

Ted Williams Fined $5,000 for Spitting

Brooklyn — (U.P.) — The Brooklyn Dodgers were amazed today over the size of the $5,000 fine meted out against Ted Williams for his spitting incidents in Boston.

"That's amazing," said Jackie Robinson. "That's a lot of money. We're wondering if he'll pay it."

"I wouldn't be surprised if the league took some action, too," said Gil Hodges. "They've got to protect baseball."

"You have to know the whole story before you draw any conclusions," said Duke Snider, who occasionally has been involved in incidents with fans himself.

Boston — (U.P.) — Ted Williams, so angry over a record-equalling $5,000 fine for misconduct that he threatened to repeat his spitting gestures again, declared today "I'm not a damn bit sorry for what I did."

General Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox fined him the $5,000 Tuesday for two spitting incidents in a tight 11-inning game with the New York Yankees in which Williams sent over the winning run by drawing a bases-loaded walk. Then to complete his defiance of the fans and the Boston sports writers with whom he has feuded persistently, he threw his bat 25 feet into the air before going down to first base.

California Girl Nabs Skeet Toga

Reno, Nev. — (U.P.) — An 18-year old California girl defeated the nation's top woman shooter Tuesday to score the second major upset in as many days in the National Skeet Tournament.

Dark-haired Judy Allen of Oakland scored 97x100 in the regular .28 gauge competition to tie Mrs. Carola Mandel of Chicago, who holds most of the country's woman's skeet shooting records.

A two-field, 50-target shoot-off had to be held to determine the winner.

In the first field, both fired 24x25, but Miss Allen scored 25 in the second as Mrs. Mandel dropped two targets.

Chet Crites of Detroit, president of the National Skeet Shooting association, defeated Jaime Loyola of San Juan, Puerto Rico, in a shoot-off for the .28 gauge championship.

"I'd spit again on the same people who booed me," he said in his hotel suite after figuring out Tuesday night that the $5,000 fine would cost him approximately one-eighth of his take home pay on a $100,000 salary.

"I wouldn't be at the ball park tomorrow if I could afford $5,000 fines," he said.

The fine equaled the heaviest ever assessed against a ball player. Babe Ruth was fined $5,000 in 1925 by Yankee Manager Miller Huggins for "misconduct off the field."

Changed His Tune

Williams was quoted earlier by Cronin as saying "I was sorry the minute I did it—I can't explain the reason for it."

But he had changed his tune when he reached his hotel.

His anger reached a peak in the game when a few of the fans in the record-breaking crowd of 36,304 booed him for dropping Mickey Mantle's wind-tossed fly ball in the Yankee half of the 11th for a two-base error.

The majority of the fans were on their feet applauding him for his splendid catch against the left-field wall of Yogi Berra's towering clout minutes later.

But the temperamental veteran, who had got away without any official reprimand the previous occasions, apparently chose to hear only the boos and let go with a distinct spit at the stunned onlookers as he approached the Red Sox dugout.

Then, evidently to insure that his intentions were not to be mistaken, Williams spit once more and followed with a menacing gesture from the enclosure though only his hand and forearm were visible above the roof.

SLAM-BANG SCRAP

Chicago — (U.P.) — A slam-bang lightweight scrap, probably ending short of its scheduled 10 rounds, was promised today by L. C. Morgan and Toothpick Brown, who scrap for television in the Chicago stadium tonight.

Both scrappers possess knockout ability. Morgan, beaten twice in 16 pro outings, has finished nine opponents in his 14 wins, while Brown, with 23 wins in 28 fights, has scored 13 knockouts.

The U.S. Army officially defines the salute as a formal mark of honor, respect or courtesy to a person of a higher rank, to a flag, or to a high official. Saluting distance is prescribed at between six and 30 paces.

Sacs Tip Suds Again; Luis' Night Spoiled As SF Licks Beavers

By JOHN McDONALD
United Press Sports Writer

The Seattle Rainiers had their backs to the wall today and the wall showed signs of crumbling as the Los Angeles Angels charged away toward the Pacific Coast League pennant.

The Rainiers, blessed with the loop's best pitching, couldn't get any runs for Bud Podbielan last night and the up-and-down Sacramento Solons made it four in a row against the Rainiers 8½ games from the top.

And with ace Larry Jansen, who went up to the Cincinnati Redlegs, out of the picture, it will take an over-powering stretch drive to catch the Angels now.

Sweeney Rounds Out Star Squad

Portland — (U.P.) — Bill Sweeney, manager of the North team in the Pacific Coast League's all-star game here next Monday night, completed selection of his 18-man squad today.

Fans in this area chose 10 players, but Sweeney picked nine as Elmer Singleton, Seattle pitcher, came up with a shoulder injury. Sweeney named Howie Judson, another Rainier righthander, to replace him.

Others picked by Sweeney included Harry Bright of Sacramento and Kal Segrist of Vancouver, infielders; Art Schult, Seattle, and Tommy Saffell, Portland, outfielders; Ray Orteig, Seattle, catcher, and Rene Valdes, Portland; Reinold Duren, Vancouver; and Bud Podbielan, Seattle, pitchers.

Players selected by the fans included Gene Bearden, Sacramento, pitcher; Ron Jackson, Vancouver, first base; Johnny Jorgensen, Vancouver, second base; Jack Littrell, Portland, shortstop; George Risley, Sacramento, third base, and Luis Marquez, Portland; Bobby Balceña, Seattle, and Jim Pisoni, Vancouver, outfielders.

May Indictments Back in Courts

Portland — (U.P.) — Grand jury indictments of last May charging illegal wire tapping, nearly forgotten in the wake of grand jury indictments returned last week, were back in the Multnomah county court yesterday.

James B. Elkins, the subject of 13 of last week's grand jury indictments, was named in one of the May grand jury reports. The raid, staged by county police, was later ruled illegal.

The grand jury which preceded the panel which conducted the full blown vice probe under the direction of Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton, charged Elkins and his employee, Raymond F. Clark, with wire tapping after a series of alleged wire tap recordings were confiscated in the raid on a duplex in southeast Portland.

Also taken in the raid were a number of slot machines. Clark and Sunny Martin were indicted on charges of illegal possession of the machines.

Judge Frank J. Lonergan gave the three defendants until next Tuesday to enter pleas to the charges.

Automatic Retirement of Prison Warden Waived

Salem — (U.P.) — The board of control has waived the automatic retirement of Warden Clarence Gladden, 62. By their action the board made it possible for the warden to remain in command of Oregon State prison until he is 71.

Gladden came to Oregon to put the riot-torn institution on an even keel three years ago after his retirement from the federal prison system.

World Bachelor No. 1 May Soon Lose Title

Amsterdam, Holland — (U.P.) — Ger Greyn, 41, known as "World Bachelor No. 1," may lose his title some time this year, it was reported Tuesday.

Friends said that Greyn, organizer of four meetings of the "World Bachelor Congress," plans to marry 36-year-old Miss Mia Beuders. No date for the wedding has been set, they said.

setbacks when the Angels broke a 3-3 deadlock with a run in the eighth and then shelled Hollywood starter Luis Arroyo from the hill with three in the ninth. Bilko Hits Angel right fielder Jim Bolger drove in four runs and big Steve Bilko snapped a batting slump with three singles in five trips. The Stars' Gene Freeze bombed in the fifth.

San Francisco spoiled "Luis Marquez night" at Portland as they led all the way and pounded a trio of Beaver pitchers. Max Surkont effectively scattered eight hits and contributed a three-run homer to get the Seals off to a lead in the second. Surkont (4-5) struck out eight.

Marquez packed off a wagon load of loot as the Beaver fans gave him a night, and got a pair of singles and scored one of the Beavers three runs.

Arnie Atkins became San Diego's first 10 game winner. He set Vancouver down on three hits as the Pads copped the nightcap of their doubleheader. Wildness cost him a shutout when he walked two in the fourth inning and gave up a single to Kal Segrist which scored the Mounties' only run.

Ron Jackson belted a bases-loaded single for the Mounties in the first frame of the seven-inning opener to score two runs as Bamberger shut out the Padres.
