

Supreme Court Gives Reasons for Demurrer In Lane County Case

Salem — (UP) — A majority of four members of the Oregon Supreme Court today released a written opinion disclosing reasons for sustaining a demurrer of Circuit Judge Frank B. Reid of Lane county against a writ previously directed to him.

District Attorney Eugene C. Venn of Lane county sought to compel Reid to discharge the April grand jury which he charged had been improperly drawn.

The majority opinion, written by Justice Earl C. Latourette, held that on May 9 Circuit Judge Dal M. King of the same judicial district overruled the district attorney's motion to discharge the grand jury.

Justice Latourette declared that every lawyer should know "our ruling on the demurrer is not a ruling on the truth or falsity of the allegations found in the writ respecting the conduct of Judge Reid. Every lawyer should also know that merits here is also as to the merits of the controversy and that our action in the premises does not foreclose a proper inquiry when brought in a proper proceeding against the proper parties."

Up To Authors

"Responsibility for any delay in final disposition of the matters referred to in the writ rest in the authors of the petition and not upon this court," he said.

Majority judges in the case in addition to Latourette were Chief Justice Harold Warner and Justice Walter L. Toozie and William C. Perry.

On behalf of the minority, Justice Hall S. Lusk filed a short opinion in which he was joined by Justices George Rossman and James T. Brand. Justice Lusk said that this is a lawsuit between the state of Oregon as plaintiff and Judge Reid as defendant. "It is this court, not the defendant judge that is asked to determine the question whether the grand jury for Lane county is an illegal one," the minority judges held.

Shoe Shine Man Delivers Sermon

Columbus, Ohio — (UP) — The owner and operator of a shoe shine stand delivered the baccalaureate sermon at East High School this year. The president of the graduating class was the speaker's son, Frank Cleveland Jr.

When the Rev. Frank Cleveland Sr. told the members of the graduating class to continue their education in spite of obstacles and hardships he was a living example of his sermon. The 43-year-old minister, who obtained his own high school degree only last spring, runs a shoe shine parlor to finance not only his own education but that of his sons.

He will enter Capital University this fall in quest of a degree.

Cleveland Sr. was born in Louisiana. His father died three months before he was born. Frank then began shining shoes to help his mother.

He came to Columbus 18 years ago, working as a porter and riveter, then married and became a deacon in the church. In 1946 he entered the ministry and was ordained in the Missionary Baptist Church.

Determined to get an education for himself and his sons, for which preaching did not provide enough income, he turned to shining shoes again. So far this has provided the necessary educational financing.

Frank Jr. will join his father at Capital University.

The younger Cleveland was awarded scholarships totaling $800 by Capital University for proficiency. He also won the Duke and Duchess Club of America $100 scholarship, has been cited by the Ohio Music Education association as an A-1 Music student, and was chosen as the most outstanding student in music and for citizenship at East High.

Soil Test Will Get Garden Off To Fast Start

Urbana, Ill. — (UP) — Before winter sets in take a test of your garden soil.

The test will get your garden off to a faster start next spring, says Norman Gebker of the University of Illinois. To take the test:

Dig spade-depth holes at about eight scattered spots in the garden. Take a thin slice from the side of the hole all the way from top to bottom. Let the soil dry out in an ordinarily heated room. Then mix the eight slices together and send about half a pint of the mixture to a soil testing lab, such as the one at the University of Illinois, where tests are run for a $1 fee. Be sure to tell the lab what the soil will be used for next spring.
