Around Hollywood

Hollywood — (U.P.) — As if it weren't enough now you can listen to them, too!

A couple of Hollywood press agents and a record company have launched a new magazine that is the ultimate in those fan books that cater to housewives in beauty parlors and teen-agers.

The magazine, "Hear," has a photograph record imprinted into the front cover and another on the back. Cut out the record and you can listen to interviews with Tony Curtis, Tab Hunter and other idols of the soda fountain set.

Mosquitos to Stars

The world's first talking magazine was the brainchild of Len Kaufman and Bob Lewin. They formed a deal with Rainbo Records, which previously made records as part of breakfast food cartons. Rainbo also had recorded such oddities as the mating call of mosquitos.

"Hear" hit the newstands last week. Already Lewin and Kaufman are displaying letters from enthusiastic young readers: "real cool" and "Absolutely the best magazine ever printed."

"We worked a year on the idea," Lewin explained. "We believe fans don't have a chance to evaluate people they read about. But you can make an evaluation from a voice. You get a feeling of what the person is like. The fans feel closer to the stars when they play these records."

Machinery Bought To Enlarge Prison Furniture Plant

Salem — (U.P.) — Purchase of $7500 worth of machinery from the state highway department for use in the expanding prison furniture industry has been approved by the State Board of Control.

The board said the machinery would provide rehabilitation work for inmates at the prison and would also result in some savings to the state.

Enlargement Necessary

Col. William Ryan, board secretary, pointed out that enlarging the prison furniture operation was necessary due to abandonment of the prison flax plant which has been losing money for the past six years.

The highway department acquired the machinery when it purchased the Superbuilt Furniture company plant in Portland some time ago. Equipment which cannot be used at the prison will be auctioned off.

Hi-Fi Brainwash

The publishers have plans to "brainwash" even more homes with direct quotes from Rock, Lane, Debbie, Eddie and the rest. You, too, will be able to listen to Jayne Mansfield, Natalie Wood, Elizabeth Taylor and Elvis Presley talking on your hi-fi set.

The "Hear" staff played for me their first issue recordings, interviews with Tony Curtis and Jane Powell.

Tony enthused, "If any of you cats listening to this record write me at Universal Studio—" Jane talked about her baby who was heard cooing in her lap. Both records ended with a rousing, "Goodbye, fans!"

Fort Snelling, built where the Mississippi and Minnesota Rivers join, was first known as Fort St. Anthony. Gen. Winfield Scott visited the fort shortly after its completion and renamed it in honor of Josiah Snelling, who supervised its construction.

Manganese, Tin Programs Approved

Washington — (U.P.) — The Senate Interior Committee has approved bills to continue a manganese ore purchase program and to resume a tin program.

One bill calls for federal purchase of 30,000,000 long tons of manganese ores or concentrates. It would be accepted in amounts of 6,000,000 tons each at depots in Wenden, Ariz.; Deming, N.M.; Butte, Phillipsburg, Mont.; and at depots to be located in the Ozark-Cushman area and the Southern Appalachian area.

Railway Express Loses Try To Abandon Service

Salem — (U.P.) — An application of Railway Express Agency to abandon its facilities at Bandon, Port Orford and Gold Beach has been denied by State Public Utilities Commissioner Charles H. Heltzel.

The commissioner found that while the public had not fully utilized the services available, the express company on the other hand had not actively advertised its services.

He added that the area served was growing and had a general need for express service.

Saarbruecken — (U.P.) — The Saar Parliament anticipated its reunification with West Germany Monday by approving a new flag modeled on the West German ensign. The flag will be the black, red and gold of the German Federal Republic, bearing in addition the Saar coat of arms.

Druggists Solicited In Kidnaping Case

Westbury, N.Y. — (U.P.) — Police have issued a nationwide alarm asking druggists to watch the persons trying to buy a special vitamin required for the kidnaping of Weinberger baby.

The move appeared to be a last-ditch attempt to get fresh clues in the kidnaping of one-month-old Peter Weinberger from the patio of his parents' Long Island home last July 4. Police, apparently up against a dead end, were awaiting the official entry of the FBI into the case Wednesday.

The alarm was a long shot, since there appeared to be little likelihood the kidnaper would knowingly give himself away by asking for the vitamin.

Authorities asked druggists to question closely anyone asking for a vitamin preparation called Dozex B-12. The preparation was prescribed for the Weinberger baby before he was abducted.

Russia Charges US With Air Violation

Washington — (U.P.) — Russia has charged the United States with "a gross violation of the air space of the Soviet Union by U.S. military planes."

Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zorubín filed a formal protest at a 10-minute interview with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The ambassador, speaking through an interpreter, said the planes in some places had invaded Soviet territory for 320 kilometers and "some of them had flown over the territory of the Soviet Union for more than 2 1/2 hours."

Zorubín said the alleged violations took place on July 4, 5 and 9. He said they occurred in the vicinity of Minsk, Pinsk, Brest, Kalinigrad, Baranovich, Vilna, and Kaunas, former capital of Lithuania. All the cities are in the Baltic area in Western Europe.

Action Postponed

Action on construction of an emergency exit from the basement cafeteria of the public service building was postponed until bids and plans could be reviewed by the state emergency board which meets July 27.

The legislature appropriated $7500 for the job but specified that the money must also cover construction of a fire escape on the Supreme Court building.

The board said low bid on the exit was $5,950 and estimated cost of the fire escape was $3300. Expenditure of anything over the appropriated amount must be approved by the emergency board.
