Miss Phyllis Gail Rydberg Wed To Ellis Doty in Church Rites

A ceremony at Medford Friends church Saturday, August 11, wedded Miss Phyllis Gail Rydberg to Ellis Doty. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Rydberg, 10 Quince street, Medford, and Mr. Doty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Doty of Jacksonville.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Clayton Crisman. About 50 guests attended the service and the reception which followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rydberg in the yard.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an afternoon dress of white satin brocade with white hat and shoes. She carried an orchid and Stephanotis on a white Bible. Maid of honor was Miss Virginia Carter. She wore a dress of pale green shantung with white accessories and carried small pink roses.

Stan Wertz was best man for the bridegroom. DeVon Wray and Roland Glass ushered.

Miss Sandra Webster of Redding, Calif., sang and Mrs. Clayton Crisman was organist.

Pouring and assisting for the reception were Mrs. J. Ritenour, aunt of the bride from Seattle, and Mrs. Ed Nicks, another aunt from British Columbia, Canada.

The cake was made by the bride's mother and decorated by Mrs. Hildegard Pierce. Miss Lila Hukill attended the guest book and Mrs. D. J. Wray took charge of the gifts.

For the wedding and reception the bride's mother wore a shantung dress of pale pink with navy blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a gold two-piece dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. I. Webster, Redding, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Doty, brother of the bride-

Women Return After Air Trip To Many States

Mrs. L. G. Frink and her mother, Mrs. Orrie Stoddard, 1654 Thomas road, have returned to Medford after spending the past seven weeks touring several states. The entire trip was by air.

The two women went first to Spokane to visit Mrs. Stoddard's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Stoddard and then flew east by way of Minneapolis, Chicago and Philadelphia. For several days they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Kenton, Chesapeake City, Md., and the two travelers and Mrs. Kenton went to Wilkes-Barre, Pa., where they visited Mrs. Albert Anderson, former Medford resident. The trio also toured the historic Ft. Delaware which has been used as a prison camp during three wars.

Mrs. Frink and her mother visited historic spots in and near Philadelphia and in New York visited Radio City Music hall, toured the city and near-by territory, visited the United Nations building and the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. The two women saw a performance of "Pajama Game" and toured both New York and Columbia universities.

In Washington, D.C., they were guests of Senator Henry Jackson of Washington state, long-time family friend of the Stoddards. The two travelers were guests of the senator for lunch in the Senate dining room and later were taken on a tour of the capitol by a senate page.

Later they visited Mt. Vernon, Arlington cemetery, and various presidential memorials. The two women also saw Lee's mansion, spent some time in Baltimore and spent a day at the United States Naval academy at Annapolis.

En route home they were taken on a motor tour of Iowa by a cousin, Mrs. Robert Merrill, and in Tipton Mrs. Stoddard visited her former home and that of her great-grandmother.

In Carroll, Ia., they were the guests of a cousin, Mrs. Carl Koepke, and visited Howard Nye at Clear Lake, Ia., where they were taken on a sunset cruise around the large lake.

In Sioux Falls, S.D., the travelers visited Mrs. Stoddard's great-niece, Mrs. Charles Hall, and made a guided tour of the Morrell meat packing plant. In Denver the two women were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stoddard and spent some time at the couple's summer home in the Rocky mountains.

In California Mrs. Frink and Mrs. Stoddard visited cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ingram, Los Altos, and in Redwood City were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Skandrup. They toured the Hoover library at Stanford university.

Mrs. Frink, who is principal of Griffin Creek school, took more than 350 colored pictures of historic spots and scenic points which she will show for her students during the fall and winter.

Three Vocalists To Be Featured In Concert Today

Ashland—A glimpse of Elizabethan England through the music of the day will be on tap this Sunday at the Shakespearean Festival theater. The occasion is the third weekly Sunday afternoon concert, with the emphasis on the music of Shakespeare's time.

Featured will be the festival musics scholarship holders, Miss Arlieta Knowles, Jerry Holloway and Lyman Pruitt. They have been delighting festival audiences with their renditions of Elizabethan tunes prior to the evening performances. For Sunday's concert they have prepared several "new" numbers to add to their already considerable repertoire.

The festival madrigal group, composed of members of the acting company in addition to Miss Knowles, Mr. Holloway and Mr. Pruitt, will present several numbers. Several Elizabethan dances will also be included in the program.

Next Sunday's concert, August 26th, is considered a "must see" event, featuring the Samuel Pepy's Recorder Consort of Los Angeles led by Tom D. Cooke.

Concerts begin promptly at 4:30 o'clock. Admission is 50 cents, and tickets are on sale at the theater box office prior to the concert.

Husbands Guests At Dinner Party

Medford Lady Lions entertained their husbands at a potluck dinner held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, 21 South Groveland avenue, last Saturday evening. The dinner was served buffet style in the patio.

After dinner Dr. Lee Mellish entertained the guests by showing his color slides of the Canadian Rockies which he took on a vacation trip this summer.

Business Women At Oregon Caves For Annual Picnic

Medford Business and Professional club members are holding the annual August picnic meeting today at the Chateau lodge at Oregon Caves. Members and guests will tour the caves and lunch together in the dining room of the lodge at noon.

Miss Voda Brower, president of the local club, assisted by her vice president, Mrs. Marion Wood, have made all arrangements for this yearly event.

Miss Laura York, past president of the Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, and Miss Brower attended the annual summer session of the state board at Taft Ore. the week end of August 4. Dr. Eleanor Gutman, state president, reported on the national BPWC convention held in July at Miami Beach, Fla. At this convention Miss Hazel Palmer, an attorney of Sedalia, Mo., was elected president of the national federation which now numbers 168,729 women representing 700 different businesses and professions.

Dr. Gutman urged all the state clubs of Oregon to plan their year's activities to carry out the theme adopted at the convention, which is "New Levels of Leadership."

Evans Valley Club To Hear Speaker

Rogue River — Evans Valley Garden club will meet Wednesday, August 22, at 1 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Harry Winters, Route 1, Box 174A, Pleasant Creek road, Wimer. Dessert will be served.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Marie Martin, whose appearance was arranged by Rogue Farms Supply company, Grants Pass. Mrs. Martin will talk on arranging and placing house plants in the home and planters in the home.

Members are to bring either a house plant or some rooted cuttings for exchange.

An easy dessert for a warm evening is a canned cling peach half filled with a big scoop of ice cream and drizzled with creme de menthe.

Rotarians, Wives Plan Garden Party At Brainerd Home

Medford Rotary Club members and their wives will hold a garden party Thursday at 6:30 o'clock in the garden at the P. E. Brainerd home, 226 Valley View drive. A dinner will be served followed by dancing. Group singing will be held and cards will be available.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fields are in charge of the entertainment and Jimmy Dunlevy will be the master of ceremonies, according to Mrs. S. Ralph Dippel, general chairman of the party.

Approximately 160 persons will attend the event which it is hoped will become an annual affair.

Parking areas for those attending the party will be available in back of the Tuttle residence at 232 Valley view drive and the Durno home, 222 Valley View drive. Boys will be on the scene to aid in the parking.

A committee meeting will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at the Dippel home, 1 Eastwood drive.
