Steel Producers Offer Five Year Pact With Union

New York—(U.P.)—The "big three" steel producers have asked the United Steelworkers for a five-year contract calling for automatic pay increases annually, an informed source said today.

The companies, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic, have offered the union a package increase approaching 15 cents an hour, including a wage hike and a form of guaranteed annual wage, it was learned.

The companies feel their counter proposals to the union's contract demands form "a major economic offer" that could lead to an early settlement of bargaining talks.

The union took the day off from negotiations to study the companies' offer. The union's deliberation could determine whether the nation is hit with a costly steel strike this year.

The long term contract requested by the companies is similar to those now in existence at General Electric and Westinghouse Electric.

Recent contracts in the steel industry have been for two years duration, with a wage reopener after one year. The longer contract would guarantee labor peace in the key steel industry for five years and remove much of the uncertainty that always plagues the industry around negotiating time.

Both Sides Optimistic
David J. McDonald, president of the USW, will present the companies' counter offer to the union's powerful Wage Policy committee Friday morning. Formal negotiations between the companies and the union resume Friday afternoon after a one-day recess.

Most industry and union sources appeared very optimistic that a new contract for 650,000 steel workers will be signed before the June 30 strike deadline.

Charles Holbrook Elected Head Of Legion Post

Charles Holbrook, Jackson county veterans service officer, was elected commander of Medford post 15 of the American Legion for the coming year at meeting this week.

E. K. Ricker, manager of the Camp White veterans Domiciliary, reported at the meeting that the Domiciliary has been authorized 40 additional beds.

Previously, veterans organizations from southern Oregon urged adding 40 medical and surgical beds to Camp White facilities because of a decrease in available beds in the Portland veterans hospital.

Other officers elected were Keegan Townsend, first vice commander; Vic David, second vice commander; Hugh McKenzie, chaplain; Joe Hosick, adjutant; Ellis Capps, sergeant at arms; Merle Jarmin, finance officer; and Clark Walker, executive committee member.

Delegates elected for the convention were Holbrook, Hosick, M. E. (Bud) Fisher, McKenzie, Fred Luy, Earl Bigalow and Don Wilson.

District Commander Gene Orr announced that the installation of officers for Legion post 14 of Ashland, 15 of Medford and 129 of Central Point, will be held in Ashland at the Legion Hall at 4 p.m. Sunday, June 24, with the Ashland post as host.

Baker Hosts War I Vets at Convention

Baker—(U.P.)—The three-day state convention of Veterans of World War I opened here today with about 400 delegates registered for the session.
