Program Listed For New Hospital Ground Breaking

Plans for ground breaking ceremonies for the new Rogue Valley Memorial hospital at the corner of Barnett and Murphy rds. at 7:30 a.m. Monday, Aug. 6, have been announced. Otto J. Frohnmayer, general chairman of the campaign organization, reported that all those who have pledged and contributed to the Memorial hospital have been invited to ceremonies. About 200 additional invitations have been extended to people associated with hospital interests, he said.

Master of Ceremonies James J. Dunlevy will act as master of ceremonies for the program, which is expected to take about 30 minutes. General contractor, A. V. Peterson, Portland, will start construction immediately following ground breaking ceremonies. Estimated cost of the new structure is $2,000,000, funds for which came from a general fund raising campaign last winter, federal Hill-Burton funds, a Ford foundation grant, and individual contributions. Traffic control and parking on the hospital site tomorrow morning will be handled by John G. Crawford, associate chairman of the campaign organization, and Sam Colton and Granvil Brittain, both of the Founder's organization. Leonard Mayfield has arranged for the Medford High school to participate. John Drysdale will direct. Mayfield said a portable platform will be used for participants of the program, and chairs will be available for elderly persons attending ceremonies, Frohnmayer said.

Expanded Highway Program to Start In State in August

Salem — (U.P.) — The new expanded highway program for Oregon for the next two years will cost 103 million dollars and will start next month when the highway commission starts letting contracts. At the next commission meeting on Aug. 16, State Highway Engineer R. H. Baldock said, plans will be reviewed. Since it is not known what funds will be available from the federal government during the 13 years the program is in effect, construction plans have been limited to the next two years. The annual rate of spending is estimated at $51,500,000 as compared with an average of 35 million dollars spent in the past five years.

Building Permits Show Big Increase

Building permits issued in July totaled $355,982, compared with $180,533 for July last year, Oliver R. McNeel, Medford building inspector, announced today. Among permits for July were 18 new homes, $189,450; 17 homes remodeled, $18,535; seven new garages, $2,330; one apartment remodeled, $5,000; three business establishments, $41,000; one institution, $9,000; nine signs, $3,850; two school buildings remodeled, $78,469; and two swimming pools, $8,000. McNeel said there were 66 building permits issued in July totaling $1,027.50 in fees.

Sports Bulletins

Medford Cheney Studs whacked Coos Bay-North Bend 12 to 4 here last night, making it two straight over the Lumberjacks and clinching the Southern Oregon Baseball league series. Medford Pitcher Bob Selsor scattered seven hits and Terry Maddox slammed four safeties in five times up and drove in four runs. The teams meet at 2 p.m. at the fairgrounds park today. Klamath Falls—The Rogue Valley girls were dumped 10-1 last night by Oakridge and took fourth place in the state girls' softball tournament. The RV girls scored their lone run in the third inning when Pat Schroeder, Doris Hixon and Ellen Callahan hit singles.

Portland — (U.P.) — Wally Westlake powered out a three run double in the top of the 10th inning here last night to give the Sacramento Solons an 8-5 Pacific Coast league win over Portland.

Contract Approved For Talent Project

Washington — A repayment contract with water users of the Talent Irrigation district has been approved as to form. Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton said Saturday. The contract is the result of negotiations of bureau of reclamation field officials with officers of the Talent Irrigation district. The contract will be submitted to a vote of water users at a special election Aug. 22.

Repayment Contract The repayment contract calls for the irrigators to return their portion of the costs of construction of dams, canals, and other features of the project. The work is designed to provide a full water supply to 5,310 acres of new land and a supplemental supply to 10,030 acres already under irrigation. The project also will provide the supplemental water supply to approximately 14,000 acres in the Medford and Rogue River Irrigation districts.

In addition to three dams and reservoirs and about 133 miles of canals and laterals, the Talent project will have a 18,000 kilowatt capacity powerplant. The project will have flood control and other benefits, including recreation and fish and wildlife improvement. The contract provides for the district to repay, not to exceed a maximum of $5,810,000 over a period of 60 years, the repayment period specified in the authorizing legislation. If construction costs at the time of completion justify it, the contract amount may be adjusted downward to a minimum of $5,000,000. The downward adjustment will also take into consideration any future repayment contracts with the Medford and Rogue River districts, whereby those districts assume a proportionate share of the reimbursable cost in return for a supplemental water supply.

Estimated Cost The total estimated cost of the Talent project is $19,932,000, of which about $11,300,000 is allocated to irrigation. In addition to paying the cost allocated to power, power revenues are expected to return about $4,700,000 of the irrigation allocation not covered by the proposed repayment contracts with the Talent, Medford, and Rogue River districts. After water user approval and execution of the repayment contract, construction will be initiated on Howard Prairie dam and reservoir, the Green Springs powerplant, collection canals, delivery canals and laterals. Funds appropriated for fiscal year 1957 total $2,400,000 for the project.

Typphoon Kills 83; 300 Are Injured Tokyo — (U.P.) — Typhoon Wanda, the fiercest Pacific storm of the season, killed 83 persons and injured 300 others in the Communist Chinese city of Hangchow near Shanghai, Peiping Radio reported last night. A broadcast, heard in Tokyo said most of the injuries and deaths involved persons trapped in homes which collapsed under the lashing of the typhoon. Hangchow is about 100 miles southwest of the port city of Shanghai. The broadcast said some 20,000 residents of Hangchow were made homeless or otherwise affected by the typhoon. Peiping Radio said it was "one of the worst typhoons to hit China in the last 50 years."

J. Bracken Lee Leads In Utah Convention Salt Lake City, Utah—(U.P.)—Gov. J. Bracken Lee, who is trying to test the constitutionality of foreign aid, Saturday cleared the first hurdle toward an unprecedented third term as governor of Utah. Lee led a four-man field with 348 delegates votes at the Utah Republican nomination convention here to gain a place on the state's Sept. 11 primary election ballot.

Wayne Morse Opens Campaign; Makes Pledges

The Oregon Democratic party's most famous convert, Sen. Wayne Morse, made three basic pledges to a luncheon gathering of about 100 people Saturday in the Medford hotel basement. "I intend to take the issues to the opposition from this opening day of my campaign right through Nov. 6. I won't be a party to a smear campaign. I'm not going to lose my sense of humor in this campaign."

Morse's bombastic campaign talk, which lasted for nearly 90 minutes, was largely directed toward farmers in the audience. "I'm fighting to preserve the greatest protection we have—surplus food," he announced, and added that "Surplus food is the greatest defense of civilization of any people. When the food surplus is at a high peak the civilization prospers. When it reaches a break-even level the civilization goes static. When it drops below that level the civilization becomes decadent."

He cited China as a historic illustration of the validity of his statement. Senator Morse earlier spoke on natural resources. He said he was "waging a fight across the nation—not only in Oregon—to preserve our natural resources."

Following his address the senator answered questions from the audience, among which were: Talent Project 1. Talent Irrigation project—He cited this as one example of his accomplishments in the interest of Oregon. He said it was "lost, stymied, bottled-up and rejected" until he pushed it through for approval. 2. Voting agreements — He said he would never enter into a voting bargain with anyone and said those who do "destroy themselves and sell their states short."

3. Hells Canyon dam— "I think Hells Canyon is lost unless we win later in court action. It is a tragic loss and we in our lifetime will never know how tragic." He denounced opponent, Douglas McKay, for "walking out" on the issue, thus "selling the people of Oregon down the river." Foreign Aid 4. Foreign aid—"I voted in favor of the overall foreign aid program. I fought to increase loans, decrease grants and decrease shipments of military aid to those who can't use it effectively." Robert D. Holmes, Astoria, Democratic candidate for governor, also attended the luncheon and spoke briefly. Others at the head table included Mrs. Morse, Clyde Fichtner, master of ceremonies, social chairman of the Jackson county Democratic organization; Mark McKenzie, congressional committee man; Noreen Kelly, hostess to the Morses; Donna Strauss, congressional committeewoman; and Neva Clark, county vice-chairman. Yesterday morning, Senator Morse discussed with members of the Independent Service Station operators several problems, including payment of taxes on gasoline which is lost through evaporation, and cut-rate signs and free prizes offered as inducements by some service stations to their customers. At the Labor Temple later he talked for an hour and 15 minutes to union members and others. Morse defended his switch from the Republican to the Democratic party. He said that he was the "number one target" of the administration because he "promised in 1944 and again in '50 that if you sent me to the senate I would act as a free man" and vote on the "merits of the issues."

Morse said that he entered the Democratic party only when the "rank and file Democrats of this state made perfectly clear to me that they wanted me to come in." Social security was a major issue in the senator's speech. He described his and Senator Richard Neuberger's efforts to reduce the age eligibility limit

Girl Contracts Polio Travelling in State

Patricia D. Clark, 23, of Merrifield, Va., contracted bulbar polio on a trip through Southern Oregon yesterday and was flown by Mercy Flights to Sacred Heart hospital in Eugene. The girl was traveling alone. The case was diagnosed by Dr. V. E. Mikkelsen, Grants Pass, in Grants Pass. The patient was brought to Medford between 8 and 9:30 p.m. by car. A Mercy Flights plane arrived with her and Dr. Mikkelsen who also made the trip to Eugene at 10:15 p.m. Miss Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Clark, are motoring somewhere in Nevada and could not be contacted.

SUEZ CONFERENCE SET

FRENCH READY MEDITERRANEAN FLEET—The Mediterranean squadron of the French fleet, shown here at Toulon, France only in part, is assembling at this base under orders to prepare for movement to unannounced destination. Move is one of many being made by France in case the Suez Canal crisis heightens.

Half of Invited Nations Indicate They Will Attend

Egypt, Russia Fail To Answer Saturday

London — (U.P.) — More than half the 24 invited nations indicated last night they would attend the Aug. 16 conference to internationalize the Suez canal. But Egypt still had not replied and Britain, anticipating a refusal, prepared to fight if necessary. Egyptian president Gamal Abdel Nasser's answer to the western-sponsored invitation was reported imminent. It was expected to be "no."

Russia and India, also among the invited nations, would probably follow Cairo's lead. Mideast Waterway Official sources said the conference would go on without Egypt or Russia and secure the endorsement of the world's major shipping countries to internationalize the vital mideast waterway. The war office announced that normal demobilization of troops already scheduled for discharge would be "considerably delayed" in view of the "precautionary measure now being taken."

Some 15 of the invited nations had officially accepted or indicated acceptance by last night. They included Britain, France, United States, Italy, Spain, Turkey, Australia, Ceylon, Denmark, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, Portugal and Sweden. Silent on Issue Both Cairo and Moscow were silent throughout Saturday on the vital "yes" or "no" to the western powers' call for a conference on internationalizing the canal.

But Egyptian and Russian broadcasts and newspapers spilled out a torrent of words claiming that the canal was Egyptian and would remain so. The Egyptians and Russians were in close consultation. President Nasser conferred in Cairo with Soviet Ambassador Evgeny Kisselov for the second time in less than 18 hours.

Jacksonville Native Son Dies Saturday George Harry Luy, 80, of 116 South Newton st., died Saturday morning in a Medford hospital. He had undergone surgery a week ago. Mr. Luy, the son of Fred and Frances Luy, German colonists, came from Missouri to California before the discovery of gold and moved to Jacksonville in 1852. He lived in Jacksonville until moving to Medford in 1922. In 1955 he was introduced at the Gold Rush Jubilee as the oldest living native son of Jacksonville. He is survived by his wife, the former Isa Cook; one sister, Mrs. Nellie Kelley, Oakland, Calif.; a son, Paul Luy, Bremerton, Wash.; a daughter, Mrs. Lyle Penny Oxnard, Calif.; three grandchildren and seven nieces and nephews. Two of them, Fred and Lawrence Luy, live in Medford. Mr. Luy was married in Jacksonville Oct. 28, 190, and the couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary less than three years ago. Luy's son and daughter have been in Medford for the past week. Perl Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

MARINE GETS SENTENCE

Former Major General Returns to Germany; Considering Service

Henry Warrelmann, 52, a Medford carpenter who served as major general in the German Army during World War II, left yesterday for his home country where he may enter the West German army. Warrelmann and his wife have lived in Medford for the past year and a half. The couple has a married daughter living in San Francisco and two sons, both in the U. S. Army corps of engineers. One is stationed in the states and one in West Germany. During World War II, Warrelmann served in the Afrika corps under Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, the famed "Desert Fox." Later he fought in the Russian campaign and was finally captured on the western front and placed in a British concentration camp. Family to U. S. After the war he brought his family to the United States. They lived for a time with relatives in Grants Pass, then moved to Oakland, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Warrelmann have resided at their Medford home for the past one and a half years. Warrelmann said Friday that many of his friends in Germany have written asking him to come back. He said, "I will have to go there and see how things are now."

He must take several examinations and tests before he will know if he can go into the West German service, and does not know what rank he would be if he did. Mrs. Warrelmann, he said, would follow him to Germany if he decides to join. To Visit Son On his trip to his native country, the 52-year-old ar veteran will fly to New York and visit his oldest son who is stationed in Maryland. In Germany, he will go first to the town of Bremen where his mother, now 83, is living. Later he will see his youngest son there. Warrelmann said joining the army would be an "awful hard decision" as he likes Medford and his "children are here" (in this country). He believes it would be another eight or 10 years until he could retire if he goes into the West German service.

Reds Admit Troops In Disputed Area Rangoon, Burma — (U.P.) — Communist China admitted Saturday it had troops in a disputed area along the Sino-Burmese border. But it said this did not constitute an "invasion" of Burma. A Peiping radio broadcast said that the Red troops were there to preserve border peace. It said any other reported reasons for the occupation were part of a "plot to undermine Sino-Burmese relations."

The neutralist Burmese government also was faced with forays in border areas by Chinese Nationalist stragglers who holed up in the remote border country after the Communist sweep of China in 1949-50. The tall, lanky sergeant from Worcester, Mass., took the sentence standing at attention before the court box with his chief attorney, Emile Zola Berman of New York. Col. Hutchinson's voice was slow with deep tones almost melancholy as he read the sentence from a sheet in front of him. McKeon had led recruit Platoon 71 on a march into the ebbing tide and gummy muck of Ribbon Creek around 8:30 p.m. last April 8. He said he was teaching a laggard outfit discipline. The prosecution had contended it was punishment, a reprisal against a spiritless group of recruits at whom the junior drill instructor had been angry.

Man Arrested for Westcott Killing

Kingman, Ariz. — (U.P.) — A 20-year-old Mexican national and former convict confessed Saturday to the murder of wealthy publicist William C. Westcott Jr., in a swank Hollywood hillside apartment Friday. Rodrigo Jose Castro, arrested Friday by Mohave county police told Hollywood detectives that he shot and beat Westcott, 32-year-old publicity man for the Greek theater in Los Angeles. Detectives said the confession came after six hours of questioning. They said Castro told them he had been released from the Montana State Prison last July 2 after serving two years for burglary.

Portland Records 28th Traffic Death

Portland — (U.P.) — Portland recorded its 28th traffic fatality of the year Saturday when a two-car crash resulted in the death of a 51-year-old man. Police reported that Charles Arthur Morris was driving erratically on the wrong side of the road when his car crashed into an express truck. Southbound, Morris had crossed to the extreme left lane of the four-lane highway when the accident occurred.

Supersonic Jet Bomber Set to Run Off Line

Washington — (U.P.) — The Air Force will roll its B-58 supersonic jet bomber—probably the world's fastest—off the production line this month but apparently without press coverage. As of Saturday, it was learned there are no plans for the press to be on hand for the event at Fort Worth, Tex.

Medford Firemen Take Job Of Finding Blood Donors

The men of the Medford fire department have taken on the responsibility of finding "walking donors" of blood for the American Red Cross donor program in Jackson county. Residents of the county always use more blood than is collected during visits of the bloodmobile, according to Red Cross officials. When the supply becomes short, it is necessary to contact "walking donors," those who can be called upon to go to a hospital at any hour of the day or night and give blood. From 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on week days the calls are handled by the Red Cross office in the court house. But after office hours and on week ends and holidays the firemen take over the calling of the emergency donors. Firemen said that several times those registered as emergency donors are past the age limit or have moved when it comes time to give blood. They have requested that persons notify the department if over age or if they have changed address so the lists can be kept up to date. The Red Cross said that during the month of June, 220 pints of blood were used in Jackson county. The bloodmobile will visit Medford Wednesday, Aug. 8. Appointments may be made at the Red Cross office.
