

'Red Balloon' Saves Gloria Swanson's Sanity From Horrors of War Picture

By GLORIA SWANSON
Written for United Press
Paris — (U.P.) — Through a downpour of rain in Paris, I went with light heart and feet to see a private showing of "The Red Balloon."

Ever so many people had praised this half-hour movie which had won the grand prize for short subjects in Cannes. This fantasy had, at the film festival a few weeks ago, caused a sensation.

Masterpiece of Beauty

My daughter had told me it was a masterpiece of beauty, intermingling fantasy, pathos, comedy and tragedy—a story of a red balloon which attaches itself in a human way to a little schoolboy after the child has rescued it from a lamp post where

Clue Given on Missing Youngster

Portland — (U.P.) — Police here said today they had received a tip on what might be a clue to the disappearance of three-year-old Stephen Damman who vanished last October from in front of a grocery store in East Meadow, N. Y.

Authorities from Nassau county, N. Y., wrote to police here saying that a woman hitchhiker accompanied by a child was seen in Minneapolis and was reported to have said she was heading for Portland. The child was said to fit the description of the missing baby.

The tip was given by the driver of a car who had picked the woman and child up and taken them to a Minneapolis bus station.

The missing youth is the son of Jerry L. and Marilyn Damman. The mother has made appeals through newspapers, radio and television and national magazines.

Hop Organization Formed for Unity

Portland — (U.P.) — Hop producers in four states formed a new organization here Saturday, designed to establish unity among hop producers of the Western states.

Some 280 producers were on hand for the meeting which resulted in the formation of the Hop Growers of America. Organizational work for the unit had been in process for the past year and a half. Included in the organization are producers from Oregon, Washington, California and Idaho.

Pete Bradley, one of the California representatives at the meeting, was seated as temporary chairman.

Princess Anne Causes Flurry of Excitement

London — (U.P.) — Five-year-old Princess Anne touched off a flurry of excitement at a polo match Sunday when she broke away from the side of her mother, Queen Elizabeth, and dashed off into the crowd.

Her aunt, Princess Margaret, ran behind her shouting, "Anne, Anne, wait for me!" But the youngster became temporarily lost in the crowd until a woman shouted, "Here she is."

The little princess was led back to the royal box while her polo-playing father, the Duke of Edinburgh, rode ahead on horseback to clear a path for her.

its string had got caught. Certainly, just the kind of film I wanted to see on a dismal day.

The lights went out in the projection room and I settled down to a half hour of anticipated sweetness. The screen flickered with strange unhuman looking images. This was no "red balloon" movie. It was stark realism—a documentary of prison camps and crematoriums of the last war.

Wilder Than Dante

I wanted to run out into the cool rain. Within a few minutes I was plunged into the depths of hell as "Night and Fog" unfolded. Dante's imaginings were mild to this extent.

I wanted to escape because I was ashamed of even belonging to the human race, but something made me stay. I wanted to close my eyes, but something made me look.

"But for the grace of God there go I or a loved one," I told myself. Here was ugly, horrifying history which had been recorded on film. Real, yet unbelievable history! If the human race can see history rather than just read about it, perhaps it might learn.

Staggering Impression

I imagine this documentary finished and "The Red Balloon" started as I was mentally and emotionally staggering, and one clear thought emerged: Surely some spiritual goodness must rise from these tons of embers and ashes of human torture, as it did almost 2,000 years ago.

Before the devilish question, what spiritual goodness, could

Minister Says Post Denied Him Lodging

Omaha, Neb. — (U.P.) — A Negro minister charged Saturday that an American Legion club denied him lodging. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announced plans to bring charges against the post.

NAACP officials said they would charge the Omaha Post No. 1 with violating Nebraska's civil rights law.

The Rev. A. Houston Gordon, a Chicago Negro minister attending the Council of the Congregational Churches of America here, said the post wouldn't let him stay at the club after Legion officials learned his race.

A white minister, the Rev. Edward A. Hawley of Chicago, had registered for a room here and Gordon were to occupy at the club. Gordon said that when the Legion discovered he was a Negro official said the room was no longer available.

Gordon is a veteran and a member of the Legion. Hawley is not.

Austin Takes National Marble Championship

Tallahassee, Fla. — (U.P.) — A 14-year-old lad from Los Alamitos, Calif., fought his way to the national marble championship here by coming back from the "losers bracket" to annex the crown.

King of the Veterans of Foreign Wars tourney was Richard R. Austin. He fought from behind to win matches over Oregon's champion, Gordon Jones, of Prineville, and the Tennessee and Alabama champions.

Earlier Jones, along with Kenneth Moleite of Weesbury, Kentucky, Robert Godsey, of Greenville, Tennessee and Wayne Vickery of Adrian, Michigan, had moved into a favorites spot, carrying the only four undefeated records into the final round.

NO PROTECTION

Benton Harbor, Mich. — (U.P.) — Someone stole Albert Cost's car while he was out riding around in a sheriff's car to keep Deputy Arthur Johnson company.

Well-Known Oregon Demo Leader Dies

Portland — (U.P.) — Elton Watkins, 74, a former United States representative from Oregon's third district and a well known Democratic leader, died here yesterday morning after a brief illness.

Watkins had remained active in his law practice here until he was taken ill last week. He had long been active in politics, having been a candidate

France 'Confused,' Gen. De Gaulle Says

Credon, France — (U.P.) — Gen. Charles De Gaulle broke a two-year-old political silence Sunday to declare that France is politically "confused."

But the wartime leader of the Free French said nothing about whether he planned a political comeback.

For U. S. senator, mayor of Portland and serving as attorney general of Oregon by appointment for a brief time in 1919.

Joyce Brothers Keeps 'Ring Championship'

New York — (U.P.) — Dr. Joyce Brothers retained her title as boxing expert on "The $64,000 Challenge" Sunday night when she knocked out her challenger for a $4000 purse.

The 28-year-old psychologist of New York, who was the second contestant to win the top prize of "The $64,000 Question," answered correctly a three-part question concerning championships won by American boxers at the 1952 Olympic Games.

John Holt, also of New York came out fighting but was kayoed by the same question. Marine Capt. Richard McCutcheon of Columbus, Ohio, first winner of $64,000, was all set to match his knowledge of cookery with that of challenger Joseph Amblard, but time ran out and the match resumes next Sunday.

BUTTONHOLED—C. M. Taylor of Clovis, N. M., delegate to Kiwanis convention in San Francisco, is literally buttonholed on Market-st. by enthusiastic "Citizens for Eisenhower" volunteers. Pinned the "I Like Ike" buttons on Taylor are, left to right, Ruth Griffin, Patricia Hume and Roz Fraser. The girls work in newly opened office that will direct activities in preparation for the coming GOP convention. "Citizens for Eisenhower" is a non-party, nationwide organization founded four years ago.
