

Phillips Posts Win For Braves; Spread Closed by Dodgers

By CARL LUNDOQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

Taylor Phillips and Bob Trowbridge, whose names are as strange to the pennant race as if they had just stepped out of a space ship, were keeping the Milwaukee Braves in first place today at a time when their veteran heroes were faltering.

Phillips, a 23-year-old who shed his GI khaki for a baseball uniform this season, pitched a three-hitter in his first major league start Thursday night to beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-1. It was vital that he did because the Cardinals won the second game, 5-1, by belaboring Gene Conley. The previous night it was young Trowbridge who came to the rescue by beating the Cards with a six-hitter after which Lew (Bert) Burdette, another trusty veteran, also suffered a defeat.

The victory was extra sweet for Phillips because he was a private in the same company where Cardinal pitcher Vinegar Bend Mizell was his sergeant and "Well, we weren't exactly buddies." He would have preferred beating Mizell instead of Murry Dickson, but was happy to settle for his performance wherein he struck out six Redbirds.

Stan Musial banged home three runs to give Tom Poholsky an eight-hit second game triumph.

Dodgers Blast Pirates

The Dodgers moved within a game and a half of the top by defeating Pittsburgh 7-3 on a 13-hit job in which they also made use of three Pirate errors. Junior Gilliam made four hits, two of them doubles, Carl Erskine failed in quest of his ninth straight triumph but reliever Ed Roebuck gained it instead.

Cincinnati chugged to within two games of the top by defeating the Cubs, 5-3, in 10 innings on Gus Bell's 22nd homer and his third in four games. Ted Kluszewski tied it up at 3-3 with his 27th homer with a man on in the eighth. Brooks Lawrence won his 16th game in a relief role.

The Giants ended the six-game Philadelphia winning streak with a 3-2 victory in which Jackie Brandt propelled two homers. Willie Mays and Bill White also homered for the Giants. Andy Seminick hit a two-run homer for the Phils.

Mickey Mantle went 1-1 games ahead of Babe Ruth's home run pace with his 39th homer in a 15-7 Yankee triumph at Washington in which Hank Bauer banged four hits and Billy Martin, Bill Skowron and Andy Carey had three each.

Boxer Now Second

The Red Sox took over second place with a 3-1 triumph over the Orioles in which Frank Sullivan pitched a six-hitter and Jimmy Piersall delivered the marginal runs with a two-run single. Ted Williams got two hits and was well behaved all the way.

Sherman Lollar again sparked the White Sox by driving in two runs and scoring a pair himself in a 9-2 triumph over Cleveland that dropped the Indians to third place.

Kansas City, given a lift on Gus Zernial's three run first inning homer, went on to defeat

Detroit, 5-3 and end a six-game losing streak as Art Ditmar hurled 6 1/3 scoreless relief innings for the triumph.

Baseball School Contests Held

Three boys won baseballs and six gained trophies yesterday in sliding and throwing contests at Medford public school baseball classes.

Tim Darland and David Westfall tied for top place in sand-blower sliding and Tim Cox won the throw for accuracy among about 60 nine and 10-year-olds to get baseballs. Bob Quinney was top slider among some 50 pee wees and Dick Deffly won the throw among the 11-12 year-old competitors.

Bob Pond took the intermediate slide and Mike Parsons the throw in the 13-14 class. In the 15-year-old or cub class George Ice claimed the slide trophy and Otto Wirth the throwing award. There were about 25 intermediates and cubs contending.

Baseball school ended today after seven weeks of sessions. Registration for the school was 321 boys and attendance has averaged a little over 200 youths per day.

Camp White Eyes Upset

Camp White's baseball team will be out to upset the dope Sunday in the Rogue Valley League.

The Whitters travel to Glendale to meet the loop leaders. They can't knock the Douglas country club out of the leadership but they'll be after a win to keep in the running for post season play-offs. One more setback will put the Whitters out of contention.

Two other RVL tussles are on the Sunday docket. Cave Junction in a trip to Butte Falls will seek to regain its second place tie with Grants Pass. Ashland goes to Eagle Point for the other game.

The Cheney Colts and Grants Pass met on Wednesday and will be idle on Sunday. Colts will tangle with the parent club Medford Cheney Studs Tuesday evening at the fairgrounds here.

Richardson, Rosewall Foes in Eastern Tennis

South Orange, N.J.—(U.P.)—A duel between Ham Richardson and Australia's polished Ken Rosewall highlighted quarter-finals play in the Eastern Grass Court championships today where four Americans and four foreigners were fighting it out for the title.

The Richardson-Rosewall match was rated strictly a toss-up but there was a distinct favorite in each of the other pairings.

Veteran Vic Seixas of Philadelphia was rated to win without pressure from elderster Sid Schwartz of Brooklyn. Neale Fraser of Australia was favored over Paul Remy of France, and Ashley Cooper of Australia drew a solid nod over unseeded Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., in other round-of-eight matches.

Chicago—(U.P.)—The College All-Stars will match speed and youth against size and experience in the 23rd annual All-Star game tonight, but the odds-makers figured the National Football league champion Cleveland Browns a 12-point choice to win.

The pro club has won 13 times in the affair, while the collegiates have won seven times with two ties. But the Browns were defeated a year ago, 40-27, and the Paul Brown eleven only twice has lost two games in a row to the same team.

No Easy Road

Hence, head Coach Curly Lambeau of the All-Stars wasn't looking for an easy road to triumph tonight. "Brown will throw everything he can against us," Lambeau said, "and we're going to be ready for anything."

Lambeau selected Earl Morrall of Michigan State as his starting quarterback, along with halfbacks Howard Cassidy, Ohio State, and Don McIlhenny, Southern Methodist, and fullback Don Schater, Notre Dame.

Lambeau's backs will have plenty of speed, but not much size.

The Stars, as usual, will have more weight in the line but still will be outweighed by the gigantic Browns' forwards.

Bo Winger Heads Tam

Chicago—(U.P.)—A prematurely grey Texan and four-time winner of the Missouri Valley conference collegiate golf championship, led the field today as the Tam O'Shanter "World" Open, worth a cool $50,000 to the winner, moved into its second day.

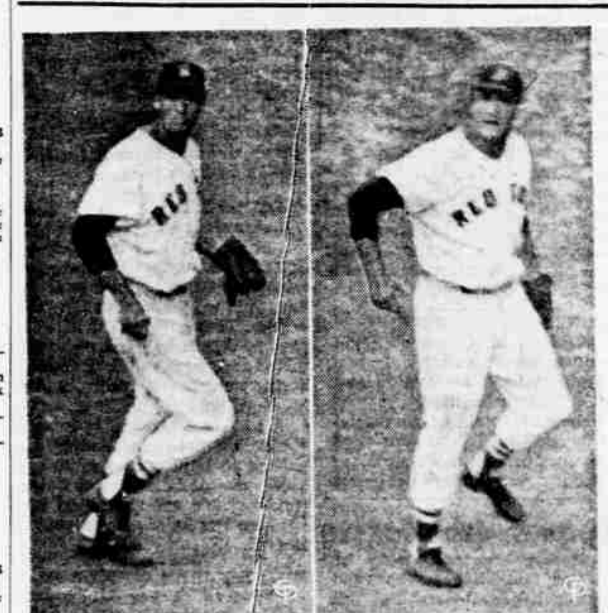

Bo Winger of Odessa, said "everything just clicked right for me" as he marked up a seven under par 65, just two strokes away from Lloyd Mangrum's professional course record of 63 set in 1948.

Winger's display obscured the admirable showing turned in by Cary Middlecoff and Ernie Ball.

"I shot a 68 in a qualifying tourney here about three years back," said Ball, "but I think this 66 was my best round ever."

Middlecoff, a Dallas, Tex., dentist who is currently the PGA's second highest money-winner, also knocked off a 66.

U.S. Will Have Strong Nat Team in Olympics

Detroit—(U.P.)—Dan Ferris of the U.S. Amateur Athletic union, always a remarkably accurate Olympic prophet, warned Australia and Japan today that the U.S. Olympic swim and diving team, whose selection will be completed today, is a wonderful team.

"This is a wonderful team," he said today as the big field prepared for the final events—men's 10-meter platform diving, women's platform diving, women's 100-meter backstroke, men's 150-meter freestyle, women's 100-meter butterfly, women's 400-meter freestyle and men's 200-meter freestyle, which will name the men's relay team.

Portland Girl Swim Qualifier

Detroit—(U.P.)—Maureen Murphy of Portland, Ore., won a place in tonight's final 100-meter backstroke race in the Olympic trials here by winning her heat in 1:16, fourth best qualifying time of the day.

Clevelanders Picked Over Star Eleven

Chicago—(U.P.)—The College All-Stars will match speed and youth against size and experience in the 23rd annual All-Star game tonight, but the odds-makers figured the National Football league champion Cleveland Browns a 12-point choice to win.

The pro club has won 13 times in the affair, while the collegiates have won seven times with two ties. But the Browns were defeated a year ago, 40-27, and the Paul Brown eleven only twice has lost two games in a row to the same team.

Death Takes Ab Jenkins, Racing Vet

Milwaukee, Wis.—(U.P.)—Ab Jenkins, 73, Salt Lake City, Utah, one of America's veteran race drivers, suffered a heart attack and died Thursday night.

Jenkins, who was returning to his hotel room after watching the Braves-Cardinals doubleheader at County stadium when the attack occurred, was to drive the pace car in the Elkhart Lake, Wis., international stock car races Saturday and Sunday.

The veteran race driver was being driven to his Astor Hotel room by his host for the weekend, George E. Bourke, a Milwaukee auto executive, when he collapsed.

Bourke drove to a nearby filling station and called a police ambulance. Jenkins was pronounced dead on entry at County Emergency hospital.

Jenkins was a holder of many land speed records for 100-mile distances or longer and he was a former mayor of Salt Lake City.

Links Won't Be Toughened For Southern Oregon Golf

No attempt is being made to toughen the Rogue Valley Country club links for the annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament.

Most of the University of Oregon golf team membership is expected to be on hand. Already signed up from the Webfoot score are Bob Prall, Salem, Art Abrahamson, Everett, Wash., and Bob Norquist, Portland. Justin Smith Jr., Medford, is expected to join this group.

Sue DeVoe Signs

Among the latest to sign up are Sue DeVoe, Medford, 1954 southern Oregon champ and former Oregon junior titleist, and Susan Rafferty, standout young player at Astoria. Earlier entries were Elaine Porritt and Shirley Siegmund, Eugene, both of whom are expected to figure prominently in future Oregon amateur play. Miss Siegmund was women's medalist for the 1955 Southern Oregon.

Now entered among the more experienced players are Jim Sheldon and Alan Holmes, both of whom are under the Rogue Valley banner for the first time in the Labor day holiday tourney. Sheldon has played in SO's before with Salem as his home club. Holmes came here last fall after previous residence at South Bend, Ind.

A couple of other RVCC contenders who have filled out their entries are Eddie Simmons, six times champion in the classic and Oregon amateur champ in 1954, and Harry Millette, whose home is at Yreka, Calif.

The list of women now includes a Utah participant, Mrs. Marge Filis, Salt Lake City. Lee Jarvis, now of Portland, is a former RVCC player expected to be on hand. Name of Tony Milosevich, Coos Bay, is a familiar one among latest entrants.
