Survey Changes Statistics About Buying Habits

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Correspondent

New York—(U.P.)—Men have more control over the money women spend than they've been given credit for, according to a new report on female buying habits.

The average male also has more of a mind of his own about shopping for himself than mid-century statistics have led us to believe.

In a detailed report of the latest surveys of family spending, Fortune Magazine today reveals that women do not control 65 per cent of all the family buying—a statistic used widely in recent years.

"The American woman is responsible for around 60 per cent of all U. S. personal consumption expenditures," the magazine states.

Even this figure is misleading, the article continues, because many times women buy after specific requests from their husbands, acting only as errand runners and not as decisive factors in what is to be bought.

True, the man's magazine, recently published a report minimizing women's influence on the male clothing purchase. Men select three out of four of the suits they buy, the magazine survey showed. Women buy one out of every two male shirts sold, the survey admitted, but men make the selection a majority of the time.

Pinning down accurate facts on family purchasing is one of the most difficult jobs any researcher can tackle.

"Even when the initial idea of buying is hers—the wife's," the Fortune report pointed out, "she often allows, indeed encourages her spouse to believe that it was his."

White spots or rings on wood-furniture sometimes can be removed by rubbing the blemish with cigarette ashes and a light-weight oil—sewing machine oil, lemon oil or even uncolored margarine. The Oklahoma Extension service says that colored margarine could spot the furniture. The cigarette ashes act as a mild abrasive, to help the oil penetrate the spot. After the spot is removed, coat the surface with furniture wax.

Alcoa Prepares To Close Plants As Strike Nears

Pittsburgh—(U.P.)—Aluminum Company of America planned to begin closing down operations at 19 plants tonight if two unions failed to guarantee crews for tapping smelting pots should a strike be called.

A contract with the United Steelworkers and a wage clause and agreement with the International Aluminum Workers Union expire at midnight Tuesday.

Wants Work Force Assured

An Alcoa spokesman said the company would continue regular operations until the strike deadline if the union assured a sufficient work force for an orderly shutdown of the giant electric pots in which aluminum is made.

The company met with the unions here and in New York in a stepped-up drive to avert the threatened strike. Meetings with AWU covering 11,000 employees in seven plants, were held in Pittsburgh. Alcoa and USW representatives, bargaining for 17,000 workers in 11 plants, held their discussions in New York.

The USW also met with the Reynolds Metal Co. in New York sessions.

Three Year Pacts

Aluminum industry contracts were expected to be patterned after agreements reached by the USW with the basic steel industry. The steel settlement calls for three-year pacts with a direct wage increase of 28.7 cents an hour and other benefits spread over the contract term.

Management and union representatives in the Alcoa negotiations expressed confidence they would be able to write an agreement before the strike deadline.

Seaton Denies Demo Charge on President

Washington—(U.P.)—Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton labeled as "ridiculous" today Democratic charges that President Eisenhower has been a part-time President.

Seaton, who was a White House assistant before becoming a cabinet member, said "The President knew what was going on and always made the decisions when I was at the White House. He still does."

Seaton, in an interview, also said no one has officially asked him to reverse the mining patents granted to the Al Sarena Mining Co., Mobile, Ala. But he has the matter under study and would reverse the decision to grant the claims if he found anything wrong and had the power to do so.

On power policies he said the desires of the people should be followed as closely as possible as to whether they want public or private power in a particular region.

Faster Than Sound Bomber To Undergo Flight Tests Soon

Washington—(U.P.)—The first bomber in the United States, and possibly in the world, designed to fly faster than sound will begin test flights in about three months.

Authoritative sources who disclosed this today said that Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, recently inspected the radical new aircraft on the production line at the Fort Worth, Tex., plant of General Dynamics Corp.

The bomber is the B58 Hustler, a delta or triangular-winged craft after the fashion of the new F102 interceptor plane. It is powered by four General Electric J79 engines. These engines deliver an estimated 15,000 pounds of thrust apiece and are used in the new 1,400-mile-an-hour F104 fighter plane.

Bly Woman Hurt By Falling Wire

Klamath Falls—(U.P.)—A 45-year-old woman was critically burned near Bly Saturday when a power pole cross arm plunged to the ground and the hot wire struck her.

In a Klamath Falls hospital with second and third degree burns was Mrs. Laura Martin. She and her husband operated a ranch near Bly.

Her husband, J. Martin, told sheriff's officers that an electrical storm Friday night had apparently left the wooden crossarm smoldering. Embers dropped to the ground and Saturday afternoon started a grass fire.

Martin said that he and his wife ran to douse the fire with water-soaked burlap bags. While Mrs. Martin was standing beneath the power line, the crossarm broke and allowed the hot wire to fall onto her.

Martin managed to pull her away from the wire. She was rushed to a hospital unconscious.

Hodge's Aide Denies Knowledge of Scheme

Springfield, Ill.—(U.P.)—Former state auditor Orville E. Hodge's chief aide denied he wittingly took part in a million-dollar check scandal, but called himself stupid and a "damn fool."

Edward A. Epping gave the characterizations in a statement released by prosecutors Sunday.

He admitted carrying money between Hodge and the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago, but denied ever preparing or authorizing any fake state checks.

Epping said he functioned merely as a "glorified messenger boy" for the resigned state auditor, who is accused in federal and state indictments of faking 46 state checks totaling $736,000. The checks were cashed at the Southmoor Bank by persons other than the payees.

Although large numbers of older people have migrated to California and Florida, the proportion of older people in the population in both of these states is still below the national average of 8.2 per cent of the population, notes a report of the Twentieth Century Fund.

cent Russian trip. Twining described the Russian plane as the "most significant" of several that he saw and said the Russians "claim" that it is supersonic. Americans call it the "Blow-lamp."

A Medium Bomber
The Convair B58, however, is a medium bomber, and as such, would be presumed to have about twice the range of the Russian plane. It has four engines to the Russian's two.

If successful, the B58 eventually, perhaps in 1959 or 1960, would succeed the present B47 Stratofort in medium bomber wings of the Strategic Air Command.

The speed of the B58 is closely held secret, but informed sources indicate that it may attain 900 to 1,000 miles an hour. This would make it upwards of 400 miles an hour faster than present American bombers which cannot exceed the speed of sound.

The speed of sound is 660 miles an hour at high altitude. The only bomber in the world for which supersonic speed has been claimed, but apparently not substantiated, was a new light bomber shown to Twining and his party during their recent trip.

Navy Announces New Guided Missile

Washington—(U.P.)—The Navy today announced a new and presumably longer-ranged version of its Regulus guided missile and gave Chance Vought Aircraft, Dallas, Tex., a $12,000,000 production contract for the weapons.

The Regulus is a jet-propelled, piloted aircraft launched from submarines, cruisers and aircraft carriers against shore targets. Its speed is more than 600 miles an hour, and it is believed to have a range of several hundred miles.
