A Nichol's Worth of . . .

Comment On This and That

Washington — (U.P.) — What's new in Washington:

The capital loves tourists, who drop a lot of money on their visits. Sometimes, though, they bring on headaches. The cop on the beat swears this one is gospel. It happened at a busy intersection during evening rush time. A Michigan motorist decided to make a U-turn right in the middle of the street, something against the rules.

"Hey, bub," yelled the law. "You can't do that here."

The visitor poked his head out of the window and replied:

"I think I can, if I back up a little."

The Wolverine backed and he U-turned and the man with the badge shrugged, scratched his noggin and blew his whistle at the next change of lights.

In the Commerce Building they have an elevator for the exclusive use of Secretary Sinclair Weeks and his immediate staff.

The little girl operator has a lot of time on her hands and knits while she sits, purling one and dropping two. Already she has knitted three sweaters.

Jane Goodsell, who does a folksy column for The AFL-CIO News, allows in print that mere man is a nuisance in the kitchen. "Men," she says, "cook when they feel like cooking and they almost never feel like cooking when people are hungry." She winds up with the remark that you couldn't expect a man to clean up the kitchen. "You wouldn't expect Toscanini to sweep the hall after a concert, would you?" Jane says.

And speaking of eating, The United Mine Workers Journal likes the one about the worker who opened his lunchbox and growled: "Cheese sandwiches!" "Why don't you ask your wife to make some other kind?" asked a fellow miner. "Wife?" cried the first undergrounder. "Who's married? I made these myself."

Sen. Robert S. Kerr, the Democrat from Oklahoma, came up with another "Kerr Kernel" in his newsletter. Said he: "Even if you have the best aim, you still have to pull the trigger."

Rep. James C. Wright Jr., the Texas Democrat, knows what hot weather is — and Washington isn't much different from the Lone Star State. So the lawmaker goes to work early, when it's cool. He told his voters that when he gets down at a decent hour he can think and avoid the heat of the Washington streets which "feel like a shapeless sack of wet laundry."

The 4000 National Federation of Republican Women's Clubs around the country are heading up their press releases with the NFRW."

There still is some confusion among visitors about where the President lives. Folks still walk up to guards on the Capitol grounds and want to know where the "President's home is." The White House, as all natives know, is down Pennsylvania ave. a piece.

The opticians at the Medical Center here are located at 1720 Eye st.

Installment Credit Sets Another Record

Washington — (U.P.) — Installment credit hit another record high in May, the Federal Reserve board has reported.

At the end of the month, the public had almost $28,600,000,000 of installment credit outstanding on purchases of automobiles, furniture, appliances and other items, as well as on personal loans and loans for home repair and improvements.

The increase during May totaled $331,000,000, the largest so far in 1956, but only a little more than half as large as in May, 1956. Credit on automobile buying increased $170,000,000 during May this year. In May, 1955, it increased $503,000,000.

Injured Worker Frees Self With Own Saw

Grants Pass — (U.P.) — An injured timber faller, both legs crushed by a falling tree, Monday used his own power saw to cut himself free before rescuers arrived to aid him.

Forty year-old James Fairchild, working on the Frank McTousic operation on Elk mountain northeast of here, was cutting a tree which fell prematurely and dropped across his legs as he ran. Still conscious, Fairchild used the saw to free himself even though his right foot was crushed and both bones in his left leg were broken.

He was listed in good condition at Josephine General Hospital here.

Washington—(U.P.)—The Comptroller of Currency has issued a call for the condition of all national banks as of June 30.
