Medford Cheney Studs nipped Coos Bay-North Bend 6 to 5 in North Bend yesterday afternoon in a well-played encounter to capture their semi-pro baseball series with the Lumberjacks and gain a share of first place in the Southern Oregon league.

Sunday triumph followed a Saturday split at North Bend. Medford won the Saturday afternoon fust 11 to 3 and the 'Jacks came back to claim the night fracas 7 to 3.

At Bend the Loggers also won a series, downing Drain two games to one and enabling the Studs to pull even with defending champion Black Sox. Bend took the Saturday afternoon mix 12 to 5, bowed to the Sox 4 to 5 in the evening then tallied for six runs in the final cant yesterday to nudge Drain 7 to 6.

The Studs with some heavy slugging took a 3 to 0 lead in their Saturday night brush on the coast. But Pitcher Jerry Bartow held them to three hits over the final six innings. The Lumberjacks caught up with three runs in the third inning and tucked away a victory with a three-counter seventh inning.

Yesterday Medford piled up four runs in the first inning, but its edge slimmed to 4 to 3 then got a couple of markers in the seventh inning. Coos Bay-North Bend challenged the Studs with a pair of tallies in the seventh.

Twink Pederson singled for the Studs in the first inning Saturday and John Kovenz, who hit four for five for the night, tripled him home. Kovenz slipped another three bagger in the third frame. Frank Roelandt doubled and Jack Cooney tripled for two runs.

In the third inning for Coos Bay, Harvey Jones walked, Joe Trembly singled, Fred Granato and Tom Hunt hit two basers. Jones and Trembly in the seventh added a pair of doubles to the many extra base hits. Granato was safe on an error and Pifer singled.

Hits 3 for 3
Jones hit three for three, Pifer two for three and Trembly two for five.

Bartow whiffed seven batters and walked four in an eight-inning and Don White of the Studs, pitching 10-hit ball, struck out three and gave four bases on balls.

Medford got its four runs in the opening canto yesterday as Dick Toney walked, Kovenz doubled, and Bill Martell Roelandt and Bob Selsor singled.

In the seventh Kovenz got a base on balls and stole second base. Roelandt singled him home and then swiped second. Cooney sacrificed and Pederson singled in the run.

The 'Jacks got a pair of first inning runs on hits by Jones and Pifer and a fielder's option by Trembly. In the third Granato and Pifer singled and Lloyd's Lewis's foul flyout enabled Granato to go home. Don Lane doubles. Jones singled and Trembly tripled for two CB-NB runs in the seventh.

Roelandt swatted three for four for Medford yesterday and Jones and Pifer two for four each for the Lumberjacks.

Selsor for Medford and Lane for Coos Bay hurled nine-hitters. Selsor struck out five and Lane two and Selsor gave three free passes and Lane five.

Infielder Dick Toney of the Studs suffered a spike wound in the first inning and was taken to the hospital to have stitches in his hand. He may be out of action two weeks.

The Studs will go to Bend for a single Wednesday afternoon game and will meet the Washington Studs here next Saturday and Sunday. A Tuesday night game at Bend has been called off. With Toney and Wooton on the crippled list and a number of players unable to get away from Tuesday jobs the Studs would be lacking in manpower for a game that night.

The Cheney crew collected three runs in the fourth frame to get a 3 to 1 edge over the Lithia nine pish over two runs to catch up. It the fifth the Colts got four markers for 7 to 3. Ashland peeked back with one in the sixth and two in the seventh.

SPARKING OFFENSE
The fourth panel had some sparking offensive play by the Colts. Howard Morris singled and Frank Rector walked. They advanced to second and third bases on a passed ball and Morris Churchman drew a base on balls. Doy Gatlin laid down a sacrifice bunt to squeeze home the Morris. Rector stole home and Churchman swiped third on the same play. Then Sides clipped a long fly double to score Churchman.

Two bases on balls, a bunt single by Morris, two errors, a wild pitch, a three-bagger blow to right field by Rector and a squeeze hit by Churchman amassed the four runs in the fifth.

First three innings of play were scoreless. Hits by Joe Fenton and Howard Gang and an error produced, the Ashland center in the fourth. An error, and three consecutive singles by Jerry Montgomery, Ray Weinholt and Gene Parent picked up the two runs in the fifth.

Some fine Colt throwing nipped one scoring chance and the threat of another in the stanza. Montgomery scored on Parent's hit to right field. Weinholt tried to make it home too, but was caught on a relay, outfielder Gatlin, to second baseman Churchman to catcher Morris. The catcher threw to shortstop Rector at second to pick off Parent, who had gone to second in the throw-in.

MONTGOMERY DOUBLES

Jerry Montgomery was tagged for five hits by the Colts and was charged with all the runs in his 4 1-3 innings on the hill. He whiffed seven and gave five bases on balls. Parent in relief was touched for one hit and fanned two and walked two in 3-2 stanzas. He gave up a bunt that let in a runner Montgomery had let on base.

Cave Junction hopped on Glendale pitching reserves yesterday to hand the Millers their first setback in the Rogue Valley Baseball league, 14 to 3.

Grass Pass Merchants shelacked the Butte Falls Loggers 12 to 1 to gain a first place deadlock with Glendale and the Cheney Colts pulled into a third place tie with Cave Junction by nipping the Ashland Luthians 7 to 6.

Duane Miller, star hurler of the Glendale nine, hurt his arm in the second inning and his replacements, Tom Prestianni, Paul Smith and Floyd West couldn't hold down the Outlaws.

Camp White scored the third overwhelming verdict of the day, breaking into the win column in the RVL for the first time this season with a 21 to 7 decision over Eagle Point. The Loggers are still hunting for their first loop victory.

24 Hits by CW
The Whittiers pounded out a bulging 24 hits and were helped by nine Eagle Point miscues. Bob Nelson hit for four for five. Dick Wooton three for five and Tom Rodgers and Jim McAbee each three for six. McAbee slammed a homer and a triple and Nelson and Rodgers each a three-bagger.

Nelson and Al Waldron limited the Eagle Point club to six hits.

Camp White scored in every inning in its heavy offensive action but had a shaky defense start. All five of their errors were in the first two cantos.

To defeat the Lithians the Colts packed their runs into two innings and then outlasted the efforts of Ashland to catch up.

Bears Head Northwest By 6 Tiffs

The Yakima Bears are firm believers in the adage that beat your nearest competitor is the way to win pennants.

Two victories over second place Eugene yesterday moved the Bears six games out in front of the pack in the chase for the first half Northwest League championship.

Yakima capitalized on a porous Emerald defense to sweep both ends of the Sunday doubleheader, 9-4 and 6-1.

The Bears scored three runs in the fourth frame of the first game on a double, a single and an error. They added three more tallies in the sixth and two more Eugene errors.

Errors also led to Eugene's downfall in the nightcap. Two Emerald errors and three singles accounted for five Yakima runs in the third inning and the Bears coasted on to victory.

The other twin bills on the Sunday schedule wound up even-tempered. Tri-City and Salem split a pair with the Braves winning the seven-inning opener, 4-2, and Salem taking the extra inning game, 4-3.

Lewis and Spokane also split their doubleheader. The Broncos won the first game, 7-2, but Spokane pitcher Bill Bottler led the Indians to a 3-1 victory in the nightcap. Bottler won his own game with a 405-foot blast over the centerfield wall in the eighth inning with two teammates on base. He also struck out 12 men and walked only two while giving up six hits.

Dick Killian Cycle Victor

Dick Killian, Grants Pass, was first and his twin brother, Bob Killian, second yesterday in the motorcycle hare and hound endurance race in the Applegate area west of Rich.

John Wenker, Ashland rode a fine race in taking third spot. He headed the pack into the first check of the hardest lap. A bit of check trouble forced him to third.

Harry Elledge, Rogue River, won the trail sweeper's trophy as the last rider to complete the course.

Of eleven riders who qualified only eight finished the tough course laid out by Allen S. Heutsen, Jacksonville.

Trophies were presented by girls who acted as checkers. A good crowd was on hand to watch from a hillside at the start and finish line. White's Cycle shop, Medford, was sponsor.

Palmer Captures Insurance City

Wethersfield, Conn.—(U.P.)—Arnold Palmer's $4,000 first prize in the Insurance City Open was all the more pleasant for him to pocket today because he earned it in a two-hole playoff using a putter that had belonged to his opponent, Ted Kroll.

Palmer and Kroll, great pals, wound up dead even Sunday at the end of the 72-hole medal play in the tournament at 274 apiece. They stayed even with birdies on the first extra hole, then Palmer gained the first prize when Kroll missed a 10-foot putt.

Kroll, in his failure, had played superior golf on the final round, turning in a sub-par 67 while Palmer shot an erratic 71.

Kroll finished second money of $2,200, gaining ahead of six players who were anchored at third with 275 apiece. They were Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., who came up with a final round of 65, Casey of the day; Don Fairfield, Hestey, Ill.; Bud Holscher, Apple Valley, Calif.; Charles Sifford, Philadelphia; Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.; and Gene Littler,asing, Hills, Calif.
