Lodge Assails Soviet Diplomat For Attack in UN

Russia Agrees To Manpower Proposal
United Nations, N.Y.—(U.P.)—Russia today agreed to Western proposed manpower levels for disarmament, coupled with a nuclear weapons ban, and delivered to the United Nations a blistering attack on American foreign policy.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko drew an immediate reply from U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. in the U.N. Disarmament Commission. Lodge told the Kremlin diplomat that his hour-long speech was a "scurrilous attack on my country in the very worst traditions of Stalinism."

Misquote Charged
He accused the Russians of misquoting Assistant Secretary of State Francis O. Wilcox that the United States was not interested in disarmament. Wilcox actually said recently in a Chicago speech that the word "disarmament" was misleading and the United States favored regulated reductions of disarmament.

Gromyko claimed that the United States is to blame for lack of normal relations with Red China, the disunity of Germany and preservation of the colonial system in Asia. He also assailed the Baghdad pact, backed by the United States and Britain, as a weapon of aggression in the Middle East. He said America and Britain have sold "enormous amounts" of arms to Israel and Arab nations.

Largest Enterprise
Gromyko charged, "certain circles in the United States are unwilling to embark upon the path of disarmament." He said the "largest enterprise in the world" buying annually purchases of dollar value exceeding those of U.S. Steel, E. I. duPont de Nemours, Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Telephone and Telegraph, and General Motors, taken together.

"In order to justify the high profitable armaments race," Gromyko said, "the monopolistic circles make every effort to frustrate the settlement of urgent political problems."

Opposes All Proposals
Gromyko's previous contributions in the two-week debate of the 12-nation Disarmament Commission had consisted mainly of unrelenting opposition to all Western disarmament proposals.

He has accused the West of "sabotaging" disarmament talks, charged a Western-backed six-point declaration of principles "sounded the death knell" of the arms reduction question, and flatly rejected President Eisenhower's "open skies" plan for mutual aerial inspection.

Street Resurfacing Under Way in City

Resurfacing of Sixth st. from North Central ave. to Front st. was completed by the Rogue Paving company and city crews yesterday.

The paving company and city men are working today on another resurfacing job, two sections of East Main st., one from South Riverside ave. to Myrtle st., and the other from Willamette ave. to Eastwood dr.

Two Men Jump From Truck When Brakes Fail

Ashland—Two men reportedly escaped with bruises this morning when the brakes failed on a logging truck in which they were riding on Highway 99 in the Siskiyou.

James Stan Pardee, 25, of route 1, box 412A, Medford, the driver, suffered elbow and wrist injuries, according to a report from Ashland General hospital. Joe N. Mauldin, 22, of 153 North Second st., Ashland, bruised his elbows, hands and right knee. The hospital information indicated that both jumped from the vehicle. The mishap occurred just north of the summit.

Eisenhower Going to SF to Accept Nomination

Nixon 'Definitely' No. 2 on Ticket, Hall Declares
Halleck To Make Nominating Speech
Gettysburg, Pa.—(U.P.)—President Eisenhower will go to San Francisco in August to accept the Republican nomination as head of an "Eisenhower and Nixon" ticket, GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall announced today.

Hall said after a one-hour conference with Mr. Eisenhower that Vice President Richard M. Nixon "absolutely" would have the No. 2 spot on the 1956 GOP ticket. Hall said Mr. Eisenhower will be present at the GOP National Convention after he is nominated, probably on Wednesday, Aug. 22.

He also announced that Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) will make the speech nominating Mr. Eisenhower for a second term. Vigorous Campaign
Hall said Mr. Eisenhower will take part in a "vigorous, hard hitting campaign."

Asked to predict the outcome of the election, Hall said it would be "very very good and better than in 1952." Hall was asked whether the president made clear that he still wants Nixon as his running mate. "Absolutely," Hall replied. "I think it's Eisenhower and Nixon—that's it!"

He also predicted that the Republicans will recapture control of Congress. No Whistle Stops
Hall said Mr. Eisenhower himself will not engage in a whistle stop campaign, but will rely mainly on modern media, such as radio and television. He indicated that Nixon, however, would do the whistle stopping along with key members of the Cabinet, Senate and House.

As for the president's health, Hall said "nothing has been kept from the American people." The health issue, he said, had been met "by candor and frankness" on the part of the president, and White House aides who have kept the people in touch through the press with the "daily condition of the president's health."

Congressional Outlook
Hall predicted that the Republican party will pick up more congressional seats and more electoral votes from the South. "He said he did not anticipate 'any trouble' on the farm issue. Asked which Democratic candidate would be the "hardest to beat," Hall replied sharply: "Oh, I don't care which one."

Hall said the congressional picture looks "good" in both houses for the Republicans. He particularly singled out the Senate candidacy of Douglas McKay in Oregon, Gov. Arthur Langlie in Washington and former Ambassador to India John Sherman Cooper in Kentucky.

Hall said the overall Republican budget for the campaign is $7,000,000. Man Pleads Innocent in Circuit Court
Edward J. Fogel, 42, of 826 West 12th st., Medford, pleaded innocent in circuit court this morning to a charge of writing a bank check with insufficient funds. Trial date for Fogel will be set later.

Cases were continued for presentence reports on Bernard William Johnson, 24, of 217 South Riverside ave., Medford; George Sidney Smith, 19, Lansing, Mich.; and Gale E. Alleman, 18, Lansing, Mich. Johnson previously pleaded guilty to writing a check with insufficient funds and Smith and Alleman pleaded guilty to charges of grand larceny.

Salem—(U.P.)—E. H. Hagen of Oregon City and Clayton Fox of Imbler have been re-appointed as members of the Chewings Rescue and Creeping Red Rescue Commission.

Administration Looks To Senate To Up Foreign Aid

House-Approved Bill Studied by Committee
Washington—(U.P.)—The Eisenhower administration today looked to the Senate to make a sizeable increase in the $3,400,000,000 appropriation voted by the House Wednesday for the foreign aid program.

The Senate Appropriations Committee was called into closed session this morning to consider the House-approved bill. The committee hoped to finish its deliberations late today or Friday.

The House approved the $3,000,000,000 figure by a vote of 284 to 120, over the pleas of President Eisenhower. Despite the taunts of Democrats and the pleas of GOP leaders, no effort was made to increase the total in line with President Eisenhower's expressed wishes.

Approve Aid Study
Administration leaders decided such an effort would have little chance of success in the House. In another development the Senate Wednesday approved a $300,000 study of the foreign aid program. It would be conducted by a special 19-member committee, including 15 members of the Foreign Relations Committee, plus the ranking Democrat and Republican on both the Appropriations and Armed Services Committee.

The House total is $1,500,000,000 less than the $4,900,000,000 originally asked by Mr. Eisenhower and $600,000,000 less than the $14,000,000,000 authorization ceiling voted earlier by the House and Senate. Mr. Eisenhower hoped the appropriation would at least match the authorization.

Nixon Scores Cuts
In the Senate, efforts were expected to both cut and raise the $3,400,000,000 figure. The outcome is uncertain. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, returning from an Asian tour, said Wednesday that cuts in U.S. aid could be "disastrous" in some of the areas he visited. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told a news conference Wednesday a $1,500,000,000 slash made by the House would seriously undermine the defense programs of U. S. Allies, including such countries as Formosa, Korea and Viet Nam.

Unemployment Taxes Fail To Close Deficit

Salem—(U.P.)—Employer contributions increased to more than a million dollars during the second quarter of 1956, but failed to overcome a deficit that reached $3,711,070 for operation of the entire 1955-56 fiscal year. The State Unemployment Compensation commission reported that unemployment taxes amounted to $13,281,358 for the 12 months; just ended, while payments to those without jobs were $18,342,963—slightly under the annual average for the last five years.

Biggest improvement over 1955 came from the metropolitan area of Portland where 3,500 fewer unemployed were reported under last year. Eugene, Medford and Klamath Falls also had considerably shorter claims lines than in comparative periods. Toledo and Coos Bay reported more persons seeking work than either the month of the year before.

Three in Jail for Robbery at Roseburg
Roseburg—(U.P.)—Three men were in Douglas county jail here today, charged with robbery by force and violence. Lester Labonte, 23, Glide; James Eaves, 28, Roseburg; and Marvin Harris, 27, Roseburg, were accused of taking Joseph Altschaffer of Artesia, Calif., for a ride in the country and beating and robbing him.

Southern Oregon Humane Society to Continue Operation

Southern Oregon Humane Society will continue operation for the remainder of this year. The society's board of trustees made the decision today following a public hearing at which A. K. Woody Morse, of Morse Motors in Medford, guaranteed payment of the society's deficit for this year.

Attending the hearing, held to consider dissolution of the society, were seven local residents, including Morse, and seven trustees of the society. Insufficient Funds
The trustees stated there was not sufficient money to continue operation. While the society has in the past received limited aid from the state, county and city, further funds from these sources will not be forthcoming.

They also explained the society has experienced considerable difficulty in obtaining funds since organization of the United Medford Crusade. The humane society has applied for membership in the UME, but was rejected and contributions from the UMF have been only those which were specifically designated for the society.

Morse and others at the hearing expressed belief that many southern Oregon residents recognize the need for such a society and would contribute if they were contacted. The trustees, however, said concerted efforts in soliciting money had produced only discouraging results. At least $1,000 more would be necessary, they indicated, to sustain the program for the remainder of this year.

They also said the financial problem would be greater next year since funds allotted by the Jackson county dog control board would not be renewed. From Jan. 1 to May 31 income totaled $3,407.75 and routine expenses were $3,000.75. Net bank balance on May 31 was $1,018.95.

The society, originally the Jackson County Humane Society, was organized in 1928 as a non-profit corporation for protection and care of animals. This morning's hearing in the courthouse auditorium started at 10 a.m. and ended about 10:30 a.m. Chairman of the board is R. W. Frame and president of the society is Mrs. Robert Keeney.

Nasser Will Confer With Tito and Nehru

Belgrade, Yugoslavia—(U.P.)—Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser flew here today for three-day talks with Yugoslav President Tito and Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru.

Nasser and Tito will meet for a week before Nehru joins them. The subject of their talks is secret, although there have been reports that they would consider formation of their countries into a so-called "third force" between the Communist East and capitalist West.

Response To Polio Vaccination Campaign Declared 'Gratifying'

A check of local doctors and drug stores today showed "excellent" results from the current campaign to encourage Salk anti-polio vaccinations, it was reported today. The campaign, sponsored by the Jackson county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, is being conducted to encourage all persons up to age 19, and expectant mothers, to receive the first of the three-shot series before the polio season arrives. Polio incidence here usually takes an upswing during August, September and October.

One doctor reported two to three vaccinations being made weekly before the campaign started. They now have jumped to 10 to 15 a day, his office said. Another reported a big increase in the younger age group but said response by teen-agers has been slow.

Response 'Gratifying'
Still another doctor said the teen-age response has been "very gratifying" while another said "we can't keep the phone answered, people are making appointments all day long." Drug stores generally reported a sharp increase in sale of the vaccine.

Harry Chipman, chairman of the county chapter, said the vaccine supply for the county now looks better than at any time since its release. A total of 216,361 cc's of the vaccine are now available for use in Oregon, he said. Each shot in the three-shot series contains one cc. Current national production schedules indicate that Oregon can expect upwards of 200,000 cc's of additional vaccine each month from now on, Chipman said.

Use Must Increase
Unless Oregon is to lose part of its supply to other states, the current rate of use must be increased sharply, the chairman pointed out. Rough estimates indicate slightly over half of the eligible age group in the county had received the vaccine up to the first of this week. Doctors in the county are generally agreed that a charge of $10 for the complete series of vaccinations will be made. This barely covers the doctors' cost of the vaccine and administering expense.

Verdict Favoring Copco Returned

A Jackson county circuit court jury yesterday returned a verdict in favor of the California Oregon Power company in a damage suit resulting from a Blackwell hill fire last Labor Day week end.

The suit was brought by the Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Casey, who live on old Highway 99 south of Gold Hill. They sought to recover damages for the loss of certain personal property destroyed in the fire. The Rev. Casey is pastor of the Church in the Pines.

Mr. and Mrs. Casey claimed that Copco was responsible for the fire because of a portion of a dead pine tree blew through the air and hit one of its distribution lines. The Blackwell hill fire started from a broken power line which ignited dry grass between old and new Highway 99 near the Church in the Pines. High winds and low humidity caused the fire to spread rapidly.

The trial lasted five days with Circuit Judge H. K. Hanna presiding. Mr. and Mrs. Casey were represented by George W. Rode and Copco was represented by Roberts, Kellington and Branchfield.

and the site of the proposed replacement, the existing South fork flume and the Replacement site, and the new Culbertson flume, which is operating for the first time this season. Officials of the bureau of reclamation and from the county agent's office are expected to participate on the field trip. The trip was scheduled to acquaint users of water with the upper system structures which are scheduled for replacement this fall. Another trip is planned next year to allow users to see new structures. Bids for the rehabilitation work will be opened in the near future by the bureau of reclamation. Hoffbuhr pointed out that cars will travel close to the scheduled sites on the field trip.

Field Trip Set Saturday By Irrigation Districts

A field trip into the Bradshaw drop and Lake Creek areas will be held by the Medford and Rogue River Valley Irrigation districts Saturday, Jack Hoffbuhr, secretary manager of the Medford district, reminded water users today.

The trip will start at 8:30 a.m. from the intersection of Crater Lake highway and Antelope rd., at Camp White. Hoffbuhr urged water users interested to contact their respective irrigation district offices.
