Stevenson Says Democrats Only Party Concerned About Farmers

Sioux City, Iowa—(U.P.)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today that the Democrats are "the only party" that is "concerned about the farmers' plight."

The Democratic presidential nominee said that "historically" the farmer has "gotten in trouble" under Republican administrations, and "prospered" under the Democrats.

He said he and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver, came here for a regional party meeting to "hear the farmers' story" and learn how to "drive this story home" to the people.

Stevenson and Kefauver flew here from Portland, Ore., where they attended a conference of party officals from the Pacific Northwest Tuesday.

Says Democrats Concerned

Stevenson said in his remarks prepared for delivery here that "our party has always been the party—and the only party—that is concerned about the farmers' plight today."

Stevenson said for every $4 the farmer got in 1952, he is getting less than $3 today. The farmers' share of the food dollar has dropped from 47 cents to 38 cents in the same period, he said.

"And we know, too, that when the farmer goes broke the rest of the country is going to be in trouble, too," Stevenson said.

Following the opening remarks by Stevenson and Kefauver, there was to be a panel discussion of farm prices and income, soil conservation and the soil bank, farm credit and crop insurance, rural electrification, and administration of the farm program. The sessions were to be closed.

To Discuss Kefauver Role

Democrats from Iowa, North and South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin gathered at Sioux City for the meeting, to be presided over by two Minnesotans—Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Gov. Orville Freeman.

The role Kefauver will play in the Democratic effort to woo the farm belt was expected to be discussed. Kefauver, regarded as a strong vote-getter in Midwestern rural areas, is likely to carry the load of the Stevenson campaign in the farm section.

The candidates and their party will spend tonight in Sioux City, and depart early Thursday for a fourth regional conference at Knoxville, Tenn., this one with Southern Democrats. They will return to Chicago Thursday night.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

To speed up the country's notoriously lagging birth rate, the French government introduced a "bonus for babies" system. The more babies the higher the family allowance. Now many Frenchmen are being paid more money for their achievements as fathers than they receive from their regular jobs. As for example, the husband of 40- year old Mms. Gabrielle Forgnot of Is-Sur-Tielle, France, who has given birth to six sets of twins. The Forgnots have 15 children in all. From the government they get a "family allowance" equal to $56 a week! At his regular job, Monsieur Forgnot earns $20 a week. Incidentally, six sets of twins is not the world's record. I believe a Connecticute woman gave birth to seven sets of twins. Am checking.

Asking

Queries from clients. Q. What film star first played the part of the Queen of Sheba? A. Betty Blythe in 1916. Incidentally, in that production King Solomon was portrayed as being clean shaven. J. Gordon Edwards, the producer, explained this deviation from history by saying that "beards were not romantic." That "whiskers ruin a love scene" . . . Q. Of whom was it said, "there is language in her eye, her cheek, her lips, nay, her foot speaks"? A. That is how Shakespeare described Cressida in his play "Troilus and Cressida." It is a description once applied to Anna Held. However, I cannot think of any present day actress it might fit. The language of the eye seems to be a lost art.

For Father

What did you give your male parent for father's day? Did he like it? Did he exchange it? Probably not. Women have no hesitation in exchanging Christmas, birthday, wedding anniversary or mother's day gifts but men usually keep a present whether they like it or not. They hesitate to hurt the giver's feelings. Anyway, want an idea for next father's day? To the presents you give your papa, add a copy of Albert Parry's book titled "Whistler's Father." It will build up the old boy's morale.

Please Note

Lloyd's of London paid out about $4 million in insurance claims for that Andrea Doria-Stockholm disaster. But don't worry about Lloyd's going broke. Last year, 1955, Lloyd's took in about $260 million in marine insurance premiums and paid out about $224 million in claims. So their profit on marine insurance was $36 million for that one year. Not bad.

Dogs vs. Postmen

In this country last year over 6,000 postmen were bitten by dogs. A wide variety of preventive measures for this situation have been suggested. The most successful protective measure currently in use is a water pistol filled with ammonia. That seems to make most dogs retreat. My suggestion would be that the family dog be taken to the post office to meet the postman assigned to the route. Or to bring the postman into the house, introduce him to the dog and let them get acquainted.

Naming Baby

The naming of boys after presidents appears to have been practically abandoned. Have you a friend so named? How is he doing? This brings to mind that the only successful man I can think of who was named after Abraham Lincoln was Abraham Lincoln Erlanger, the theatrical man. And he always signed his name "A. L. Erlanger."

Get It Right

Frequently misspelled is the name of that musical hit show of the yesteryear titled "Florodora." It is wrongly spelled "Floradora." It is not the name of a woman but the name of an island in the Philippines where the action of the play took place.

Alabama Voters Aim at Integration

Birmingham, Ala. — (U.P.) — Alabama voters stripped their state constitution to remove clauses that might be used as a basis for enforcing integration of public schools, returns from a referendum showed today.

The segregation - conscious voters approved by a thumping majority in the referendum Tuesday the bold act of removing their state constitutional guarantees of public school education.

This will empower the state legislature to abolish the state school system, if necessary, to sidestep any court decrees aimed at lowering classroom racial barriers.

The voters also approved a second broad constitutional amendment providing authority for preserving segregation in public parks and playgrounds.

Springfield — (U.P.) — Two last minute filings here yesterday assured Springfield citizens a three-way race for the post of mayor.

B. T. Larson, a former mayor, and John A. Briggs, a member of the city council, both filed just before the deadline yesterday afternoon. B. J. Rogers, a district manager for a feed and seed company, filed for the post earlier.

The first successful chronometer was made in London in 1761. Its maker, John Harrison, experimented more than 20 years before perfecting the precise time-keeping instrument.
