The Illinois Valley Chamber of Commerce will handle advance publicity and the dance and queen contest will be conducted by the Cave Junction American Legion. The "Dugout," a cold drink concession, will be operated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, according to present plans of the central committee.

All concessions will be handled by Illinois Valley Rural Fire Protection district. Veterans of World War I, Cave Junction barracks No. 146, will operate other refreshment concessions during the three-day celebration. The Eagles of Kirby will have charge of the jubilee's log show while the local Democratic club will supervise children's games, contests, and an amateur show at the Legion hall Sunday afternoon, September 2.

According to present plans, VFW and the F.O.E. auxiliary will operate a food and soft drink concession. Other activities, such as games and contests have been assigned to the American Legion auxiliary.

There will be square dancing September 1 and 2 under sponsorship of the Shamrock club and baseball games are scheduled by the Cave Junction Outlaws. The street parade will be staged by the Illinois Valley Lions club this year. Space for the three-day celebration has been provided across from the Legion hall. Persons interested in taking part in the parade or various contests may contact Don Adams, general chairman. Senator Wayne L. Morse will be the principal speaker at the Josephine County fair on "Democrat Day" Friday, Aug. 10, at the fairgrounds in Grants Pass. The Pacific Greyhound bus station at Cave Junction has been moved to the Valley Drug across from the former bus depot.

A coffer dam has been constructed in the bed of the east fork of the Illinois river at Cave Junction to dry the site for the fourth and last main pier to support the concrete bridge being erected on Highway 199. A similar bridge to cross the west fork of the Illinois is also under construction three miles south of the city.
