

State Fair Revue
To Be Biggest Ever

Salem—(U.P.)—One of the biggest Oregon State Fair Revues in history will open here Sept. 1. Fair Manager Leo G. Spitzbart said today.

Spitzbart said the revue would have two more acts than last year and would be presented at 8 p.m. daily throughout the fair.

Under Emcee Joey Hardin, a comic song and dance man, the show will feature Frank Fontaine, comic impersonator; Harr (Woo-Woo) Stevens, banjo-playing singer from the Last Frontier hotel in Las Vegas; Lebrac and Bernice, jugglers who perform on a unicycle; and dancers Toy and Wing who have appeared on the Ed Sullivan television show.

Another dance combo, the Burns twins and Evelyn, will make their first fair appearance on the Pacific Coast. Rounding out the revue will be an animal act, a bevy of 12 chorus girls and the Jack Seltenridge orchestra of San Francisco.

Girl Scout Counsellor
Back at Lake Camp

Klamath Falls—(U.P.)—Miss Carrie Kidwell, Hilliard, Ohio, was back with her Girl Scouts at their Lake of the Woods camp today, none the worse for a night spent wandering on cold slopes of Mt. McLoughlin northwest of here.

Miss Kidwell, counsellor for the Girl Scouts from the Medford-Grants Pass area, became lost when she walked back toward a snowbank to get some snow for first aid treatment to Sandra Ullian, Girl Scout, who had been poisoned by a yellow-jacket sting. Sandra was taken by men from the nearby forest ranger station to her home in Grants Pass where she was reported in good condition today. Miss Kidwell was found yesterday morning after being lost on the mountain overnight, and was treated by a nurse at the Lake of the Woods ranger station.

New Weapon Added
Against Road Deaths

Olympia, Wash.—(U.P.)—Washington, a leader in highway safety, has added a new weapon to its arsenal for a continuing campaign against traffic deaths. The weapon is a roadside testing unit capable of detecting leakage of lethal carbon monoxide into the interior of a vehicle. A motorist may drive up to the unit and avail himself of a free check.

The state patrol purchased nine of the testers on the theory that carbon monoxide is to blame for a high percentage of one-car accidents, rear-end collisions in congested areas and accidents in which the driver has fallen asleep.

Other weapons which have been used effectively in the past include radar, loud-speaker cars, aircraft, drunkometers, unmarked patrol cars, volunteer national guardsmen, a "point system" by which accumulation of violations can lead to license suspension and spot checks at key traffic routes.

Washington in 1954 won the gold "Oscar" of the National Committee for Traffic Safety and the National Safety Council Grand Award.
