

Four Represent City of Medford At Girls' State

Four Medford representatives are attending the annual Oregon Girls' State, school of citizenship sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary which opened Monday on the Willamette university campus.

Attending are Miss Mildred Weaver, 2036 Table Rock road; Miss Jacque Colton, 1619 East Main street; Miss Linda White, 4024 Crater Lake highway, all of Medford Senior High school, and Miss Marcia Beeler, 610 Whitman place, representing St. Mary's High school.

The 240 girls attending Girls' State will constitute a mythical state for one week. They will assume the duties of citizens by electing their own city, county and state officials, also state senators and representatives in accordance with Oregon law. They will set up their own city and county government. In their legislature they introduce, debate and pass bills. They will also conduct court sessions.

Part of the session will be held in the state capitol building. A Girls' State governor will be elected and her inauguration will take place in the House of Representatives in the state capitol on Thursday, June 14, at 1:30 p.m. Guest speaker will be Governor Elmo E. Smith. The girls will visit the State Supreme court and Harold J. Warner, chief justice, will speak about the judicial branch of government.

A program of civil defense will be held. Mrs. Charles W. Gunn of Portland, Girls' Nation chairman, will be present and bring greetings to the girls.

At the close of the session two girls will be chosen to attend Girls' Nation in Washington, D. C.

June 17 will see the close of the session.

Society

Recital Planned In Grants Pass

Grants Pass—The Ruth Bennett Dance studio will give a recital with the theme "Let's Pretend" for the benefit of Friends of Retarded Children, Saturday, June 16 at 8 p.m. in Memorial gymnasium, Grants Pass.

The recital will be an evening of entertainment for all the family and will feature dances of toe, tap, ballet, boogie and baton twirling all performed in costume.

Friends of Retarded Children, knowing that this mental handicap can strike any family, endeavors to help all retarded children in the community. The association works for adequate education for the retarded, because the vast majority of the children, with special education, can become self-supporting citizens rather than tax-supported burdens to society, the members believe. The association also supplies gifts for and visits the 14 local children at Fairview in Salem.

Ticket for adults and children will be available at the door or from members of Friends of Retarded Children.

Lions, Auxiliary Of Central Point Plan Installation

Central Point—Central Point Lady Lions held the final business meeting of the term at the home of their president, Mrs. Wendell Panter, June 5.

The affair will be semi-formal. Former members and past presidents wishing to attend are asked to contact Bill Saxbury or Art Rupp for reservations.

Delegates attending the Oregon Lions club convention in Portland this week are Mrs. Rupp and Mrs. Clint Blithen.

The auxiliary voted to donate $50 to the pre-school clinic of the Oregon State school for the blind. The Red Cross will also be sent a donation.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Panter and Mrs. Saxbury.

The last social meeting of the term will be held at the Panter home on June 19 at 8 p.m.

Movie Star Kim Novak Says Life Hectic, But She Likes It

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY United Press Correspondent

New York — (U.P.) — Every body should meet a beautiful movie star once in a while, especially dreamy-eyed young girls who think their faces could take them to stardom if they just got that one break.

The pretty face is only a pleasant asset, the caller realizes in one brief conversation. Beautiful but dumb girls are unlikely to succeed. They have too much beautiful but smart competition.

Right now the revealing conversation could take place in a hotel suite living room 19 floors above Fifth Avenue, with a 23-year-old blonde whose smooth oval face and round grey-green eyes give her a guileless expression.

The girl is Kim Novak. She has been remarkably successful without any apparent struggle. Her first movie role at Columbia Pictures was a starring one, and she kept right on getting the star's roles.

She looks, when she is relaxing in her hotel suite, like a teenage tomboy with nothing more serious on her mind than a date with the boy next door. Figure Concealed

She opened the door for a recent interview dressed in navy blue and red printed silk slacks and shirt, which concealed her

She stretched full length on the couch, but when she began answering questions she propped her head on one elbow and immediately shed her casual manner. As the questions touched on various phases of her life, Kim replied crisply, sure of herself and her ambitions.

Her career: "I hate roles that are one-dimensional," Kim said. "I hate people who are one dimensional, come to think of it. I liked the last part I played, in 'The Eddy Duchin Story,' because I played all phases of a woman's life — when she falls in love, marries, has a baby and dies."

It Is Hectic
Her personal life: "It is hectic, but I like it. You do mind the lack of privacy, because you are a human being and it is unnatural for any person to live without privacy. I don't like night clubs and I don't like people who are over anxious to like you. I respect it when people are not too sure they like you right away."

Romance: She was reported interested in Italian Count Mario Bandini, whom she met recently in Italy, and repeatedly denies rumors she is about to wed her longtime Hollywood escort, Mac Krim.

"There are so many ways of interpreting the word romance," Kim said. "Mario certainly is tall, dark, handsome and intelligent. I wouldn't say it was a business acquaintance. He is coming here in December. Mac is here visiting me now. I have no intention of marrying him."

As for relying on others to guide her to stardom, Kim curled her five seven inches around extra pillows on the long couch and said crisply:

"I don't like anyone to tell me what to do. I love influences. My mother has been a very important influence in my life. But she doesn't tell me what to do. I do what I think is right."

Always add the flavoring to boiled custards, frostings, and candies after they have cooled, to prevent evaporation of the flavoring.
