Market Continues in Pre-Holiday Doldrum

New York — (U.P.) — The stock market continued in the pre-Labor Day doldrums today. Trading fell off to a new low for more than a year. Prices held in a narrow area.

Many issues managed to gain, some a point or more. A few lost with the most severe dip in Du Pont which was off more than two points at its low. Santa Fe was the soft spot in the rails where it lost more than two points.

Utilities managed a small net gain. Dow-Jones Averages: 30 industrials 503.05, off 2.65; 20 railroads 159.78, off 1.12; 15 utilities 68.63, off 0.04, and 65 stocks 176.58, off 0.85.

Sales today were about 1,400,000 shares compared with 1,420,000 shares Monday.

Ex-Minister Held For Embezzlement

Fairmont, W. Va. — (U.P.) — An unordained Methodist minister who worked as a bank teller faced arraignment today on charges of embezzling money "little by little."

Robert H. Drodge, 27, who resigned a pastorate to take a bank job, waived extradition from Pennsylvania Monday and voluntarily crossed to neighboring West Virginia to face federal prosecution.

"I want to get it over with," Drodge, of Mt. Morris, Pa., said when he was taken by FBI agents to the state line.

J. Gordon Shanklin, special agent in charge of the FBI office in Pittsburgh, said Drodge was charged with violation of the Federal Reserve Act and specifically with embezzling or misapplying $2,000 on or about Aug. 13.

Ray Fisher, a service station operator in Mt. Morris, accused Drodge Saturday of fraudulent pretense. Fisher said his checking account at the First National Bank of Morgantown, W. Va., where Drodge worked as a teller, was short $22,500.

Drodge admitted taking money from Fisher's account and from the account of another Mt. Morris resident, W. F. Snowden. But he denied the amount was so high. He said the shortage was about $17,500.

The former circuit minister for the Pittsburgh Methodist Conference said he took the money "little by little."

Togo's Book Says U. S. Maneuvered Japan Into War

Washington — (U.P.) — The late Shigenori Togo, Japan's foreign minister at the time Pearl Harbor was attacked, has charged that the U.S. government "maneuvered" his country into war so it could mobilize American public opinion for the conflict.

The accusation is contained in a forthcoming copyrighted book by Togo, "The Cause of Japan," to be published by Simon and Schuster, Inc. of New York. Excerpts from the book were contained in an article appearing today in U.S. News and World Report, a weekly newsmagazine.

Used as Camouflage
Togo, who died in Sugamo prison in 1950 while serving a sentence as a war criminal, asserted that the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his secretary of state, Cordell Hull, used their 1941 peace negotiations with Japan as camouflage to cover up preparations for the Pacific war.

He said the November, 1941, note that Hull handed to Japan's special envoys in Washington was planned to force Japan to "commit the first overt act" of war.

The Hull note demanded withdrawal of all Japanese forces from China and Indochina and restoration of Chinese sovereignty among other things.

Most of the material in Togo's account has already been made known either at congressional hearings here, the war crimes trials in Tokyo or the reminiscences of other officials. However, some of his arguments seeking to justify Japan's actions are new to the American public.

Insurgents Bolt So. Carolina Demos

Columbia, S. C. — (U.P.) — Insurgents bolted from the South Carolina Democratic Party and today set out to get an independent slate of electors on the November general election ballot.

Some 50 delegates who objected to a unity stand adopted by the state Democratic convention Monday met afterward in a secret night session and decided to split from the party. They said they would announce their slate of electors today.

The insurgents, calling themselves "South Carolinians for independent electors," have the seemingly impossible task of obtaining 10,000 signatures in 11 days on a petition for a spot on the ballot.

Teen-Age Ohio Gang Seized; Fight Averted

Shadyside, Ohio — (U.P.) — Forty teen-age gang members, including two girls, invaded this community of 4,000 Monday night but quick police action averted a threatened fight.

The youngsters, riding in 10 cars, were stopped at the town limits where they were taken into custody. All but six were juveniles and were questioned before they were released in the custody of their parents. Six young men were fined.

Shadyside police said the invaders were members of an eastern Ohio gang called the "rebels." They said the "thrill organization" is known to have about 300 members.

Police believe the gang took its name from the motion picture "Rebel Without a Cause" which dramatized teen-age violence.

HAVE ONE
Westport, Conn. — (U.P.) — Police said they were a bit skeptical when John D. Mallers, 29, furnished a $200 bond by writing a personal check. They had picked him up on a charge of issuing worthless checks.
