

Luncheon Honors Miss Ann Hart; Guests Arrive

Miss Ann Hart, whose wedding to Arthur M. Beavens of Alhambra, Calif., is set for Saturday afternoon at St. Mark's Episcopal church, was honored at a luncheon given yesterday by Miss Tanya Trowbridge and Miss Kaye Durno at Rogue Valley Country club. Miss Hart is a daughter of Mrs. Robert C. Hart, Grant road.

Later the group went to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Durno, 2512 East Main street, for a shower party. A few of Miss Hart's close friends were invited.

Miss Hart's grandmother, Mrs. E. N. Vilm, arrived yesterday morning by air from Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., to attend the wedding. She has been making her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Duffield Jr., Mrs. Duffield being the former Betty Vilm.

Mr. Beavens and his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Beavens, will arrive from Alhambra Thursday, accompanied by the bridegroom's cousin, Lynn O'Brien Jr., San Marino, Calif. Other relatives arriving Friday will be Mrs. Elsie Parker, Pasadena, an aunt, and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn O'Brien, uncle and aunt, San Marino.

Friday night the bride's cousins, Mrs. James Keeble, and Mr. Keeble will be hosts for the rehearsal dinner, the event to be held at their home on the Phoenix-Jacksonville highway. The wedding party and members of the two families will be guests.

Artist Announces Current Displays

Gold Hill — Vola Tolman, Gold Hill artist, currently has work displayed in three different exhibits.

Mrs. Tolman has an exhibit of oils at Amato's supper club in Portland. The exhibit, first art show ever held at the club, will be open indefinitely, Mrs. Tolman states.

The artist also has work exhibited at Rogue Riviera, restaurant on the river between Medford and Grants Pass, and at Mon Desir dining inn near Central Point. Many of the works were painted following a trip to Europe and North Africa which Mrs. Tolman made a few years ago, but some are western in theme. One, called "Desert Justice," has been exhibited in Portland, San Francisco and Denver museums and is now at Amato's.

Trucks and buses accounted for almost one-third of all revenues collected by the New York State Thruway Authority in 1955.

Concert Planned By Ashland Band

Ashland — Thursday night concerts by the Ashland city band are continuing according to Huot Fisher, director. Tomorrow night's concert is set for 7:30 p.m. in Lithia park.

After opening with the national anthem, the band will play "Trooping the Colors," a march by Jewell, "Kin Overture" by Frankiser and "A Trumpeter's Lullaby" by Anderson.

The following group of members will include "Emblem of Unity" by Richards, "Stormy Weather" by Koehler and Arlen; "Dance Intermezzo" by Sibelius and "Gridiron Ghosts March" by Frankiser.

Also on the program are "South" by Meten and Hayes, "A Night in Tripoli" by Richards and "Colorado" by Holmes. Concluding numbers will be "Vincent Youmans Fantasy" by Yoder, Anderson's "The Syncopated Clock" and "The Nutmeggers" by Osterling.

Homemakers' Day Set Next Week

Jackson, Josephine and Klamath County Extension committees and their representatives are planning a tri-county get-together Wednesday, August 29, according to Mrs. Joanne Weatherford, county extension agent for Jackson county.

The day's activities will take place in Susanne Homes hall on the campus of Southern Oregon college. Registration is set for 10:30 a.m., with members of the Ashland Extension unit in charge. Josephine county members will lead games and Klamath county is preparing the program and arrangements for luncheon. Those attending are to take sack lunches.

Mrs. Leland Charley, Brownsboro, District 5 director, will preside, and states that the program will end at 3 p.m. Southern Oregon college faculty members and state home extension leaders will speak.

Purpose of the tri-county gathering is to permit county committee members to become better acquainted and learn of the extension activities in other counties, it is stated.

Edith Adams To Play Role Of Daisy Mae

BY ELIZABETH TOOMEY United Press Correspondent New York — (U.P.) — Shapley singer Edith Adams is rehearsing the Broadway role of a famous blonde who already has been imitated by more pretty teenagers in the past 20 years than any movie star.

Mimicry is an art which Miss Adams displayed recently before millions of TV viewers in her now famous imitation of Marilyn Monroe. Her new role, however, is tougher than copycatting Marilyn, the platinum blonde singer said.

The blonde is named Daisy Mae. Girls have been pulling their hair back in pigtails, wearing polka dot off-shoulder blouses and ragged shorts and going to parties as Daisy Mae almost since Miss Adams was born.

"I always used to go to masquerade parties as Daisy Mae myself," said the singer, who grew up in Tenafly, N. J.

Now, for the first time, the comic strip blonde will become part of a Broadway musical comedy — "Lil Abner," along with Abner and the other famed Dogpatch characters. Miss Adams won the part over more than 200 other candidates and began rehearsing last week. The musical opens in Washington September 17 and on Broadway November 15.

First came the problem of a hairdo. Miss Adams related in a restaurant interview which was constantly interrupted by young autograph seekers. The star, who is Mrs. Ernie Kovacs in private life, wore a tight, bright blue sheath dress and blue-tinted glasses.

"This is my first day without bangs," she began, brushing at platinum blonde tresses that dangled over one eyebrow. "Daisy Mae doesn't have bangs, so now I don't either."

Her complete wardrobe for the show consists of a very short pair of black shorts, two polka dot blouses and one dress. Her eyes will be slightly pulled up at the outer corners as the comic strip blonde's are, and she will stand with one toe turned slightly inward, Daisy Mae style.

Mrs. Fred Rankin Entertains Guests

Miss Ethel Stewart, Omaha, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. Evariste Franchere, of Newport Beach, Calif., were house guests at the home of Mrs. Fred Rankin, 18 Richmond avenue, last week. They spent their time sightseeing in the valley and attending the Shakespearean festival plays.

Miss Stewart, a childhood friend and college roommate of Mrs. Rankin, accompanied the Medford woman to Seattle when she returned home from a motor trip through the midwest and the Canadian Rockies in late July. Miss Stewart then took an additional excursion by boat and train to British Columbia before arriving in Medford August 13 for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Franchere, longtime and former neighbors of the late Colonel Rankin and Mrs. Rankin in Sioux City, Iowa, were en route to Jasper National park in Alberta, Canada, and departed Saturday morning.

All were guests Thursday evening at the barbecue dinner given by Altrusa club at the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. Ralph Dippel, Eastwood drive, Friday evening Mrs. Rankin entertained informally for her guests at a neighborhood coffee party in her garden. The Francheres showed pictures they took on a recent round-the-world tour on a President liner.

Sunday Miss Stewart was a guest of Medford Business and Professional Women for a tour of Oregon Caves and luncheon served at the chateau there. She left Monday morning for Omaha.

Experts Agree That Penmanship Is Bad

Chicago — (U.P.) — A convention of handwriting experts agreed that modern penmanship is pretty bad, but opinions diverged on the reasons why today's writing is so sloppy.

One expert pointed an accusing finger at current styles in pen tips. These instruments have removed the distinctive shading that formerly characterized signatures, he said.

Another called for more concentration on the teaching of penmanship. "Even the teachers don't know how to write anymore," he said.

The fact that everyone is taught to write alike with no emphasis on developing individuality in signatures is another difficulty cited by the experts, who are all members of the American Society of Questioned Document Examiners.

Two types of signatures have not risen or declined in quality, they said. Bankers and doctors wrote illegibly 20 years ago, and still do.

And if they are laboring under the impression that an odd signature discourages forgery,

Intercommunication System Hears Sheep

Falmouth, Me. — (U.P.) — Farmer Ernest Hawkes installed a barn-to-house intercommunication system last fall so he could hear the sound of new-born sheep.

There was a fire in the barn recently. The sheep bleated an alarm over the barn phone, and Mrs. Hawkes went to their rescue.
