

DRAFTEE SQUABBLE—L.L.
Col. R. B. Hall, chief of manpower division at Texas Selective Service Headquarters, told House Armed Services Subcommittee that he authorized then Mayor Kenneth Simmons of Avinger, Texas, to get confidential list of potential draftees for "local patriotic purposes." Simmons planned to use list for selling insurance to prospective draftees.

Storms Fail To Chase Heat Wave; Records Tumble

By UNITED PRESS

Storms raged around the edges of a vast blanket of muggy hot air today, but failed to drive away a six-day heat wave.

The most violent storm battered 300 miles of the Gulf of Mexico Coast and drove inland, where it was reported dying out over Natchez, Miss., early today.

The tugboat "May Dee" went down with 15 men aboard in the choppy waters off Gulfport, Miss. Nine men were picked up late Wednesday and the tugboat "O. J. Cenac" rescued three more of the May Dee's crewmen today.

Winds in Wisconsin
Another squall line raced across northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan Wednesday night. It hit Rhinelander, Wis., with winds up to 100 miles an hour, uprooting trees and ripping away the community television tower. Hundreds of TV screens went blank.

To the east, a savage storm hit Cincinnati, Ohio. The marquee of the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel collapsed on a crowd of persons seeking shelter from the rain. Six persons were injured, some with broken hips, legs and shoulders.

A lightning bolt killed Elmer H. Knof, 39, as he was golfing at Mt. Pleasant, Pa. A heat prostration death was reported in Michigan and the drowning rate jumped throughout the heat belt.

Heat Records Broken
Despite the storms, weathermen said there was still plenty of fire in the heat wave baking the nation's eastern half.

Once again, the heat broke records from the Mississippi river to the Atlantic Seaboard Wednesday. All-time scorches included 95.4 at Chicago, the third record-breaker in a row, 97.1 at Boston, 95.4 at Detroit, 93 at Pittsburgh and 89 at New York City.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted more 90 to 100-degree readings today.

About 25 Try Out for Footlighters Play

About 25 persons showed up for the first tryout of roles for the Medford Footlighters play, "Late Love," at the fairgrounds theater last night.

Final tryouts will be held to-night starting at 8 p.m., according to Mrs. Max Wimmer, president.

The play, a three-act comedy by Rosemary Casey has a cast of seven, all good roles, Robert Stedman, director, said.

Casting will not be announced until all who wish to read have been heard this evening, he said. Tall actors are welcome, in case several of the tall girls who read last night, are given parts, he added.
