

Harriman Expected To Call for Tough Civil Rights Plank

Washington—(U.P.)—The word came from Gov. Averell Harriman's camp today that he probably will use a Southern forum this week to call for a tough civil rights plank in the Democratic party platform.

The New Yorker, who addresses a National Press club lunch here today, has his next major speech set for a Young Democratic meeting at Ashboro, N. C., Saturday night.

Now viewed as Adlai E. Stevenson's chief challenger for the Democratic presidential nomination, Harriman is not expected to make any major bid for Southern support in his appearance before a southern audience.

He is expected, instead, to talk about party platform problems in the North and why it needs a strong civil rights plank—of the type Southerners oppose—to hold Negro voters.

Other political news:

1. President Eisenhower conferred at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm with Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall to discuss plans for the GOP National convention and campaign strategy.

2. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who returned Wednesday from an Asian tour, said his announcement of last April that he would be happy to be Mr. Eisenhower's running mate again still stands. The comment was Nixon's first on his political future since Mr. Eisenhower reiterated his second term candidacy.

3. Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said Wednesday night that Mr. Eisenhower should have told the people directly that he intends to run again rather than passing the word through the White House "guard." The President's plans were announced by Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland.

In North Carolina, Harriman will be in the home state of Gov. Luther Hodges, a Stevenson backer who recently questioned Harriman's ability to carry traditionally Democratic southern states against President Eisenhower.

Most of the South is leaning toward Stevenson, whose supporters are anxious to write a party platform which the South will swallow, even if it protests.

Contract Awarded for Siskiyou Hospital

Yreka—A contract for construction of an addition to Siskiyou county hospital was awarded to Al Giordano Construction company of Yreka, at the county board of supervisor's meeting this week.

The basic bid, which was the only one submitted, called for the work to be done for $65,126.17. On recommendation of R. J. Keeney, Medford architect on the project, two alternatives were added.

The first alternate called for $1,500 for tiling of floors and walls in toilet rooms. The other addition to the basic bid was $2,500 for building a sun porch level with the existing floor.

Five Persons Killed In Head-on Collision

Rock Springs, Wyo.—(U.P.)—Coroner Bill Villanova said today no inquest would be held into the deaths of five persons killed in a head-on collision near Rock Springs, Wyo., since no one apparently was an actual witness to the accident.

The victims, four women and a man, were killed Wednesday seven and one-half miles west of Rock Springs on U.S. 30.

The dead were Mrs. Bertha Sikich, 40, Rock Springs, her 15-year-old daughter, Sandra, and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Olson, Pasadena, Calif., all in one car; and Charles F. Pulham, 29, and his 28-year-old wife of Orem, Utah, in the other car.

Exhibition of Nutrias Set To Interest More Raisers

Nutria, beaver-like fur bearing animals, will be on display tomorrow and Saturday at the Monarch Feed and Seed company farm store, corner of 10th and South Fir sts.

A brown male, a white male plus several half-grown "kits" will be exhibited.

Joe W. Casad, local nutria rancher who is sponsoring the display, is the local agent for Purebred Nutria associates Inc., which is trying to create interest in nutria raising in southern Oregon.

Casad's ranch is located at his home, route 1 box 399-A, Medford.

Purebred Nutria associates Inc. was formed several years ago, taking membership from about 400 nutria growers on the west coast. It provides protection for nutria growing from becoming "just another fur breeding animal racket," Casad said.

Ranchers are given advantages such as free exchange of breeding males, collective growing pens, perfection of feeding methods and collective marketing through the association.

Association headquarters are at Lancaster, Calif. Authorized brokers, sales representatives for pelts and by-products produced by the association are W. S. Curtis and associates.

Casad said that nutria ranching is expanding particularly in California, Oregon and Utah. The association estimated that the spring of 1957 pelting program will gross about 8,000 pelts, the spring of 1958 about 50,000, and a continually increased number in future years.

Anyone interested in nutria raising may contact Casad.

Pilots Schedule 'Remedy' Meeting

Chicago—(U.P.)—The Air Line Pilots association announced today a combined meeting of three association committees here July 23 to seek a remedy to the "obsolete and inadequate air traffic control system."

The association's 12-man Air Traffic Control Committee and two committees presently investigating the crash of United Air Lines and Trans World Airlines planes in Grand Canyon, Ariz., will meet "to produce recommendations helpful to government agencies seeking solutions to air traffic control problems."

C. N. Sayen, ALPA president, said the pilots investigating the crash scene had not yet fixed the responsibility of the crash on any individual group. The June 30 Grand Canyon tragedy in which 128 persons were killed is the worst in the history of commercial aviation.

US Destroyer Aids Earthquake Survivors

Athens—(U.P.)—The Greek naval staff announced today the U.S. Navy destroyer Hawkins arrived at Thera Wednesday night to deliver water and emergency supplies to survivors of the earthquake which wrecked much of the island earlier this week.

The U.S. destroyer Hancock was also on its way to the island in the Aegean sea, Greek officials reported.

Nearly half of Thera's 10,000 population was left homeless by the earthquake which rocked Thera Monday, and by the volcanic eruptions and a huge tidal wave which followed.

Ike Not Gaining; Doctors Unworried

Gettysburg, Pa.—(U.P.)—President Eisenhower isn't gaining back his lost weight but his doctors "are not particularly concerned," an aide said today.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters the President's weight remains at 163 pounds. That is about seven pounds under what he weighed before his June 9 intestinal operation.

"The doctors," Hagerty said, are not particularly concerned that he's staying at his weight—that he's not gaining."

Sack's Legal Battle Said Not Yet Over

Portland—(U.P.)—The first degree murder conviction of George F. Sack, Portland apartment house owner, was upheld by the Oregon Supreme Court yesterday but attorneys for Sack indicated that the legal battle to save him from the gas chamber was not yet over.

John Patrick Hannon, Sack's attorney, said his client's appeal would go to the U. S. Supreme court if necessary.

Hannon said he would file a motion with the state court for a rehearing of Sack's appeal there and if that fails "we shall go to the Supreme Court of the United States."

Sack was first convicted in Multnomah county for the murder of his wife, Goldie Sack, on Feb. 16, 1954.

Yreka May Get New Plywood Industry

Yreka—Possible establishment of a plywood plant in Yreka was announced this week at the Yreka Chamber of Commerce board of director's meeting.

Chamber Manager Harry Crebbin said the Yreka Veneer company, which now has peeling operations at Happy Camp, is considering going into full plywood production and may establish a plant in Yreka.

According to Crebbin, a suitable location has been found for the projected plant. The plant, if constructed, would employ about 150 workers on a three shift basis.
