 In Newport News, Va., the greatest shipbuilding city in the United States, there is a monument bearing a bronze plate on which is inscribed the following: "We shall build good ships here, at a profit if we can; at a loss if we must, but always good ships."
Perfect Husband
 What is a perfect husband? Diana Dors, the conscientiously dynamic British blonde speaking of her spouse, Denis Hamilton, said, "There is one perfect husband and I've got him. In wooing days he sent me flowers, brought surprise presents, took terrific interest in my clothes, flattered me when I felt low, was comfortable but never dull, masterful but never boring — and he still is."
Difficult Task
 It is possible to win as much as $200,000 tax free, in a British Football pool for an investment of a couple of shillings. However, it is not easily accomplished. You have to predict the exact scores of three football games. To get an idea of the difficulty of this, you select three major league baseball games to be played tomorrow and try to predict the exact scores of same.
Please Note
 Is your wife a clever knitter? How long does it take her to knit a pair of socks for you? There is a home knitting machine with which a pair of socks can be knitted in 35 minutes. This remarkable gadget knits 5,000 stitches a minute!
Among The Married
 How much more expensive are the clothes of a wife than those of her husband? You can get an idea from the prices at Lanvin's in Paris, which establishment makes clothes for both sexes. At Lanvin's a suit for a man costs the equivalent of $170. A dress for a woman costs $560! O. O. McIntyre was a Lanvin customer at one time. So was Mrs. McIntyre.
Asking
 Queries from clients. Q. Who was Bonnie Glass? A. She was a beautiful and talented ballroom dancer who was teamed with Al Davis. That was in the days of such great ballroom dance teams as Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle, Maurice and Florence Walton, Mae Murray and Clifton Webb, Lew Quinn and Joan Sawyer and Carl Hyson and Dorothy Dickson. Q. What is the average value of a Stradivarius violin? A. Don't know the "average." However, Yehudi Menuhin has two such violins, each of which is valued at $60,000. Q. Should you say "an observant man"? Or "an observant man"? A. Observant

Ed Sullivan To See Show From Hospital
 Derby, Conn.—(U.P.)—Ed Sullivan, the victim of an automobile crash, will watch his Sunday night television show from his hospital room because of a lingering case of bronchitis.
 The 53-year-old TV star and newspaper columnist was to leave Griffin hospital Saturday. But physicians said he would remain hospitalized until next week to insure faster and complete recovery from a bronchial condition which he had before the accident.
 Dr. Edward Harvey Jr. had feared that chest injuries Sullivan suffered at Seymour, Conn., Monday might develop into pneumonia.

Traffic Certificates Awarded to Portland
 Portland — (U.P.) — Portland rated three traffic achievement certificates yesterday, but they were presented with a reserved "well done."
 The National Safety Council official who made the awards said his reservation was based not on criticism but on what more might be done.
 John C. Hall, district representative, presented the awards to Mayor Fred L. Peterson at a city council session. They were for safety organization, safety education and accident record system.
 Olympia — (U.P.) — About 200 persons are expected to attend the 31st annual Northwest Rivers and Harbors Congress here today.

Norblad Appointed To Subcommittee
 Salem — (U.P.) — Rep. Walter Norblad (R-Ore.) today received notice of his appointment to a sub-committee of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee to improve small boat safety.
 Notice came from Rep. Herbert Bonner (D-N.C.) chairman of the committee.
 Norblad had suggested to the Coast Guard and Merchant Marine committee that studies of small boat safety be made after a series of tragic drownings near Astoria during last year's lower Columbia river fish derbies.

 Norblad said the subcommittee will visit a number of West Coast ports, starting with hearings at Astoria Aug. 30. Subsequent hearings will be at Tacoma and Seattle, Wash., and California ports.
 The full committee is currently taking testimony in Washington, D.C.

Great Lovers
 Are bald-headed men much greater lovers than those who have plenty of hair? The claim that such is the case is frequently made. Research indicates there is nothing to said claim. It was first made over 2,000 years ago by Hippocrates, the so-called "Father of Medicine." Hippocrates was bald. In advancing the claim, he was just probably trying to promote his interests with some of the local blondes. According to the horses and women experts females are strongly attracted to

DATE TECHNIQUE
 Grand Rapids, Mich. — (U.P.) — While two youths tried to get dates with two girls, their accomplice stole $11 from the girls' unguarded apartment, police reported.

Over There
 Among the extremely popular European resorts at which the cost of living is low is the Ile du Levant off the coast of southern France. It has some excellent hotels at which the rates are the equivalent of $5.60 a day, American plan. There is no clothes problem for those who vacation on this beautiful island. It is a nudist colony.
