A TERRIBLY SWOLLEN ARM AFTER BREAST OPERATION

One of the saddest conditions a physician has to deal with occasionally is the terrible swelling of an arm that comes a year or two after the removal of a breast on account of cancer. In all of the few cases I have seen in which the arm became a dreadful burden to the poor woman, the trouble was that cancer had returned in the armpit and had grown into and plugged up the little lymph vessels which carry fluid out of the tissues of the arm.

In many cases, of course, shortly after the removal of a breast the arm swells slightly, but this swelling tends to go away with time. It is what we doctors call a benign trouble, and it is not due to cancer. It can clear up with time and some massage.

In the worst cases, in which cancer has returned, the arm becomes so heavy, so dead, and so without function that it is like a big tumor hanging from the woman's shoulder. Naturally, she gets terribly tired of carrying it about. In the cases of mild and benign swelling, it helps to raise the arm and to leave it on a pillow so that the lymph can flow back into the body. Sometimes gentle and expert massage will help. I do not know of any medicine taken by mouth that will help this condition.

Goiters

Many ask about goiters. There are several types of these enlargements of the thyroid gland. There is a large, so-called rubbery goiter which does not produce toxicity, but which may become so large that it interferes with breathing. It presses on and narrows the trachea, which is

Annual Field Day Set at Camp White

The second annual "Field Day" will be held at the Camp White domiciliary Monday, Sept. 3, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The social event is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts and the Ladies auxiliaries of Oregon in conjunction with the Special Services department of the domiciliary for furthering the rehabilitation of the veterans there.

Many Activities

Many activities, such as miniature golf, horseshoes, shuffleboard, and other outdoor games will be held in the morning as well as indoor contests.

At 1:15 p.m. the Camp White orchestra will open the program followed by a drill from the Ladies auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Grants Pass. Introduction of guests will be made and more contests will be held.

During the month members have been writing poetry, stories and the biggest lie. Prizes for each event will be given by the VFW post and auxiliaries.

Moo-o-os and Musings

There's one thing that San Francisco probably looks this week.

Unconventional.

Occasionally, after an operation, some more of the gland will have to be removed. If the surgeon removes a little too much tissue, the patient may get slowed-up and cold and sleepy, and then each day she will have to take thyroid substance—perhaps for the rest of her life.

With a toxic goiter, the person often has a reddish face, and a fine tremor of her hands. She (it is usually a woman), will often perspire too much; she may sleep poorly, she may be so warm that at night she wants to kick off the bed clothes, and, in spite of eating much, she may lose much weight. At times she may be over-emotional and unreasonable, and a bit difficult. She may keep blinking her eyes rapidly, and often she is so restless she can't sit still. Usually the heartbeat becomes rapid, and if the patient is not treated quickly, the heart muscle is likely to become injured. In these people the liver, also, is injured if the disease is allowed to go untreated too long.
