Mrs. Hattie Williams Dies in Jacksonville

Mrs. Hattie B. Williams, 81, a native southern Oregonian, died this morning in Jacksonville. She was born at Woodville, now Rogue River, Ore., Nov. 22, 1875. About 12 years ago she moved to Medford with her husband, William Williams, who died about two years ago.

They operated a ranch in Evans creek for many years. Mrs. Williams was the former Miss Hattie Magerle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Magerle, early day residents of the Rogue River area.

She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Nellie Pittman, Salem; Mrs. Anna Dimick, and Mrs. Evelyn Johnston, both Medford; and three brothers, Carlos Magerle and Daniel Magerle, both Rogue River and Charles Magerle, Medford.

Funeral arrangements are pending through Perl Funeral home.

State Tax Commission Upheld in Book Study
Salem—(U.P.)—Marian County Circuit Judge Val D. Sloper today upheld the right of the Oregon State Tax Commission to inspect the books of a lumber company to determine whether its suppliers were paying the state severance tax on timber.

Pope & Talbot company had contended that the tax commission was conducting a "fishing expedition" in trying to go over company books. It implied that the commission was not looking for specific information but for any data that might prove interesting. The claim was denied by Judge Sloper.

Transit Firm Asks Permit in Portland

Portland—(U.P.)—The Rose City Transit company today applied for a two-year permit to operate here. The firm's current 30-day permit expires July 10.

Gordon G. Steele, president of the transit firm, said the proposed two-year permit does not alter present fares or schedules. However, it does state the firm shall be entitled to earn a "reasonable net profit" during each month. If it fails to earn such it may apply to the city council for fare increases, according to the proposed permit.

Steele said the ordinance for the permit was drawn up in collaboration with the city.

Wall Street

New York—(U.P.)—Steels and nonferrous metals came to the rescue of the stock market late today as its strength was waning after nearly three full sessions of advance.

Those three days of gain more than wiped out the losses suffered Friday when the market reacted to President Eisenhower's illness.

Bethlehem Steel jumped more than two points net. Youngstown gained nearly two points. Lukens gained 3½. Armco was up nearly two. The other rose fractions.

Copper issues joined the advance with Cerro de Pasco up more than two at its top. Magma at its best was up nearly three points.

Oils rested a bit after Tuesday's spurt. A long list, however, showed gains ranging to more than a point.

Dow-Jones final stock averages: 30 industrials 487.08, up 1.59; 20 railroads 166.22, up 1.09; 15 utilities 66.23, up 0.32, and 65 stocks 174.15, up 0.79. Sales today were about 1,760,000 shares compared with 1,900,000 Tuesday.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—FIFTEEN

Reuther Expected To Answer Charges of Danger To Freedom

Grand Rapids, Mich.—(U.P.)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the giant United Auto Workers union, today was expected to answer charges made against him by Republicans at the Arkansas GOP convention.

The charges were made Tuesday by Michigan state GOP chairman John Feikens at the Arkansas Republican convention at Little Rock. Feikens told the convention Reuther's control over his union members was "a great mushroom cloud of danger to individual freedom."

"Master Strategist"
He said Reuther was a "master strategist" who has built a "vast political machine for which union members must pay dues to finance the political ambitions of Reuther."

A spokesman for the UAW said Reuther would answer Feikens' charges today when he addressed the 800 delegates attending the Michigan CIO Council convention here.

The spokesman accused Feikens of "outright falsehoods" and said they were a result of the Republican leader's "impotent rage over the fact that his predecessors the GOP has lost the support and confidence of the majority of people in Michigan."

Civil Rights
In action at the convention Tuesday, UAW secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey urged organized labor to create a civil rights plank which would cause the Dixiecrats to abandon the Democratic party.

"At the Democratic convention I hope we can organize enough strength to build a civil rights plank that will chase the Eastlands and Talmadges out of the Democratic party."

"Let the Republicans have them," Mazey said.

Mazey also accused the Eisenhower administration of a "calculus disregard" for the rights of Negroes and said: "Let's have a Democratic party based on the liberal, progressive program."

The convention delegates passed resolutions calling for a state corporation profits tax and promised to help the farmers gain their economic objectives.

August Scholle and Barney Hopkins were re-elected by acclamation as president and secretary-treasurer of the CIO

Council. Scholle has served as president for 14 years and Hopkins as secretary-treasurer for 12 years.

It was the first time in the council's 18-year history that its two top officers were elected without opposition.
