

Devils Lakes Yields Carp

Portland — (UP) — State game commission officials reported today that between 15 and 20 tons of carp had been picked up and disposed of by crews working at Devils lake following its chemical treatment on July 19.

Leslie Zumwalt, northwest regional supervisor for the commission and in charge of disposal operations, said "We are not surprised at the number of carp that were in the lake. Many more tons of them are still on the bottom, and we will be busy for several days disposing of them as they come to the surface."

Library Man Softball Hitter

Washington — (UP) — What's new in Washington: Maybe the major leagues ought to have a look at Gordon Ward, who plays in the Library of Congress Softball League. Ward now is hitting at a .513 clip.

That's unusual in softball because the pitcher is only a short distance from home plate and practically puts his foot in the batter's mouth with every toss. Ward, incidentally, is a pitcher himself and his team leads the league.

British association for the Advancement of Science is now 125 years old, having been organized and activated professionally in 1831.

Kroll, Burke Vie in PGA Finals Today

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor
Canton, Mass. — (UP) — Curly-haired Jackie Burke and deadpanned Ted Kroll — two of the greatest putters in the game met today for the PGA golf championship at Blue Hills Country club.

Burke, winner of the Masters last year, was a slight favorite over Kroll, a 10-year veteran of the tournament trail who never has won a major title.

Burke figured he was "just plain lucky" to be in the finals for he came back from being 5 down after 14 holes to win over Ed Furgol, the 1954 Open champion whose putting went sour. I up in an extra hole after they were all-even at the end of the regulation 36-hole semifinal.

Putting Sank Furgol
"If I'd been putting I'd have beaten him about 9 and 8," said Furgol. "But I just couldn't drop them except on that 38th hole." "That's right," Burke agreed. "When I finally beat him, it was on the greens. This was one day when I just had to feel that sometimes it's better to be lucky than good."

Jackie, 33-year-old native Texan playing out of Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., figured he was lucky in more ways than Furgol's poor putting. On one hole he hit the trees and bounced back onto the fairway. On another, his ball stopped against a water pipe and he was allowed to move it two club lengths, giving him a clear shot at the green.

But he had to be good, too. For on the 36th hole Furgol could have shaken him apart when Ed exploded out of a trap within seven feet and sank the putt for a birdie. Burke, going for an eagle and the match, just missed his putt so they went into sudden death.

Recalls Middlecoff Match
Remembering that just a year ago he lost out to Cary Middlecoff in four extra holes in the semi-finals at Northville, Mich., after being 2 up with two holes to go, Burke decided that he would play the first extra hole for a half.

"I thought that might cool Ed off," he explained, "so I decided I'd settle to stay alive." But when he put his second shot on, 12 feet from the pin, on the extra hole, and Furgol was 30 feet away, he changed his mind.

DiPietro Blames Low Season On High Pressure at Bat

By SCOTT BAILLIE
United Press Sports Writer
San Francisco — (UP) — This is a lean season for Bob DiPietro and the "take charge" guy of the San Francisco Seals candidly admits that he has only himself to blame.

"I think a lot of my trouble came from trying to bat .371 all over again," DiPietro said today as he leaned against the backstop after playing every infield position during practice. "The result is that I've been pressing and the average shows it."

Flam Victor in Clay Court Finals

River Forest, Ill. — (UP) — Herbie Flam, who had uphill going all the way, today held the National Clay Courts singles title after a lapse of five years.

Flam, the nation's eighth-ranked player, captured the singles crown Monday by coming from behind to defeat Eddie Moylan, 3-6, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3.

The women's singles title went to Wimbledon champion Shirley Fry who defeated Althea Gibson, 7-5 and 6-1.

Game Hearing Set At Portland Friday

Portland — (UP) — A hearing prior to adoption of the 1956 hunting regulations will be held at the Portland office of the game commission, at 10 a.m. Friday.

Game commission officials said the public is invited to attend the hearing to present recommendations.

Tentative regulations were adopted a week ago.

Rita Hayworth Shaken In Slight Accident

London — (UP) — Screen star Rita Hayworth was "shaken" but unhurt early today when her Rolls Royce was involved in a slight accident with a truck.

Miss Hayworth was en route to a movie studio where she is making a picture at the time of the accident.

"The Deep," one of three holdovers from last year's revamped club, was slugging at an amazing .371 in the middle of the 1955 campaign then snapped his right ankle sliding. The fracture put him into a cast for the rest of the season and one of the most heartwarming comebacks in Seals history was blacked out.

DiPietro had batted .289 the previous season and he is right around there again with a .272. Battles Too Hard
"There was one advantage to hitting .371," DiPietro laughed with a trace of his old humor. "Whenever I began to tail off I could stay relaxed with an average that high and not worry too much. But when a fellow finds himself around .270 he often battles too hard to break out of it and does worse."

The first baseman, who commutes to work from Fairfax, Calif., is logging quite a lot of bench time this season while Larry DiPippo covets around that position. Bob doesn't make any bones over the fact that he feels the clutch more when suddenly dropped into a spot situation, usually as pinch-hitter.

"I'm not the ice-water type," he explained. "When I'm in the lineup steadily I take a clutch situation as a matter of course. But when I am looking on then suddenly find myself going up to pinch-hit, I feel the pressure a little."

Swing Improved
And Deopy thinks better times are coming. He became a father for the second time earlier this season and that is a load off his mind. And he also feels that Manager Joe Gordon may have helped him with his swing.

Gordon's method of stopping players from upcutting the ball consists of having them bring their wrists down smartly as they take their swing as if they were going to hit down on the sphere. This is supposed to counteract the golfing tendency and results in a level swing.

"I'm feeling more relaxed now and think I'll improve as soon as I stop worrying about trying to hit .370 all over again," DiPietro said again.

Spokane In First Place

By RAY ANDREWS
United Press Sports Writer
The Spokane Indians have parked their team atop the Northwest League standings once again but a pair of neighbors is in position to tear it down.

Last night, the Indians moved out in front with an 8-6 triumph over Yakima to go ahead on percentage points although still virtually tied with Salem and Wenatchee.

The Indians went on the warpath in the late innings scoring three in the seventh and four in the ninth. The four in the ninth came after two were out and started with a throwing error. Four singles and a walk chased across the markers.

Lewiston also used the big-inning technique in topping Salem 9-8. The Broncs rallied for six runs in the eighth for the decision. Joe Jacobs' three-run home run sent across the eventual winning run. Two singles, a double and a walk also were included in the rally.

Mac Schmidt of Lewiston hit a solo homer in the sixth. The decision went to Bob Wadsworth who entered in relief in the first inning. He now is 7-6.

Tri-City scored four runs in the first frame and added five in the fifth plus a single marker in the ninth to take Eugene 10-7. Three singles, two walks and an error sent the four across in the first.

In the fifth the Braves added five with the big blow a two-run triple by Dwayne Helbig. Ev Adridge took over in the second for Tri-City and went the route to take the decision although he was racked hard at times.
