

Navy Awards Bid For Atomic Plant

Washington—(U.P.)—The Navy has announced award of a $18.3 million contract to the Westinghouse Electric Corp., Pittsburgh, Pa., to make the atomic power plant for a guided missile light cruiser.

It will be the world's first atomic surface vessel. The nuclear propulsion plant is being designed and developed by the Atomic Energy Commission in cooperation with the Navy.

The cruiser is part of the program. "It will be fitted out with the most advanced armament and guided missiles available for fleet use," the Navy said.

The Navy previously announced that the cruiser will be built by the Quincy, Mass., yard of Bethlehem Steel Corp., subject to completion of satisfactory contract negotiations.

President Laughs At Own Mistake

Washington—(U.P.)—President Eisenhower yesterday inadvertently referred to the Library of Congress as "the Republican Library."

He laughed heartily at his own mistake and commented with a grin that he doubtless would be accused of trying to drag the library into politics.

It happened this way. A reporter at his news conference noted that the President last week quoted from a speech by William McKinley. He asked where the President had run across the speech.

Mr. Eisenhower said he had read an allusion to the speech in a book about the Republican party's history. He said he then sent to the "Republican Library" for a copy of the whole speech. He quickly corrected this to Library of Congress.

Mrs. Eisenhower Invited to Confab

Chicago—(U.P.)—An invitation has been extended to Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower to substitute for Vice President Richard Nixon at the convention of the National Federation of Republican Women.

Nixon was to have attended the reception in his honor Friday, but was forced to cancel his appearance by the death of his father, Frank, Tuesday.

Some 2,000 women would greet Mrs. Eisenhower at the reception if she accepts the invitation.

However, Mrs. Carroll D. Kearns, federation president, said some members of the President's cabinet probably would represent the vice president if Mrs. Eisenhower was unable to attend.

Californian Enters Guilty Plea in Circuit Court

Linden L. Blalock, Richmond, Calif., pleaded guilty to district attorney's information Wednesday morning in circuit court to the charges of obtaining money by false pretenses.

Blalock was arrested by city police August 11. He is being held in county jail pending the arrival of FBI reports.
