Snead. And if he's a little wild off the tees with those booming shots of his, it won't hurt him for the rough is short and easy to play from. You can put your drive in the rough and still have a good chance for a birdie."

Snead played the Oak Hill course for the first time Monday and really scrambled. He tried out a new putter, but after missing several short ones, went back to his old one. He didn't keep score of the practice round, but observed "It was pretty high."

Playwright Silent on Monroe Marriage

New York — (AP)—Playwright Arthur Miller refused today to comment on any marriage plans with actress Marilyn Monroe, but conceded a meeting between them "might happen in a day or so."

About the possible marriage, the playwright said firmly, but politely "it is my business, frankly."

"I know you have a job to do, but it's your job against my privacy," he said, adding somewhat dramatically, "It's a remorseless conflict."

The curvaceous Miss Monroe was not at the airport to meet Miller, who received an unexpected divorce from his wife in Nevada Monday. He was met by an unidentified male friend, with whom he drove off in a car to an undisclosed destination in Manhattan.

tempt to migrate south. Local bird lovers load the survivors in crates and ship them by air to Italy and Yugoslavia, where they are released to continue their migration.

Girl, 2, Crushed Under Wheels of Father's Car

Gresham — (AP)—A two-year-old girl was crushed to death beneath the wheels of her father's car here yesterday when she apparently attempted to enter the moving vehicle as it backed out of the family garage.

Dead was Helen Fay Charlton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard David Charlton of route 3, Gresham.
