Flagpole Sitter Burned by Lightning

Miami—(U.P.)—It took a hook and ladder rig and stern orders from Henry Bass, 38, down from his 50-foot flagpole platform Tuesday after he was struck by lightning.

Bass was burned on the hands, neck, throat and head when a searing blast of lightning struck his flagpole during a thunderstorm. But when firemen reached him, he refused to come down except on "orders from the sheriff's department."

Bass had been on the flagpole 25 days advertising a suburban supermarket and had hoped to break the world flagpole sitting record of 169 days.

Firemen finally ordered him down and Bass was taken to a hospital where he was listed in satisfactory condition.

BIRTH BRINGS BENDER

Maywood, N.J.—(U.P.)—Allan Oliver was stopped in a dead end street and charged with 10 traffic violations. Oliver, charged with hitting several parked cars, running stop signs and a red light, reckless and drunken driving, said he was "on a bender" occasioned by the birth of his fifth child.
