So for the mother's sake the child was dear. And dearer was the mother for the child! —S. T. Coleridge

(Title of above is: "To a friend who asked how I felt when the nurse first presented my infant to me.") It is repeatedly said that writers of certain songs which became very popular borrowed the music of some of Chopin without credit. One such song is said to have exactly the same tune as Chopin's "Fantasia." Another is said to be identical with the same composer's "Polonaise." Have some pianist play these works of Chopin for you and see if they remind you of any popular songs.

Mothers Vivien Leigh, aged 42, lost her expected baby. It is not unusual in Britain for women of 42 or over to become mothers. Last year in England and Wales over 10,000 women of 42 or over gave birth to healthy infants. And all these mothers survived. One was Mrs. Eileen Sullivan of London, who gave birth to her first baby at 46, after 25 years of marriage. Incidentally, in 1882, an Edinburgh, Scotland, woman gave birth to her 24th baby when she was 63!

Please Note It was none other than Hal Stebbins who observed, "Advertising is a young man's business." How right he was. If you are interested in advertising, don't fail to read Hal's brilliant work titled "The Creative Spirit in Advertising." No advertising copy writer should be without it.

That brilliant stage beauty, Dorothy Dickson, has the same measurements she had 25 years ago. That is, 38-25-35. She appears to be about 36 years old. How old is she? That I cannot definitely say. However, she was in the "Ziegfeld Follies Of 1917" and before that was a well-known ballroom dancer being teamed with that agile and graceful fellow, Carl Hyson.

Asking Queries from clients. Q. What is the correct way to refer to Princess Rainier (Grace Kelly)? A. She should be addressed and referred to as "Her Serene Highness Princess Grace of Monaco." Q. Where can one enjoy a genuine bowl of Bouillabaisse in New York? A. Try Sloppy Louie's place near the Fulton Fish Market.

Passing By Cecil Blount De Mille, Dean of film directors. First director in Hollywood to use a megaphone. He also introduced the wearing of puttees on the set. Cecil was born under the sign of Leo. This lends further credence to the claim of the stargazers that men born under that sign are usually possessed of great executive ability. Long Ride What's the world's longest train ride? Answer is that from Moscow to Vladivostok, a distance of 5800 miles. This trip takes eight days, five hours and 35 minutes. The first class fare is the equivalent of $275.

Style Fit is of 90 per cent importance in a woman's achieving a well-dressed appearance. So I note it said. Quite so. That's why Frenchwomen are rated the world's best dressed females. Their clothes fit well. Too many of our countrywomen feature body fitted garments. Their appearance brings to mind Dean

Swift's immortal description of a literary celebrity—"she looks as if her clothes were thrown on her with a pitchfork."

A Nichol's Worth of... Comment On This and That

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS United Press Feature Writer

Washington—(U.P.)—The machine age is taking something away from Mother Nature—particularly in the business of grass growing.

There is an outfit in Dallas, Tex., which has come up with an automatic gimmick that grows grass. Being a mower of lawns of long standing and fine reputation, I don't think I'll run along with the new contraption. It's too darn fast with its growing, even though the production up to now is limited to pastures—things like that could spread.

This thing was invented by a Belgian and it is claimed it can take a seed of grain and grow it into a blade of grass six to 7 1/2 inches high in a little over a week. If you can multiply one grass seed into a yardful of blades what a problem a mower would have on his hands! He'd have to quit his job and do nothing but push a grass cutter. Good for Pastures Actually, what the inventor had in mind was improving pasture land. That might be fine for cows, but for the lawn I don't see it. It's bad enough to have to run along behind a mower once a week or so. It would be worse to have to attack the growth with a scythe before mowing.

The machine, or unit, works like this: There is a metal-framed box with seven drawers. Top drawer holds water which is mixed with a special chemical formula. This sifts down by filtration into the other drawers, which are populated by six or seven pounds of seed.

Temperature control, important in the growing of grass, pasture or lawn, is achieved through automatic control of electric heating units. A special control unit regulates the flow of electricity. So the temperature thus is controlled. Different seeds need different temperature.

During the operation, the seeds and growing shoots automatically are irrigated each day with a solution containing dissolved nutrients. That does away with the need for something else Mother Nature invented—the good earth.

Mother Nature Needed But the scientists can't do away with old Mom Nature altogether. The seed has to be planted in the soil.

A single, seven-drawer machine, it is said, can produce forage enough to keep 10 head of cattle contented. Or, 500 pounds of pregerminated seed can produce 300 to 360 pounds of man-made grass.

Other things than grass could be spawned in the machine.

FARMING BRINGS ACHES

Hartford, Conn.—(U.P.)—The Connecticut Chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation says farmers work too hard. The experts said farmers develop arthritis more than any other occupational group, perhaps because of long spells of outdoor work without letup. The foundation urges farmers to "warm up" in the morning with light chores.

Maybe the invention is a good idea. But please let's keep it on the farm. Us city folks don't have all day to cut grass.

Stevenson Schedules Knoxville Conference

Knoxville, Tenn.—(U.P.)—Bill Brawley, assistant to Adlai Stevenson's campaign manager, James Finnegan, arrived here today to make final plans for next Thursday's presidential campaign strategy conference.

Stevenson and his vice-presidential running mate, Sen Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) are to arrive here at noon Thursday from Sioux City, Iowa, and leave that night for Chicago.

Hotel Manager James Bradley said since announcement of the Aug. 30 meeting, "just about every politician" has called for room reservations.

Also scheduled to arrive here today was Miss Annabelle Clement, sister of Gov. Frank Clement. She will assist in planning the conference.

Adlai Said Undisputed Democratic Leader

Portland—(U.P.)—State Representative Alfred H. Corbett told the American Veterans Committee yesterday that "Adlai Stevenson came out of the Democratic convention the undisputed leader of the Democratic party."

Corbett, who was vice chairman of the Oregon Democratic delegation at the convention and is now chairman of the Oregon Stevenson committee, praised the "courage and wisdom" of Stevenson in throwing the choice of vice president open for the free choice of the delegates.

"The free choice of Estes Kefauver was a welcome breath of fresh air, compared to the rubber stamp operation in San Francisco," Corbett said.

SCALES OF JUSTICE

Nashville—(U.P.)—Mrs. Cora Compton and some folks from Alabama are consistent to say the least. Last summer while the Alabama people were visiting a neighbor of Mrs. Compton, their automobile was damaged by Mrs. Compton. Damage $15.80. This summer the Alabama people visited again but this time they accidentally dented Mrs. Compton's auto. Damage the second time, $15.80.
