Romeo and Juliet Draws Big Crowd

Ashland — Attendance zoomed over Saturday night at the Shakespearean festival when more than 900 patrons viewed the season's most popular play, "Romeo and Juliet."

This is the largest attendance of the season, however, it is not a record house. It is expected that "Romeo and Juliet" will break attendance records this season.

Second in audience favoritism is the riotous comedy "Love's Labour's Lost," the festival committee reported. Patrons are reminded that seats are still available for all remaining performances. Tickets are $2.40, $1.80 and $1.20. All seats are reserved.

The repertoire continues tonight with "Richard the Third," "Love's Labour's Lost," will be presented Tuesday night; "Romeo and Juliet" on Wednesday, and "Cymbeline" on Thursday. This nightly rotation will be interrupted on August 24 and 29 for the two special performances of "Titus Andronicus."

Other Shakespearean festival events are the Sunday afternoon concerts, the Trinity Noon readings on Wednesdays, and the Gresham Lecture series on Thursdays afternoons.

Market Neglected For Convention News

New York (U.P.) — Wall street read the convention news today and neglected the stock market. From sheer neglect, the market sagged in all major divisions.

The Suez Canal incident appeared out of the picture. The street attributed the drop of nearly five points at the low in Gulf Oil to disappointment over failure of directors to split the stock in line with expectations.

Royal Dutch, the other international oil of recent canal weakness, held steady.

Elsewhere the oils ranged from a loss of nearly two in Shell to a rise of more than a point in Amerasia. Magma, off four, led a decline in the coppers. Several brass issues moved higher and there were a few other isolated gains, but most shares receded leisurely.

Dow-Jones final stock averages: 30 industrials 514.40, off 2.98; 20 railroads 166.44, off 2.13; 15 utilities 70.49, off 0.35; 65 stocks 181.55, off 1.34.

Sales today were about 1,730,000 shares compared with 2,040,000 shares Friday.
