Family Council

Bruce W.—I want my wife to stop seeing her old flame.
Linda W.—Bruce doesn't trust me.

Bruce W.—Before we were married a year ago, my wife told me she had had an affair with a married man a few years before we met. She was very honest and aboveboard about the whole thing. I can understand how it happened and never doubted her in the slightest when she told me how much she regretted this mistake and how her feeling for this man is completely dead.

Now, however, her job brings her into frequent contact with this man and I find myself being very annoyed about it. Linda always openly tells me when she has seen him and I trust her implicitly because our marriage has been so happy in every way. I know I'm being unreasonable, but I feel that she should change her job if it throws her into contact with this man. I realize it's just a whim, but I think she ought to understand my feelings about this and give in.

The Medical Roundup

Parkinson's Disease
Parkinson's disease is so common that many people keep asking, "Is there any hope on the horizon?" I am sorry to say that there doesn't seem to be much hope. New drugs are constantly being synthesized, and in some persons, these cut down on the tremor and on the great discomfort the unfortunate people have to suffer. Efforts are being made to devise an operation on the brain which will help, but it appears that, as yet, more research has to be done on this.

Contact Lenses
People want to know if contact type lenses will injure the eyes, or cause cancer. So far as I know, they cause no injury. Sometimes, after a few hours, they cause irritation, and have to be removed for a while. Some persons wear their contact lenses for only a certain number of hours each day. There are now many persons who are wearing these lenses with great satisfaction. They have to be fitted by someone who is expert in this field. They are almost essential to some actresses, and to many persons who are in athletics or in the public eye.

Dr. Alvarez hopes his readers will understand that it would be impossible for him to answer requests for information or to attempt to diagnose by mail.

Around Hollywood

Editor's note: Aline Mosby is on vacation. Today's event column is by Ken Englund, secretary of the Screen Writers Guild of America, on a current controversy in Hollywood—about the "credits" at the beginning of movies be cut out?

By KEN ENGLUND
Hollywood — (U.P.) — I believe every thinking member of the movie industry is all for paring the main title on movies down to the essential credits.

I think most of Hollywood's creative talent will be eager to see eliminated or relegated to an end title such books as "hair styles by Peter Pan," "talcum powder supplied for the saddles by Mennen" or "without the Department of Bleeding Gums, Wyo., this picture could not have been made."

However, most screenwriters like myself take exception to a campaign in Hollywood that centers around the idea that in a picture, and that the technicians should not. These anti-the stars should get billing credit campaigners think a sound man should not be concerned with whether he is billed in Omaha.

"I don't know whether the sound man wants to be billed in Omaha — but we writers do. Just as George Kaufman wants billing on "Silk Stockings" on a break-in date in New Haven, and Paddy Chayefsky wants credit on "The Catered Affair" on TV. The author has had an historic right to credit since the days of the Greek playwrights. And I'm sure that if Bill Shakespeare were alive today, he, too, would want to be billed in Omaha.
