 "Do you suffer from seasickness?" Now available is a preventive in the form of a tablet which is said to have proven successful for the great majority of users. It was tested on thousands of seaman men making trans-Atlantic trips in all kinds of weather. Was practically 100 per cent successful. It utilizes a drug called medicine. Available without prescription. Ask your druggist about it if you plan to sail the seas. Incidentally, Byron in his classic poem titled "Don Juan" included a suggested cure for seasickness as follows:
 The best of remedies is a beef steak.
 Against seasickness, try it out.

Bitter Battle

My bitter battle for better typewriter ribbon mechanism has finally been crowned with success. Now available is an attachment which makes it possible to change a ribbon in 10 seconds or less with no danger of ending up with ink stained fingers. Another of my campaigns to make life easier for secretaries and their bosses has also been successful. That is the one in which I suggested brightly colored typewriters be substituted for the customary drab, depressing black machines. Red, pink and yellow typewriters are now available. Color psychologists claim such machines have a soothing effect on a secretary and make her easier to handle. The color of a machine selected should match the hair coloring of the user. Generally speaking, it is all right to permit the secretary to select the color. An exception is a red-haired secretary. The flaming tresses females have no color sense. A redhead would probably select a machine color of shocking pink. That combination would upset the background of your office and make it look like the studio of an inebricated artist. A red-haired amanuensis should have a white or yellow typewriter.

the guidance of the millions of our countrywomen who are engaged in husband hunting. This reminds me that the handsome millionaire bachelor, Carl Laemmle Jr., of Beverly Hills, Calif., is still in circulation. However, I hear he is weakening. I am reliably informed a determined blonde is closing in on him.

Famous First

The first air-conditioned theater in New York City was the Rivoli. That was in 1925. The first air-conditioned department store was Macy's. That celebrated establishment had two air-conditioned floors in 1926.

Asking

Queries from clients. Q How does the price of a jet passenger airliner compare with that of an ocean liner? A. Can't say definitely but can give you an idea. The steamship United States, the fastest, best equipped liner sailing the seas, cost about $78,000,000 to build. I understand one of the new jet airliners, capable of carrying 160 passengers, will cost about $15,000,000. Q. How much did Prince Ranier demand and get for the films of his wedding to Grace Kelly? A. Don't know what the prince demanded but I understand he was paid $250,000 for the films referred to.

Asides

Linda Christian has a more valuable jewel collection than Joan Crawford. So I note it said. That I doubt. However, Linda has done all right in the jewelry line. Her collection is worth about $350,000. Much ado about Dublin, Ireland, having a Jewish mayor. I believe St. Patrick, Mo., once had a Jewish mayor named Cohn.

Certain Worms Have Memory System

Berkeley, Calif. — (UP) — Even a worm has a memory system of sorts.

But it took a University of California graduate student to demonstrate that certain worms will learn, forget what they have learned, and then remember again.

W. J. Coppock, graduate student in the department of psychology, reported on his study of what is known to psychologists as "extinction" and "spontaneous recovery," phenomena in the common sand worm.

For the purposes of his study, extinction was cited as roughly the same forgetting and spontaneous recovery similar to remembering.

Coppock taught four of his worms the simple trick of swimming out of a glass tube in order to get food whenever a light was flashed on them. They learned to respond to this trick within 30 seconds after fewer than 20 lessons. Then Coppock taught

NY To SF Rockets Seen in 1 1/2 Hours

Buffalo, N.Y. — (UP) — New York to San Francisco in one and one-half hours? That's the time schedule of future passenger-carrying rocket planes forecast by Dr. Walter R. Dornberg, Bell Aircraft Corp. consultant.

"Rocket planes will be used for long distance travel in the future," he said.

"Like giant ocean liners, they will be comparatively few in number and will be used only between the longest points on our planet."

A COSTLY PORT

Bremerhaven, Germany — (UP) The American crews of the liners "United States" and "America" spend $100,000 in Bremerhaven every time their ships dock here, Mayor H. Gullasch happily reported Tuesday. He said it averages out to $40 per man for drink, $20 for food, and $40 "for entertaining the young ladies."

Turning to aircraft guidance, the Bell rocket expert said "the time of man with the airplane is not gone." He pointed out that machines can be designed to replace all human actions in aircraft control, but "you cannot replace his thinking or his reasoning power."

"We want to conquer space by man, not by machine," he added.
