Peterson, DeArmond On Contest Committee In Porcupine Contest

Any Jackson county logging or lumber firm wishing to donate money for prizes in the impending porcupine eradication contest should call either Eugene Peterson or Lester DeArmond. Peterson and DeArmond are the prize committee of the Kiwanis club which is sponsoring the contest with the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce. Peterson said yesterday that word has been sent to several firms about sponsoring prizes and several replies have been received. Any interested company which has not been contacted, he said, should get in touch with one of the two committeemen.

Peterson can be contacted at the bureau of Land management, 3-3605; DeArmond at the Double Dee Lumber company, NO-4-1291. All firms helping with the prizes will be listed in a contest rules circular to be published soon.

Contest Opens
The contest opens July 1. All youths residing in Jackson county between 12 and 18 years of age are eligible. Prizes will be awarded at the end of every quarter of the year and grand prizes at the end of the year on the basis of number of porcupine bounty receipts participants hold.

The county clerk gives the receipts plus a $1 bounty for each porcupine "nose" brought to the courthouse office. All contestants must have receipts recorded at the Chamber of Commerce office, 328 South Central ave., and must abide by state and federal forestry regulations.

Wool Incentive Price Is 62 Cents Pound

The incentive price level for wool sold in the 1958 marketing year is 62 cents per pound for shorn wool, according to Harry E. Martin, manager of the Jackson county agricultural stabilization committee office.

The average price for shorn wool is 42.8 cents per pound with 82.8 cents per pound for mohair according to the department of agriculture marketing service.

AMS has announced that incentive payments would be made in July. The wool incentive program is in effect in Jackson county the same as last year for lambs, yearlings, and mohair, Martin said.
