

Stevenson Warns That GOP Can't Take Single State 'For Granted'

Hartford, Conn. —UPI—Adlai E. Stevenson carried his campaign into New England today and warned that the Republicans cannot take a single state "for granted" in the November election.

The Democratic presidential nominee said in a talk prepared for delivery to a regional party conference that he finds "widespread and sober concern" about the policies of the Eisenhower administration, and "a warm response" to the vote appeals he has made.

"On the basis of our experience so far, I do not believe that there is a single state which the Republicans can take for granted in this election," Stevenson said. The candidate arrived here from New York City, where he spent the night after attacking the GOP administration for "misconduct and corruption" at a Palisades Park, N.J., rally.

Scandals in GOP
Stevenson told New Jersey

NO BOMB FOUND

New York—UPI—An anonymous phone caller to La Guardia Airport Friday night said a bomb was concealed aboard a United Airlines plane and would explode an hour after the call. All United Airlines flights were searched but no bomb was found.

Democrats of scandals he said occurred under Republicans in the New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Illinois state governments, and said the same thing "has marked the Eisenhower administration from start to finish."

Stevenson gave as his only example the resignation of Air Force Secretary Harold Talbott last year, after Talbott was criticized for soliciting government business for his management consultant firm.

"This gentleman is only one of the cases of official misconduct among the crusaders," Stevenson said. "And even more serious than the confusion of public office with private business, has been the effort to despoil our great natural resources for private profit." Party leaders from six New England states assembled here for the regional meeting, the seventh in a series of "precampaign"

Peace Prize Change Is in Name Only

Oslo—UPI—Oslo's fellow traveling "Red Dean" Ragnar Forbech said today that Russia's substitution of Lenin for Stalin in the Stalin Peace Prize is "nothing but a change of name." Forbech, prominent in the "world peace" movement, is the only Norwegian recipient of the prize, which he won last year.

huddles planned by Stevenson and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver.

Concern Among People

Stevenson was scheduled to leave here by plane late today for Albany where he will address the New York State Democratic Convention tonight. He returns to New York City tonight.

Stevenson said that he and Kefauver had found "rather a widespread and sober concern" among the people "over the absence of leadership in Washington... insecurity and want that discolors our prosperity... the ugly disorders that warp the path of civil rights... the deterioration of our political and military position in the cold war, and over much else." Stevenson said there also is "growing concern" over the rising cost of living. A recent increase of three-fourths of 1 percent in one month, he said, "signals the threat of inflation."

DECLINE AWARD

Venice, Italy —UPI—The international jury of the Cinema Festival of Venice declined for the second straight year Sunday night to award the coveted Golden Winged Lion of St. Mark for the best film entered. None of the 14 films shown deserved such high merit, it said.

Three Drown in Lake Tahoe Mishap

Al Tahoe, Calif. —UPI—Three persons drowned in Lake Tahoe Sunday when high waves swept five persons out of a big power boat.

The boating accident, one of the worst in several years, occurred during unusually high waves on the lake.

The victims were Joseph Texaro, 40, Berkeley; his father-in-law, Michael Brusasco, 70, Oakland; and Mrs. Irene Ramos, 32, a neighbor of the Texaros.

Raymond Kachley, 19, operator of the 18-foot excursion craft, said he "saw a huge wave coming toward us and I knew it was going to hit, but there was nothing I could do." The craft

BRAVE SAFECRACKERS
Bristol, England—UPI—Burglars cracked the safe of a warehouse next door to a theater Sunday while the movie house was filled with policemen studying a film about safecrackers.

Styning, England—UPI—Residents here Sunday thought the millenium had come. The town clock struck 300 chimes at 2 p.m. before someone stopped it.

was en route from Al Tahoe to Emerald Bay at the west of the lake.

Marlene Perkins, 18, Portland, and Judy Brunk, 17, Berkeley, also were swept from the boat and attempted to rescue the victims. The girls managed to save themselves by grasping the boat but said the victims fought off assistance. The boat did not capsize.
