Six Games Here

Medford, the defending district champ, plays its first six games at home. They are: Sept. 7—Jefferson of Portland; Sept. 14—Milwaukie; Sept. 21—Roseburg; Sept. 28; Marshfield; Oct. 5—Crater; Oct. 12—Klamath Falls. Games away are: Oct. 18—At Eureka, Calif.; Oct. 26—At Ashland; Nov. 2—At Grants Pass.

Sale of season tickets for Black Tornado games is underway. The athletic department is sending out ticket application envelopes to 1955 season ticket buyers and other prospective fans. The envelopes will make it possible for fans to mail in their orders rather than call at the high school office. The service is an addition to that already offered and persons who have already obtained their seats are asked to pass the mailers on to other fans who would like to order season tickets.

First preference for seats is being given to 1955 ticket holders. Deadline for application for the reserved tickets has been extended to Tuesday, Sept. 4.

Cas Expects 50 Grid Candidates To Report For Webfoot Practice

University of Oregon, Eugene—Coach Len Casanova has reported he expected to have "about 50" candidates on hand for the 1956 Oregon football team when fall practice opens on Sept. 1 at Hayward field.

The turnout will include 20 lettermen from the team which last fall started slowly and then came with a rush to win five of its last six games. Four of the last half dozen opponents were shutout and the Ducks ended the season with a 6-4 record and fourth place in the final PCC standings.

"I'm certainly glad to have the bulk of our backfield back," Casanova said, "and we have some fine ends and guards led by Capt. Phil McHugh and Spike Hillstrom. However, the problem at tackle, where we lack experience, and at center, where we are awfully thin, will give us some headaches, I am afraid."

Watches Shrine Game

Casanova, who was in Portland to watch the annual Shrine all-star high school football team, said he was pleased with the announced intentions of more than a dozen of the prep sees to attend Oregon. "We lose almost a dozen members of this 1956 team through graduation and it's nice to know so many fine young men have decided to come to Oregon in the fall."

The Duck backfield includes all but one of the top three sets of running backs in 1955 (Dick James, now with the Washington Redskins) and also has several outstanding sophomore and junior college prospects led by Will Reeve of North Bend at fullback, Charlie Toureville at left half, Len Read at right half, and Don Laudenslager of Gresham, also a right half and a participant, along with Reeve in the 1955 Shrine game.

Weber Paces Oregonians

Fargo, N.D. — (U.P.) — Rob Weber, of Prineville, paced the Oregon quartet through the qualifying round of the International Junior Chamber of Commerce golf tournament here yesterday, carding a four-over-par 76.

Bill Aubry of Corvallis and George Mack of Portland each took 81s in yesterday's qualifying round.

Oregon's fourth representative in the tourney, Tom Shaw of Milwaukie, finished the day with an 83.

Duck Coach Blasts Scout

Eugene — (U.P.) — University of Oregon baseball coach Don Kirsch, yesterday criticized the signing of Stan Thompson, a freshman left-handed pitcher from Nyssa. St. Louis Cardinal scout Tony Governor signed the young hurler last weekend.

"The signing of Thompson by Governor and the Cardinals is another in a series of crippling blows which have been dealt college baseball in the last few years by some professional organizations and this one man in particular," Kirsch said.

Governor drew the ire of Oregon State Coach Ralph Coleman this spring when he signed Curt Jantze, a freshman at OSC, repeated a decided increase in interest during the past week with the Stanford game at Eugene and the Southern California tussle in Portland still leading the way among the fans. Orders for tickets to the Stanford, Washington State and Idaho games in Eugene, USC in Portland and Oregon State at Corvallis are being accepted either in person or by mail at McArthur court on the campus.

The Colts got their only touchdown in the first quarter when halfback Jesse Thomas ran 29 yards with an intercepted pass. New York quickly tied the score on a 30-yard pass from Don Heinrich to Bob Schnelker. Baltimore scored early in the second period on a 40-yard field goal by Buck McPhail, but after that it was all New York, as Ben Webster, Frank Gifford and Bobby Clatterbuck climaxed drives by rushing the ball over.

Proceeds of the game go to the fund set up in memory of Harry Agganis, the former Boston university football star and Boston Red Sox first baseman who died last year.

Lineups Due Tomorrow For West Shriners

Fendleton — (U.P.) — Coach Connie Sproul of Siletz, head mentor for the West team in the annual Shriners' hospital all-star football game here Saturday night, said today he will announce his starting lineup for the game tomorrow.

Two-day workouts were scheduled for today and tomorrow as both camps prepared for the Saturday night game in Round Up park. Players on the two clubs represent the top seniors on last year's Class B high school teams from throughout the state.

The West team announced the selection of captains for the game yesterday. Jack Britton, Nehalem, and George Thompson, Siletz, were named as co-captain of the squad.

'Career Boy' Race Winner

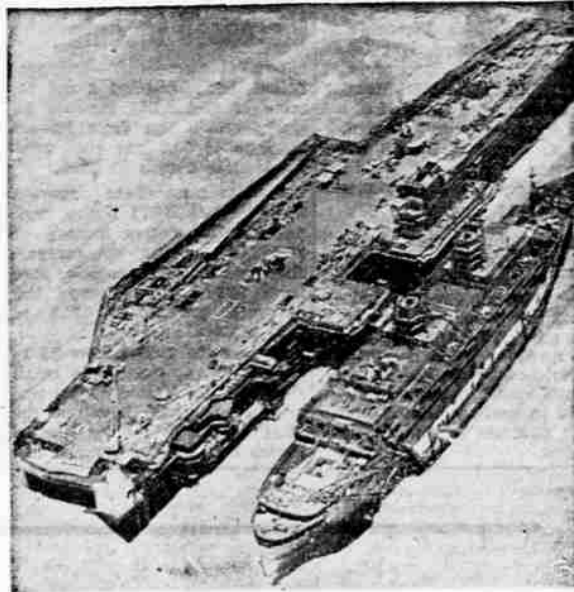

(U.P.) — C. V. Whitney's three-year-old "Career Boy" returned from a two-month layoff Monday to win the Ballston Spa handicap at Saratoga.

Eddie Arcaro brought Career Boy up to defeat "Quarter Deck" by a head. "Jean Baptiste" finished another head farther back in third place. It was Career Boy's first start since the Belmont stakes, in which he finished second to "Needles." The son of "Phalanx" now is expected to start in the Saratoga handicap Saturday.

PUSH FROM BELOW?

Newport, R. I. — (U.P.) — Nine-year-old William H. Holly had good reason to be shaken up recently. The lad was standing on a tombstone in a cemetery when it suddenly tipped over and pinned his ankle. The boy was hospitalized for treatment of an injured ankle—and a case of the jitters.

Roseburg Could Cop Title Tonight

Yakima, Wash. — (U.P.) — Billings, Mont., was eliminated from the regional American Legion junior baseball here last night, taking a 3-0 defeat from Twin Falls, Ida.

Bob Burch, a surprise starter, for Twin Falls, relied on a jump curve and Billings got only six balls out of the infield.

Twin Falls, by virtue of the win, plays Roseburg tonight. Roseburg, unbeaten in the tourney thus far, could sew up the title tonight. A win for Twin Falls would send the two teams into a final game Wednesday for the regional crown.

Americans Win In Net Play; Aussies Idle

(U.P.) — America's leading players advanced in the first round of the National Doubles tennis championships Monday.

Vic Seixas and Ham Richardson defeated Roger Becker and Mike Davies of Britain, 6-4, 9-7, and 6-2, in play at Chestnut Hill, Mass. However, the British Davis Cuppers put up a tougher fight than the score indicates, and the Americans got a mild scare before winning.

The crowd of three thousand got a thrill when the French team of Robert Haillet and 58-year-old Jean Borotra, a veteran from the days of Bill Tilden, defeated Dever Jobs and Chauncey Steele, 6-0, 1-6, 6-3 and 12-10.

The top-seeded Australian team of Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad drew a first-round bye, and will play today.

Mental Patient Flees Second Time

Portland — (U.P.) — A mental patient who was the object of a widespread police search before his capture last Friday escaped again last night.

Raymond Lee Dunlap, 29, Clackamas, was reported missing from Morningside hospital at 7:30 p.m. yesterday. He was captured near here last Friday night after leaving Barnes hospital in Vancouver, Wash., earlier in the week.

Dunlap was reported to be barefooted and wearing gray and pink pajamas when he escaped yesterday by breaking away from an attendant.

The Family Council

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, a newspaper editor, a women's page editor and two newspaper writers. These consult with clergymen of all faiths and denominations. All letters are held in complete confidence.

T. R. M.—Our son would testify against his cousin.

George—Her husband is falsely accused.

T. R. M.—Our niece is involved in a divorce suit and our son is to be a witness for her husband. Our whole family feels terrible about this. It will create wounds that will never heal. My husband is worrying himself sick over it.

We have talked to our son and pointed out all the harm he would be doing, but he insists that it is his duty to testify. We think it is the influence of his wife, who has always disliked our niece and probably feels happy to see a scandal in our family.

I have warned our son that we will never again speak to him if he goes on the stand to hurt his cousin, but this does not seem to make any difference.

George—My mother is being very unfair. I do not intend to testify against my cousin. It is an entirely different situation. It is my cousin who is the aggressor in the case. She is making false charges against her husband, and I happen to have the information that would prove that he was not guilty of some of the accusations made against him.

I certainly would not want to do anything to hurt my cousin, but I happen to regard her husband as my friend and relative also. I knew him long before the marriage and I feel close to him. I think my cousin is making a terrible mistake and I feel her motives are not good.

My wife is no sinister influence in this matter or in any other. She feels as I do about my cousin and her husband, but she certainly has not instigated me, as I feel much more deeply about it than she does. I think the family should try to dissuade my cousin from pursuing a ruinous and dishonest course, instead of threatening me with family boycott.

The Council: If George states the facts correctly, he is in the position of being damned whether he does or does not testify. If he fails to testify and his cousin's husband is thereby unjustly condemned in the divorce suit, he will have embittered a friend to whom he feels close. But he will not necessarily have pleased his cousin, since she may soon regret the false charges and the final destruction of her marriage.

George's determination to testify is therefore not only high-principled, but of considerable practical value to the family. George's mother, instead of threatening and coercing him, should cite his determination to testify as a reason why her niece should think again before proceeding with the divorce suit on such poor grounds.

George seems morally obligated to testify against his cousin's false charges, but he should make certain that the nature of his testimony is no surprise. Because his cousin's interests and his family's are so importantly involved, he should let them know to what extent his information belies their

PRAYS FOR LOWER TAX
Los Angeles — (U.P.) — Rabbi William M. Kramer opened Monday's city council meeting with this invocation: "I pray for the council, the standard of its acts. Raise them, Father, and lower the tax."

charges, in the hope that he may thus, without actually having to testify in open court, save his friend from the scandal of false charges, save his cousin from the scandal of making false charges and save himself and his family from still deeper difficulties.

Another revolutionary new development by Goodyear!

See in the demonstration test above how the new Captive-Air Safety Tire—slashed through with a knife—carried this car for 110 miles!

The car you see in the circle is coming off New York's Triborough Bridge—with a gaping hole in its right front tire. We cut a two-inch slash right through the side of that tire... but we know that both driver and car are safe. The reserve air in the inner chamber lets the car thread safely through heavy traffic without danger or delay. Fact is, that car rolled on for three hours—covered 110 miles. No damage to the tire other than the cut. Here's dramatic proof you no longer have to change a tire along the road!
