

Kreiger Downs Justin Smith 2 Up in OGA Tournament Tiff

Portland—(U.P.)—Men and women golfers went into semi-final action today in the 28th annual Oregon amateur golf championships after yesterday's play resulted in elimination of some of the top-rated men's players. Women were idle yesterday.

Clarence Sowers, Don Krieger, Bill Langley and Bob Bronson, all of Portland, survived yesterday.

Sowers defeated Merrill Hval of Portland and then upset Dick Hanen of Coos Bay, 2 and 1.

Krieger, a former University of Oregon golfer, defeated R. J. Nicols of Portland, 2 and 1 in the morning and Justin Smith Jr. of Medford 2-up in the afternoon.

Langley, Multnomah county district attorney, won from Fred Hudspeth of Prineville 3 and 2 and then defeated W. J. Macy of Portland 4 and 3 in the afternoon.

Bronson, an insurance man, won from Spike Beeber of Portland 1-up in the morning and then knocked off Ralph Dichter of Astoria, one of the favorites, 3 and 2.

Sowers met Krieger and Langley played Bronson today.

In the women's semi-finals, Grace DeMoss of Corvallis played Mrs. Frank Fisk of Portland and Mrs. R. L. Borst was matched against Mrs. Fred Robertson.

Both are from Portland. Justin Smith Jr. of Medford defeated Francis Heitkemper of Portland 6 and 5 yesterday in his morning match of the Oregon Golf association tourney at Portland Golf club.

In a second flight match Clayton Lewis of Medford defeated

Bob Clark of Portland 6 and 4. In the fifth flight Dean Lambert of Medford defeated Eddie Roan of Riverside club on the 19th hole and Bill McAllister Jr., of Medford, down Dick Grubbs of Colwood club 2 up. Harry Stepp of Riverside defeated Miles Doran of Medford 2 and 1 in the eighth flight.

Code of Water Safety Outlined By Oregon Game Commissioner

Portland—A rash of water accidents since the general fishing season opened have placed tragic emphasis on the importance of water safety precautions the Oregon Game commission said.

Newspaper clippings—the only source of records—show that 12 persons have already lost their lives through drowning in the past two months while fishing on Oregon's lakes and streams, the commission pointed out.

Six of these tragedies occurred on streams when persons either slipped from moss covered rocks or ventured too far and were swept into deep holes by strong river currents. The other six drownings were from boating accidents, two of which occurred on swift moving rivers, and the remaining four from capsized boats on high mountain lakes.

The game commission reminds sportsmen that at this time of year streams are high, running with tremendous speed and force. In addition, rocks on the stream bottom are slick with moss or other algal growth which makes wading extremely hazardous. Under such conditions, wading is next to impossible, or at best a precarious undertaking.

Boatmen on lakes and reservoirs were also cautioned to watch the weather constantly. Sudden spring storms and squalls can arise almost without warning. Navigation in bad weather is difficult and swamping of the boat often occurs.

The commission recommends the following code for water safety:

1. Avoid wading in swift current if the water is more than knee deep, particularly if wearing boots or waders. If crossing a fast stream, carrying a long stiff pole as a safety aid.
2. Avoid overloading any boat. Rowboats 14 feet long or less should never carry more than three people.
3. Never stand up in a boat.
4. When boating on a large stream, avoid swift riffles and whirlpools.
5. When fishing from a small craft on a lake, head for the nearest shore line immediately if the wind starts to blow. Check the skyline and wind behavior often and systematically and head for the nearest shore before a squall hits.
6. Never go out in a boat unless it is capable of floating when capsized, and don't leave without a life preserver for every person aboard. Put them on immediately at the first sign of danger.
7. If a boat capsizes, always try to catch hold of the boat and stay with it until help arrives.
8. Never wear boots or waders when riding in a boat.
9. Avoid showing off with motor boats. Don't make sharp turns at high speed or pass other boats without proper clearance.
10. If caught in a storm on open water, run the motor at slow speed and angle across the waves. Sit in the bottom of the boat for maximum stability.

Prall Defeated In NCAA Golf

Columbus, Ohio—(U.P.)—Bob Prall, University of Oregon's last hope in the NCAA golf championships, dropped a 5 and 4 decision to Jack Parnell of Oklahoma A&M yesterday.

Beaver Rowing Awards Received By Mohr, Brown

Oregon State College—Carl E. Mohr and Darrel R. Brown, Oregon State college crewmen from Medford, have been given recognition by the OSC Rowing club. Mohr was awarded a varsity crew letter and Brown received a junior varsity crew medal.

The OSCRC entered three competitive varsity crew races this past year. One three-way race was with the University of British Columbia and the University of Washington. It was won by British Columbia.

Beat Stanford
OSC won the race with Stanford and the light weight varsity race with University of Washington. The fresh crew won from Stanford and Washington but lost to University of British Columbia.

Mohr, who will be a junior in the school of business and technology next year at OSC, rowed in position number one this year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mohr of 39 Glen Oak Court, Medford.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin L. Brown of 1203 Quen Anne ave., Medford, Brown will be a junior in business administration at OSC.

Medford Takes Intermediate Baseball Scrap

Medford tipped Central Point 4 to 2 Wednesday in the opening hassle of the Southern Oregon Junior Baseball League intermediate circuit.

Dennis Painter threw two-hit ball for Medford while Bill Anhorn hurled a two-hitter for the Pointers. Moore socked two singles for Medford and Anhorn doubled for CP. George Lee, Medford first baseman made an unassisted double play when he snared Jim Allen's liner and caught Phil Baird off the initial sack.

Painter whiffed seven batters and walked three and Anhorn struck out four and gave two bases on balls.

The Wednesday game was at Central Point. Ashland will play here next Thursday. The Lithia team was idle this week since Eagle Point reportedly has dropped out of the loop because of manpower lack.

Trophies Go To Top 2 in Cycle Chase

Trophies will be awarded for the first two places and other prizes will be offered Sunday for the hare and hound motorcycle enduro Sunday in the Applegate area.

Twenty to 30 riders from southern Oregon and northern California are expected to compete, according to Jack White of White's cycle shop. Entry of contestants from the Yreka and Crescent City, Calif., areas and from Roseburg, Grants Pass, Klamath Falls and Ashland as well as Medford is anticipated.

The English-style race is to begin at 1 p.m. at a starting point about two miles west of Ruch. Signs will mark the way to the starting spot for both contestants and spectators.

The race will be over a predetermined course but over a route unknown to the riders as they depart from the starting line. Riders will be cleared through a number of check points. A number of girls have been assigned the checking duties.

White said indications point to a large turnout of spectators for the chase. A soft drink concession will operate at the starting site.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—SEVEN

Lithians, Cheney Colts Collide Sunday in Rogue Valley League; Eagle Point Vies at Camp White

Eldon Durham, former St. Mary's high school athletic mentor, may be on the hill for the Ashland Lithians Sunday when they tackle the Cheney Colts at the fairgrounds in a Rogue Valley League semi-pro baseball scramble.

Durham entered the Army in 1954 after tutoring at St. Mary's and played ball at Fort Ord, Calif. He is now out of the service.

The Colts will be trying for their second win of the season over Ashland in the 2 p.m. scrapp. Cheney's combination polished off the Lithians 12 to 1 in an early fracas but the mix was not a league affair. Both clubs have gained a number of new players since the first meeting.

There will be action elsewhere in the RVL on Sunday. Glendale will try to hang onto its unmarred status as host to Cave Junction. Grants Pass goes to Butte Falls and is favored to hang onto second place. Eagle Point goes to Camp White. One of the latter two teams will post its first victory and the loser will be lone occupant of the cellar.

Three Teams Tied
Winner of the Ashland-Colts meeting will retain at least a share of third place and could get a tie for second. Ashland the Colts and Cave Junction are now deadlocked for third.

Retail sales of automotive items in the United States now top $41,000,000 annually. In 1941 they totalled $12,300,000.

Bahama Fights Turner Tonight

New York—(U.P.)—Yama Bahama from the island of Bimini has 22 straight victories but he seeks a middleweight rating tonight in his TV-radio NBC fight with ex-contender Gil Turner at Madison Square Garden.

It should be an exciting 10-rounder because Yama from the Bahamas is speedy, smart and ambitious at 23; and fiery Turner of Philadelphia, 25, never has turned in a bad fight.

In brisk waging, Yama is favored at 7-5 to win his first Garden main event although he is facing a more experienced opponent, who has been battling standouts in the welterweight and middleweight divisions for the past five years.
