

Willamette River Collision Scene

Portland—(U.P.)—Damage estimated at $80,000 was suffered yesterday by the Corps of Engineers' pipeline dredge, Wahkiakum, in an early morning collision with the S.S. Olympic Pioneer at the mouth of the Willamette river.

Col. Jackson Graham, Portland district engineer, said there was extensive damage to the dredge's hull and A-frame.

The dredge master, John Oja of Portland, received minor injuries.

The Olympic Pioneer, a salt carrier owned by the Olympic Steamship Co. of Seattle, operates between California and the Penn Salt Co. at Portland. The carrier was headed upstream when the collision occurred.

The Olympic Pioneer was believed to have received only minor damage.

Idaho Vote Canvass Gives Win To Church

Boise—(U.P.)—The complete official canvass of votes from last Tuesday's Idaho primary election today gave Frank Church of Boise a 170-vote margin over former Sen. Glen H. Taylor and won him the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination.

Church will face Sen. Herman Welker (R-Id) in the November general election.

Castle on New York River To Be Razed

Clayton, N. Y. — (U.P.) — Picturesque Calumet Castle is being razed.

Located on Calumet Island in the St. Lawrence River the castle was built in 1893-94 for a former president of the American Tobacco Company, Charles G. Emery.

Along with Boldt Castle on Hart Island, opposite Alexandria Bay, and Bourne Castle on Dark Island, Calumet Castle was one of the show places of the Thousand Islands region.

The castle remained in the Emery family until 1950 when it was sold to the Calumet Castle Corp. for $11,500. It was operated for a few summers as a resort.

Portlander Lauds 4-H Wool Show

This year's Jackson County 4-H wool show was one of the best in years, according to Bruce E. Arnold, of Portland, assistant manager, Pacific Wool Growers, who judged the show.

Philip Krouse of Applegate exhibited the first place fleeces in both the medium wool yearling ewe and the medium wool aged ewe classes. His aged ewe fleece was the one that received the championship award.

Three Firsts
Stephen Smith of Medford received three firsts with his long wool yearling ewe fleece, his long wool aged ewe fleece and his fine aged ewe fleece.

All fleeces that placed in the Jackson county 4-H Wool show will be eligible to compete at the state fair, Arnold stated.

Other placing in the Wool Show were medium wool yearling ewe, first Philip Krouse, second Mariam Gopen, third Francis Krouse, fourth Ursula Bates, fifth Russell Elmore, sixth Charles Elmore; seventh

Michael Elmore, eighth Truman Elmore, ninth Earl Bowen and tenth Jerry Moore. Medium wool aged ewe, first Philip Krouse, champion, second Charles Elmore, third Ursula Bates, fourth Stephen Smith, fifth Truman Elmore, sixth Michael Elmore, seventh Russell Elmore, eighth Frances Krouse, ninth Susan Wright and tenth Jerry Moore.

Colorful Surroundings Pay Off for Workers On The Side By E. V. Durling

Philadelphia — (U.P.) — An insurance company claims it is getting better performance from its office workers by providing a colorful atmosphere for them to work in.

An experiment with colors was put into operation here at the Pennsylvania Lumbermens Mutual Insurance Co., and officials are pleased with the results. One room had 38 colors blended to provide an atmosphere conducive to work.

PLM President Fred H. Ludwig said the "hue-thenics" was working perfectly, with some personnel saying: "Why, we're going home refreshed."

Visiting businessmen invited to view the colorful rooms also came away impressed. "Some who are planning alterations said they would give serious consideration to the use of color dynamics in their offices and plants," Ludwig said.

Am asked if I like "Italian cooking," that depends upon what type of Italian cooking it is. The cooking varies considerably in different parts of Italy. For example, in Northern Italy the cooking is done with butter. In Southern Italy olive oil is used. I prefer the Northern Italian cuisine. One of my favorites is veal cutlet villa milanese. Delicious!

Secretaries
Glancing through the good old classified I noted an advertisement for a male secretary for an executive. Salary offered was $110 a week. This was in Manhattan. Male secretaries are paid from $10 to $30 a week more than women occupying a similar position. But I don't know why. I think it is a position best handled by women.

Asking
Queries from clients. Q. What was the exact wording of the rule by which John B. Kelly (father of Grace), then a bricklayer, was barred from participating in England's Henley Regatta? A. The rule was as follows: "No person shall be considered an amateur oarsman, sculler, or coxswain who is, or has been by trade, or employment for wages, a mechanic, artisan or laborer engaged in any manual duty." Q. Who first said, "I'm from Missouri; you've got to show me"? A. W. D. Vandiver, representative from Missouri in Congress. He made the remark during a speech in the House of Representatives.

Streamlining
How does your wife look in a bathing suit? How about you? There has been a marked improvement in the swim suit appearance of the average female. On the other hand, the number of men bulging in the wrong places seems on the increase. Have you noticed your wife gazing admiringly at a life guard or some other example of a well streamlined fellow? That's a danger sign. You better go on a diet.

Horses and Women
An extremely effective way to win the affectionate regard of a beautiful female is to compliment her on her intelligence and her sense of humor. Also to engage her in conversation as to current events, literature, music, the drama, etc. There is nothing that pleases a physically attractive woman more than to tell her that she combines brains with her beauty. That is the technique Arthur Miller used to win Marilyn Monroe. It never fails.

Please Note
How old was your mother when she was born? It has been said the older the mother at the time of the birth the better chances of the child developing into a clever adult. Anyway, Diana Dors was born when her mother was 42. Also Diana was the first and only child of her parents who had been married 13 years when she was born.

PEP PILLS
How are the typists doing at your office? Are they up to the mark on production? In London now, so-called "pep pills" are being widely used. They are reported to have the effect of increasing the daily output of a typist by 20 per cent. When executives take a few pep pills they are said to be able to work 15 hours a day without becoming fatigued. The pills have been pronounced "harmless" by men of medicine, are not habit forming and, in Britain can be purchased without the prescription. Your druggist probably knows about these pills. So if your typist is not on the beam productively you better try giving her a few pep pills.

Sweater Girls
From the artistic viewpoint the "sweater girl" figure is somewhat removed from perfection. Baron Joseph Dolronyl, the Hungarian sculptor who recently completed a statue of Anita Ekberg, observed, "Anita has a very sculptable body—super feminine with soft lines. Of course, she is a little abnormal in the bust and her hips are a little too broad."

Although half the library buildings in Germany were destroyed during World War II, there is today more reference material in the country than ever before.
