

ADLAI LASHES AT GOP 'GIVEAWAYS'

Progress Buried In Complacency, Candidate Claims

Presidential Hopeful Speaks at Vancouver

Vancouver, Wash. — (U.P.) — Adlai E. Stevenson charged today that the Eisenhower administration has tried to "smother progress in complacency" and to "chip away steadily at gains" made for the American people.

The Democratic presidential nominee accused the GOP of making "giveaways" of natural resources, in a brief speech prepared for delivery from the Clark county courthouse steps here.

"The record of the Eisenhower administration of natural resources could scarcely be worse," Stevenson said.

"It has confronted us again with a great national policy decision that was settled 50 years ago—whether our national treasures of water, forests and land are to be preserved and developed for all, or given away, to the favored few," he said.

Stevenson and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, arrived by plane at 11:35 a.m. (PST) from Santa Fe, N.M. for a five-state meeting of Democratic leaders. First they were to visit nearby Bonneville Dam.

Stevenson said he came to talk about the coming campaign and with the added aim of "checking up on the Republican's giveaway of the people's natural resources."

"We have just come from Bonneville dam," he said, "and I am happy to report to you that it is still there."

Victim of Gun Shot In Fair Condition

Grants Pass — Roland Allen, 39, Jacksonville logger, was reported in "fair" condition today at Josephine General hospital here, where he was taken Sunday after being wounded by a gun-shot.

Allen was struck by a bullet from a .30-30 caliber Winchester carbine while he was riding in a pickup truck with Dewayne Mervin Brown, 29, Jacksonville, according to the Josephine county sheriff's office.

The attending physician said the bullet apparently entered Allen's right side above the hip and emerged from his back. The accident happened somewhere in the Applegate area.

Reports stated Brown drove the truck to a tavern near Pine Springs, where Allen opened the pickup door and staggered to the doorway of the tavern and collapsed. Allen was rushed to the hospital in critical condition. Hospital attendants said he spent a "good" night Monday and his condition appears "much better" today.

Allen was quoted as saying at the hospital that the rifle was discharged accidentally. Brown was lodged in the county jail on a charge of being intoxicated.

Blaser, a farmer, grocer and dairyman, was born in Switzerland and lived in the Troutdale area more than 50 years.

Jackson County Gets Third Highest BLM Remittance in State

Jackson county received $1,867,393.17 from the Bureau of Land Management for the year ending June 30, third highest BLM remittance received by 18 western Oregon counties.

The money is the county's share in receipts from timber sold on the revested Oregon and California railroad grant lands within the county. Total BLM payments to the 18 counties were $11,909,395.25, according to Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton.

Highest amount received was $2,990,449.15 in Douglas county, with $1,837,619.69 for Lane county second.

The 1956 payments were nearly $3 million above the 1955 payments of $9,000,380 for the state. BLM Director Edward Woolley said improved forest management and increased timber values accounted for the higher payments.

Checks for each county are to be presented at a meeting of the Association of O&C Land Grant Counties in Eugene today by Virgil Heath, BLM state supervisor for Oregon.

The bureau's payments represent 75 per cent of the total receipts of O&C timber actually cut during the fiscal year 1956, less an amount allotted by the counties for construction and maintenance of O&C access roads.

Unofficial Truce In Cyprus Expires; Situation Watched

Fear of Violence Told by Authorities

Nicosia, Cyprus — (U.P.) — A 10-day unofficial truce between the British government and the anti-British EOKA underground expired at midnight, leaving this Mediterranean island in a new atmosphere of apprehension.

But there were no immediate reports of violence which authorities feared would erupt as soon as the EOKA lifted its ban against extremist activity.

Security forces manned their old stations, and barbed wire barriers were restrung in the cities and towns where bomb-throwing and shooting have been common for the past 16 months.

Shortly after the deadline passed the government rushed five of the EOKA's toughest men to London under heavy guard for further questioning concerning captured documents indicating that extremist bands may have taken direct orders from Archbishop Makarios, now in exile in the Seychelle Islands.

British security forces Monday night raided the home of Nicosia Mayor Themistocles Dervis, and the municipal building, apparently in an attempt to gain more information on underground activities.

It was the first indication that Dervis, a prominent member of the island's Ethnarche Council and holder of the Order of the British Empire, might be suspected of being connected with anti-British violence.

Informal sources in London said Prime Minister Anthony Eden will delay a decision on filing criminal charges against Archbishop Makarios for two weeks. They said it would take that long to finish translating captured documents believed to identify the pro-Greek archbishop as the real leader behind the EOKA.

Morse's Attorney Accepts Summons

Portland — (U.P.) — Attorney for Sen. Wayne Morse saved Oregon's Democratic senator the embarrassment of being served with a court summons today by accepting service himself.

Attorney John C. Beatty Jr., Portland, arrived at the U. S. courthouse three hours before Morse was due to arrive here by plane and voluntarily accepted the summons.

The summons directs Morse to appear in court and defend an action brought by Woody Smith of Hood River, defeated by Morse for the U. S. senatorial nomination in the May primary.

Smith asks the court to declare him the Democratic senatorial nominee. He asserts that Morse, Gov. Elmo Smith "and-or Secretary of State Earl Newberry" conspired wrongfully when Morse "by a false oath . . . said on Feb. 17, 1955, that he was in good faith a Democrat."

Administration Sees Treasury Increase

Washington — (U.P.) — The administration estimated it will wind up this fiscal year by taking in $707 million more than it spends.

No mention of a possible tax cut was made.

K.F. Youth Lost on Mt. McKinley

Fairbanks, Alaska — (U.P.) — Kinley park 10 days ago, where he planned to hunt sheep in the rugged area east of the Nenana river. The youth carried only three days supplies with him at the time.

James Smith, a private pilot who flew Berry to the area, became alarmed last Wednesday when he returned to pick up his passenger and failed to find him.

Berry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Berry of Klamath Falls. A group of workmen for the Alaska road commission reported they met the youth early last week on the Denali highway, a route that spans the Nenana river. This apparently was the last time that anyone saw him.

Egypt's Decision Hailed by Dulles; Russians Accused

Decision Said Step Toward Solution

Washington — (U.P.) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today hailed Egypt's decision to discuss the Suez Canal problems as a step toward an impartial non-political solution of the dispute.

At the same time, speaking with some emotion, Dulles accused the Russians of very vicious propaganda attempts to prevent peaceful settlement of the Suez crisis.

Speaking solemnly at a news conference, Dulles said Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's decision to talk with a five-nation committee on Suez was a contribution toward equitable solution of the issue.

But he noted that Soviet propagandists were denouncing Dulles' settlement proposals while he was still explaining them to Russian Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov.

Dulles said there had been no certainty at the end of the London Conference on Suez that Nasser would accept an invitation from the five-nation committee on talks on the future of the canal.

The five-nation group was set up by the London conference to inform Nasser of principles of an American plan to internationalize the canal while at the same time respecting Egypt's sovereignty.

Dulles said he hopes the problem of the Suez Canal can be solved by establishing confidence through impartial, effective non-political operation of the canal. He said there has been steady movement forward toward a solution but the end is not yet in sight.

Riesel Acid Case Nearing Solution

New York — (U.P.) — G-men and police poised today to crack the Victor Riesel acid blinding case "wide open" with the arrest of the mobsters who masterminded the April 5 attack.

U.S. Attorney Paul Williams promised to crack the case this week.

Williams disclosed Monday that federal authorities know the identities of the "higher ups" who ordered the underworld assault in an attempt to silence the columnist.

Police sources reported Monday night that two witnesses have "spilled their insides" to the special federal grand jury investigating the attack. Other "new" witnesses were scheduled for secret testimony today.

The grand jury disclosures were made as dozens of FBI agents and police detectives equipped with walkie-talkies searched a narrow sector of the lower East Side Monday for a mystery woman "closely associated" with one of the suspects already in custody.

The search through the tough-infested area was abruptly halted Monday night. Neither the FBI nor police would reveal whether they had found the woman or her connection with the Riesel case.

The sudden search coincided with an abrupt change of heart by another mystery woman — Mrs. Rose D'Argenio, 42, who testified before the Riesel grand jury Monday to purge herself of contempt charges.

Owner of Burned Hop Dryer Plans To Rebuild

Independence, Ore. — (U.P.) — L. H. Dalkenberg, owner of a large hop-dryer which was leveled in a $50,000 fire near here yesterday, said today he would rebuild the structure.

Dalkenberg said the loss included 250 bales of hops valued at $20,000 and five drying ovens. He said $30,000 of the loss was covered by insurance.

Nasser OK's Suez Talks

London — (U.P.) — Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser today unconditionally accepted the five-nation Suez committee's invitation for talks on the future of the contested waterway.

"I agree to the proposed meeting as requested by the committee," Nasser said in a personal message to Australian Prime Minister R. G. Menzies, head of the five-power group set up by the 18 nations supporting Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' plan for the future of the Suez at last week's London parley.

At a news conference in Washington, Dulles hailed Nasser's decision to talk over the situation with the committee as a contribution toward solving the problem. He stressed that there is an urgent need for an impartial non-political solution to the Suez situation.

Sandblast Not To Oppose McAllister In Judge Election

Portland — (U.P.) — L. B. Sandblast, Portland attorney, said today he would not oppose Justice William A. McAllister as a write-in candidate in November for the unexpired term on the State Supreme Court of the late Justice Earl Latourette.

Gov. Elmo Smith last week appointed McAllister, a Medford attorney, to the court, McAllister said he would be a write-in candidate to succeed himself in November.

Sandblast ran for the court in the May primary and was defeated by Justice Hall S. Lusk. In a statement issued today he said that upon the death of Justice Latourette he was asked if he intended to become a candidate.

He said "In view of Judge McAllister's outstanding qualifications, I am declining to be a candidate and urge my friends and followers to write in the name of William A. McAllister."

Hoffman's bid was $278,602, more than double the engineer's estimate of $129,000. Callen said the bid would be sent to the chief engineer in Denver, Colo., for consideration. The bid was opened at the Camp White office of the bureau of land management.

Dulles Reemphasizes Okinawa Control Need

Washington — (U.P.) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles reemphasized today U.S. determination to keep control of Okinawa as long as there is any threat to peace in the Far East.

Dulles was asked at his first news conference since July 18 whether he had informed Japan that the United States would make permanent claim to Okinawa if Japan in the future peace treaty recognizes Soviet jurisdiction over the Kurile Islands.

As a result of World War II the United States temporarily occupies Okinawa, a former Japanese island possession south of Japan, and Russia has moved in on the Kuriles and South Sakhalin, islands northeast of Japan.

Navy To Demolish Rhode Island Fort

Newport, R. I. — (U.P.) — The Navy said today it would tear down Ft. Adams, the 131-year-old granite bastion which was built to protect Newport harbor, but never saw an enemy.

The ancient, long abandoned fort, surrounded by a medieval-type moat, is a familiar landmark to thousands of Newport and Jamestown residents.

Built with massive blocks of Maine granite, the fort housed 500 gunports, but not a single shot ever had to be fired in defense.

The Navy said the fort has become a costly matter, has no historical association and is a hazard to children.
