

Civil Rights Foes Planning Assault

Washington — (U.P.) — Southern opponents of the administration's civil rights bill planned a bitter assault on the measure today but grudgingly conceded it will win rules committee approval.

The committee will vote on the measure this afternoon after hearing opposing arguments. Rep. E. L. Forrester (D-Ga.), promised he would "take off the gloves" in discussing the bill today. Other Southern House members planned to do likewise.

Although backers confidently expect the committee to clear the politically potent anti-discrimination measure for a House vote, its fate in the Senate is another matter. The bill would face a certain Southern filibuster there.

It would create a bi-partisan commission to investigate allegations of civil rights violations; set up a new civil rights division in the Justice department, and strengthen present laws against discrimination in voting.

Summer Official; Heat Wave Burns Eastern States

By UNITED PRESS
Summer made its official arrival today, but it had already worn out its welcome in much of the nation.

A marathon heat wave burned through its second week in much of the country east of the continental divide. The forecast was for more hot, humid weather on the first day of summer.

Millions of Americans, subjected to a succession of cold and heat waves, wondered whatever happened to spring.

Sun Heading South
Summer checked in officially at 2:24 a.m. (PST), the moment the sun reaches its northernmost point over the northern hemisphere and heads south again.

Summer storms broke the midlands heat in some areas, but they brought scant and temporary relief.

A weak cold front pushed its way down through Wisconsin towards northern Illinois, setting off damaging thunderstorms Wednesday night. Water was reported standing in the streets at Fond Du Lac, Wis., and trees and power lines were down.

Trees Uprooted
Trees were ripped up by their roots at El Dorado, Wis., and Milwaukee and Ripon were also hard hit.

Elsewhere, the temperature travelled to 101 at Miles City, Mont., Wednesday and there were 100-degree readings from the Southwest Desert northward into Kansas. Farther east, temperatures averaged in the high 80s, but the humidity made it feel worse.

In contrast, a chilly rain fell on New York City. It was 50 degrees at Grand Marais, Mich., and an un-summer 27 at Eagle, Colo.

A basking shark caught in California waters measured 30 feet long and scaled 8,600 pounds, the weight of 45 hefty men.

Guardsmen May Bury San Francisco Dead If Strike Continues

San Francisco — (U.P.) — The National Guard may be called out to bury the dead in San Francisco as a result of a six-week-old strike lockdown affecting 11 cemeteries and five crematoriums.

This possibility was hinted at Wednesday in a meeting between Mayor George Christopher, City Health Director Ellis Sox and City Attorney Dion Holm.

Christopher called the meeting as the unburied dead passed the 500 mark. Health Director Sox told the mayor that within a week all appropriate storage space for the unburied dead may be filled.

State of Emergency
In that case, City Attorney Holm said the mayor might declare a state of emergency if Sox feels a health problem has arisen.

Since two counties are involved, Holm said, the mayor may ask the governor to call out the National Guard to bury the dead.

The cemeteries and crematoriums involved are located across the San Francisco line in San Mateo county. No burials or cremations are allowed in San Francisco.

Ellis told the mayor there is as yet no health hazard. After the meeting, Christopher issued a plea to both sides to "meet regularly and around the clock."

"We wish to point out that this situation is urgent in view of the fact that even if the strike is settled today, it will require approximately one month thereafter to catch up with the backlog of burials," he said.

Employer Offer Rejected
Meanwhile, negotiators for the Cemetery Workers Union and the Associated Cemeteries met for four hours Wednesday without reaching agreement. The Union rejected an employer offer for a 30-cent hourly wage-welfare increase in a three-year contract.

The union's original demand was for a 15-cent increase in a one-year contract. Its negotiators say they are willing to consider a two-year contract.

Another meeting was scheduled for today, but an employer spokesman was gloomy about the chances for settlement.

Policeman Assist Overtime Parkers
Mt. Joy, Pa. — (U.P.) — Motorists who park overtime in this community now receive a helpful assist from the policeman on the beat.

Under a new system inaugurated by the borough council, the policeman puts a nickel in the meter of the delinquent parker.

A pink ticket also is left under the windshield wiper asking the motorist to return the nickel to burgess' office within 48 hours, and the usual $1 fine will be forgotten.

Americans Contribute Well To Private Schools

New York — (U.P.) — Americans have given more than $600,000,000 in the past 10 years for buildings for privately supported schools and colleges, according to the American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, Inc.

Total expenditures for new construction in private institutions of education over the period has been $1,517,423,000, and it is estimated that 40 per cent of all such expenditures came from private benefactors.

It takes nature from 500 to 1,000 years to make an inch of good topsoil, yet reckless plowing, overgrazing or uprooting of natural cover can destroy as much in a year.
