R. L. VANSICKLE
Seeks Ward III Post

Jack Fitzgerald, Robert McIntyre To Be Candidates

Two Races on Tap For City Council

Jack Fitzgerald, Medford councilman from ward IV, late Friday filed for reelection in the Nov. 6 election, and Robert E. McIntyre, 35, of 400 Barnes ave., announced his candidacy for councilman from ward I.

Fitzgerald, who has served one four-year term on the council, is the only candidate thus far for councilman from ward IV. Deadline for filing petitions with the city recorder is Aug. 31.

McIntyre's announced candidacy creates the second contest for council positions. He will face Frank Jackson (Ed) Hall, 712 East Jackson st., who filed his candidacy earlier.

John Snider, present councilman from ward I, has filed his candidacy for mayor.

The only other race thus far in the council race is between Mrs. Marina S. Gates, 729 West Fourth st., and R. L. VanSickle, 53 Myers court, for the ward III council position. Harold Frye, present councilman from that ward, has announced he will not seek reelection after 16 years in the post.

McIntyre was born in Long Beach, Calif., and has been a resident of Medford since 1947. This is the first time McIntyre has sought a public office.

He is a partner with his father, Claude E. McIntyre, in the Rogue Valley Land company, Medford realtors. He attended high school and college in California and was in the Army between 1942 and 1945. He is now a major in the Air Force reserve in which he is group inspector for the 9091st AFB group which includes units from Eugene south.

Also seeking a council position is Anthony R. (Tony) Manno, 646 South Holly st., for councilman from ward II.

Widespread Support For Talent Project Voiced at Meeting

Widespread support for the Talent project was voiced Friday evening in Talent, following a meeting of landowners of the Talent Irrigation district to discuss the proposed repayment contract for part of the project's irrigation costs.

Walt Hoffbuhr, manager of the district, said about 35 landowners of the district attended. A total of 436 will be eligible to vote in an election Aug. 22 on approval of the contract. He said the relatively small turnout is apparently an indication that the others are informed on the proposal, and presumably favor it.

Little opposition to the contract has been noted, particularly among those who are informed about its provisions, he said.

The evening was spent in discussing a number of phases of the project, particularly the contract, which was read page by page and explained by representatives of the bureau of reclamation and officers of the TID.

Two questions in particular

seemed to be bothering many of the landowners before Friday's meeting, Hoffbuhr reported. One was the per acre cost of the project, and the other was the amount of irrigated land in the district, now and after the project is completed.

Some landowners, Hoffbuhr said, were under the incorrect impression that annual construction costs would be charged at the rate of 6.50 per acre per year to landowners. But it was explained that the present per-acre charge of $10.75 would be changed little if any. The present cost includes $8.50 for operation and maintenance and $2 for bond redemption. Under terms of the contract, the operation and maintenance charges will be reduced, because of improvements in the system, to about $4.50, the bonded debt will be liquidated under the same program, and the per acre per year fee will remain approximately $10.75.

He also explained that there are now about 10,000 acres of irrigated land in the district. This will receive supplemental water when the project is completed, and in addition some 5,000 acres of land will be brought under irrigation for the first time, for a total of about 15,000 acres which will be benefited. He said some people were under the impression that 15,000 acres would be added, rather than 5,000.

Total Cost $20,000,000

It was pointed out Friday that the total cost of the project will be some 20,000,000, of which about $12,000,000 will be allocated to irrigation charges. But only some $5,800,000 of that will have to be paid back through the repayment contract. The balance will come from power revenues, or will be paid for by the federal government as non-reimbursable costs, such as flood control and recreation.

The contract provides maximum of 60 years for repayment, but within that maximum the payback period can be adjusted, Hoffbuhr explained. It is now estimated at 54 years, but a variable repayment plan is available, at the discretion of the board of directors, so that repayment assessments can be adjusted downward in bad years, or upward in good years.

The Aug. 22 election will be held at the Talent Irrigation district office in Talent between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Those eligible, under Oregon law, are those who own four or more acres of land within the district and who meet other voting requirements.

Hoffbuhr said all eligible landowners will be contacted by telephone prior to the election to remind them of their right to vote.

Nehru Works Out 'Definite Formula' For Suez Dispute

Plan Said To Call For Expansion of Pact

London — (U.P.) — Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru has worked out a "definite formula" for settlement of the Suez canal dispute which will be preserved to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser in advance of the London Aug. 16 conference, New Delhi sources have reported.

The reported Nehru plan presented the day's only ray of hope in the dispute whose increasing urgency was reflected in President Eisenhower's call for a Sunday morning conference with congressional leaders, a delay in a scheduled announcement in Cairo by Nasser and a Greek rejection of the Western Powers' invitation to the London meeting.

Expansion of Agreement
 The Nehru plan was understood to call for an expansion of the 1888 international agreement providing for unlimited passage of vessels through the Suez canal in war or peace.

Meanwhile, the issues of the dispute over Egypt's nationalization of the vital waterway hardened along traditional cold war lines, with the addition of renewed expressions of solidarity among the Arab nations supporting Egypt.

Yugoslavia's President Tito protected the exclusion of Yugoslavia from the London meeting, as a nation heavily dependent on use of the canal. Hungary protested similarly, as a part of the old Austro-Hungarian empire which was an original signer of the 1888 convention.

But the West indicated the conference would go ahead on schedule, regardless of rejections or objections.

Shepilov Asks Visa
 Soon after, reports from Moscow said that Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov had applied for a British visa.

But Greece, one of world's largest maritime powers using the Suez canal, made a surprise announcement in Athens that it would not attend. This was the first formal withdrawal of the Western Big Three invitation for 24 nations to take part in the parity, beginning Aug. 16, to consider internationalizing the Suez. The Greek rejection obviously stemmed from its bitter dispute with Britain over Cyprus.

These diplomatic developments took place against a background of threats in the Arab lands of the Mideast, where supporters of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser promised a campaign of violence against Western oil and military installations in retaliation for any use of force against Egypt. Informed sources in Cairo said the Egyptians would destroy the Suez canal itself rather than give it up to the West.

Egypt yet was to answer the invitation to London, Nasser was scheduled to give his reply at a press conference today.

Truman Gives Nod To Gov. Harriman

Oregon Delegates See Little Support Lost To Harriman

Kefauver Gives OK For Second Place

Chicago — (U.P.) — Members of the Oregon delegation to the Democratic convention, pledged to support the candidacy of Adlai Stevenson Saturday, saw the loss of little support for their candidate due to former President Truman's stepping forward in behalf of Gov. Averell Harriman.

C. Girard Davidson, National committee member elect, said "I don't think it will make any difference. It may shift some votes to Harriman but not enough to upset Stevenson. We will go down the line with Stevenson."

Go-Ahead From Kefauver
 Sen. Richard Neuberger, the chairman of the Oregon delegation, arrived here last night and proclaimed, "as much as I admire former President Truman, his present position does not diminish my own effort for Adlai Stevenson for the nomination."

Neuberger also cleared up another point. He said he had received a "go ahead" from Sen. Estes Kefauver to work for his nomination as vice president on the party ticket.

Gene Conklin of Pendleton forecast that Truman's stand "won't change things much. I don't think it will hurt Stevenson."

Rep. Edith Green said the Truman move "will make no difference to us from Oregon and probably only will make us work harder."

Bound by Primary Vote
 The Oregon delegation is bound to Stevenson as a result of the primary vote last May in which the 1952 nominee scored a wide margin of victory. Sen. Kefauver would receive the support of the Oregon delegation as the vice presidential candidate, also as a result of the May primary in which he led write-in vote getters for the ticket's second spot.

Howard Morgan, former state Democratic chairman and now a Stevenson aide, saw Mr. Truman's endorsement of Harriman as a help to the Stevenson camp. He said he expects Stevenson to lose no more than a handful of votes to Harriman and that it appears certain that several times that number will be brought into the Stevenson fold from the Southern delegates.

Morgan continued to predict a first-ballot win for Stevenson.

FRED SEATON
Interior Head To Visit

Fred A. Seaton To Speak at GOP Jamboree Here

Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton will fly to Medford from Washington Aug. 30 to attend a Republican jamboree in Hawthorne park, Mrs. Kathleen Bash, Jackson County Republican Central committee chairman, announced Saturday.

Invited to attend the affair, at which Seaton will be the principal speaker, will be Republican candidates for all state and national offices, including Douglas McKay, Seaton's predecessor as interior secretary.

Tickets on Sale
 Tickets to a smorgasbord supper, a feature of the event, will go on sale immediately at $1.50 each, Mrs. Bash said. She added that this will not be a fund-raising meeting. Ticket sale proceeds will be used to defray food costs. Those desiring to see and hear Seaton and the political candidates, but who do not want to participate in the informal supper, will be admitted without charge.

The jamboree will begin at 6 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 30, with music and entertainment, which will continue throughout the smorgasbord. The entire program will be over in time for Seaton to appear on a local television program at 9:30 p.m.

Announcement Opens Scramble For Delegates

'Darkhorse' Compromise Possibility Raised

Chicago — (U.P.) — Former President Truman threw his wholehearted backing to Gov. Averell Harriman for the Democratic presidential nomination Saturday, touching off a wild scramble for delegates and raising the possibility of a "darkhorse" compromise.

Adlai E. Stevenson, current front-runner for the nomination, promptly declared that he still expects to be the Democratic candidate. But Harriman backers predicted the New Yorker will stop Stevenson in the early rounds and win himself on the third or fourth ballot.

Mr. Truman's action was a jolt to Stevenson's hopes although it was by no means a fatal blow at this point in the pre-convention maneuvering. One Stevenson strategist said privately that the former president's move should cost his man no more than 30 votes.

But Harriman told a rally of young Democrats that "this is now an open convention." He said the issues "are clearly drawn—whether we are to have a liberal party or whether moderation is the spirit of the times."

Mr. Truman hit the same theme in urging the delegates to choose Harriman at their convention which opens here Monday. He called the governor "the new deal fair deal candidate" and "the man best qualified to be the next president of the United States."

Experience Cited
 He said Harriman, as a result of his long service at home and abroad under previous Democratic administrations, has "the experience and ability to act as president immediately upon assuming office without risking a period of costly and dangerous trial and error."

"I know him and you can depend on him," Mr. Truman said.

Even as Harriman and Stevenson were trading rival claims on the effect of the ex-president's action, there were reports that a bloc designed to "stop" both contenders might shape around Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) or Sen. Stuart Symington (Mo.).

These reports suggested an attempt might be made to tie up the convention by luring away some of Stevenson's potential southern support, depriving both Stevenson and Harriman of the 68 1/2 votes necessary for nomination.

Harriman, overjoyed at the support from "my old boss," pledged himself to fight for "liberal principles and for the benefit of all the people" if nominated.

Demos Start Work On Party Platform

Chicago — (U.P.) — Democratic policy makers wound up a week's public hearings Saturday and started work on a party platform they hope will satisfy both the conservative south and liberal north.

While exact language still was to be agreed on, key members of the platform committee already were reported in substantial agreement on a compromise Civil Rights plank. It was calculated to please neither side but allow room for both to remain in the party.

The weary 108-member committee concluded its sixth day of hearings after receiving testimony from some 200 persons. Despite efforts of party moderates to soft-pedal it, the Civil Rights issue burned as brightly on the final day of the hearings as on the first.

After a brief closed session to plan its next step, the committee directed a 15-man drafting subcommittee to meet today in its first formal try at getting the party's 1956 policy statement down on paper.

The full committee probably will not meet again before Tuesday, when the draft should be ready. The platform then will be laid before the party convention on Wednesday.

Chicago — (U.P.) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said Saturday she is supporting Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Efforts To Unseat Two Delegations Lose

Chicago — (U.P.) — The Democratic National committee today threw out efforts to unseat the regular Mississippi and South Carolina delegations. Some southerners feared the upshot might be an effort to revive the 1952 "loyalty oath" fight.

The committee, by voice vote, dismissed claims for recognition from "rump" groups from the two states. The action means the regular delegations will be placed on the temporary roll when the convention opens Monday.

But two members of the Oregon delegation said the Mississippi issue may be revived in the convention's credentials committee. They cited charges that some members of the state's delegation have been "notorious in their disloyalty" to the party in the past.

Gene Conklin, who will represent Oregon on the convention credentials committee, said if the contesting Mississippi group takes its case to his committee he will inquire into the party loyalty of the regular Mississippi delegates.

Conklin and Monroe Sweet from Oregon, denied they had any intention of dividing the party. They said they merely wanted to be sure members of the Mississippi delegation "are Democrats."

Shoe Repair Shops To Close on Mondays

Shoe repair shops in the Medford area will be closed on Monday in the future, it was announced Saturday by a spokesman for the proprietors.

The decision locally is in conformity with action by the Master Shoe Repairman's association of Oregon, a statewide craft organization. It was pointed out among the last of the skilled craftsmen to go on a five-day work schedule.

Barbershops also are closed Mondays.

Awards at Roundup Will Be Given at Tonight's Show

Awards in the 14th annual Rogue River Roundup will be presented to outstanding "cowboys" at the conclusion of tonight's rodeo performance at the Jackson county posse grounds.

The final rodeo performance of the three-day roundup will begin at 7:30 p.m. Names of participants who have accumulated the greatest number of points in rodeo feats will be announced at the beginning of the show. Horses to participate in the finals will be paraded around the grandstand before the elimination gets underway.

Best "all around cowboy" will be presented with a Gibson contest style roping saddle valued at $250. This prize is being awarded by the Gibson Saddlery in Medford. It is lettered with "Rogue River Roundup 1956."

A purse of $1,000 plus entry fees will be divided among winners of the five rodeo events, which include saddle bronc riding, bulldogging, bareback riding, calf roping and bull riding.

Each event is judged on the basis of 100 points, with 40 for first, 30 for second, 20 for third and 10 for fourth.

Between main events there will be posse drills, races, games and trick riding, featuring Lynn and Jimmy Merri, Red Bluff, Calif.

Started on Friday
 The roundup officially got underway at 5 p.m. Friday with a horse parade. Friday night was "family night" at the rodeo. The main parade through the center of Medford was held at 2 p.m. Saturday, followed by the second rodeo show Saturday night.

Sponsoring the roundup is the Jackson county Mounted Sheriff's posse.

GOP Facing Fight Over Ike's Veto

Washington — (U.P.) — Republicans today faced an election-year fight over President Eisenhower's veto of the politically-potent $1,600,000,000 rivers and harbors bill.

Mr. Eisenhower vetoed the bill in the surprise move Friday. Not since 1940 when Franklin D. Roosevelt was president has a chief executive vetoed a rivers and harbors bill during an election year.

Congress traditionally is liberal in approving such projects in an election year in hopes they may improve election chances of lawmakers in the many areas affected throughout the nation.

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Revenue from traffic across the Golden Gate Bridge dropped more than $400,000 during the 1955-56 fiscal year.

Two Coast Guard seaplanes and the cutter Bonham from Coos Bay, Ore., failed Friday to find any trace of the vessel which sailed from Brookings, Ore., on a fishing expedition.

First School Opening Set In Valley on September 4

Ashland, Applegate, Elk-Trail, Shady Cove and Butte Falls students will be the first in Jackson county to return to classes this fall, with Sept. 4 the opening date for schools in these five areas.

Other opening dates for schools in the county will be Lone Pine, Sept. 5; Rogue River, Sept. 6; Eagle Point, Sept. 7; Jacksonville, Griffin Creek, Ruch Phoenix elementary, Crater Point (including Crater High school), Talent, Medford elementary and junior high schools, Pinehurst, Howard and Evans Valley, all Sept. 10; and Phoenix and Medford Senior High schools, Sept. 10.

St. Mary's Dates Told
 St. Mary's elementary school will open Sept. 10 and St. Mary's High school will open on Sept. 17.

School officials reminded parents to bring birth certificates of children entering school for the first time. Physical health check-ups were made for children who would enter the first grade this fall through clinics conducted by the health department.

Officials also pointed out health certificates are required for all persons, both certified and uncertificated personnel, who come in contact with school children. This includes custodians, cafeteria cooks, bus drivers and instructors. School administrators are advised to send to the county school superintendent's office a complete list of all employees of the school who are not certificated, such as bus drivers, cooks and custodians with health certificates for filing.

Registrations Asked
 Alf Mckivold, county school superintendent, has requested that teachers who desire to substitute this year or to do home teaching, register their names, addresses and phone numbers with his office.
