Gettysburg—President Eisenhower in a plea to the GOP to register a record number of voters:
"A voter without a ballot is like a soldier without a bullet."

New York—Joseph Clark, Democratic candidate for senator from Pennsylvania, on the results of the Main elections:
"Muskie cut Ike's coattails off day before yesterday."

Port Said—A ship pilot on the mass resignations handed in by all foreign pilots on the Suez Canal:
"We've had enough. We are fed up to our back teeth. When the last pilots step off their ships Saturday, you'll see them throwing their hats in the air."

Wayne, Mich.—Roger Wiselogle, 21, when he heard the news his wife had given birth to a girl, the first girl to be born in the Wiselogle family in 92 years:
"We've done it. We've done it. We finally broken through the girl barrier."

London—British Prime Minister Anthony Eden on the Suez Canal crisis:
"For this country, military action is a last resort and we shall go on working for a peaceful solution. But we are not prepared to embark on a policy of abject appeasement."

Gettysburg—Vice President Richard M. Nixon on discussing "Communism at home" in the fall elections should the Democrats make it necessary:
"We don't win campaigns by a diet of dishwasher and milk toast."

On The Side

The financial returns from successful song writing have reached an all time high. A man can become wealthy from writing just a couple of hits. Not only that, the income from an outstanding song will last a lifetime. Wolfe Gilbert is still collecting royalties from that lively ditty titled "Waitin' for the Robert E. Lee," which he wrote over 40 years ago. A song is copyrighted for 28 years. The copyright can then be renewed for 28 more years making 56 years of royalty collecting. That remarkable organization the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) has done much to keep the songwriters' royalties rolling in. After a man has written one successful published song he is eligible for ASCAP membership.

In addition to mastering a musical instrument, the aspiring song writer should study poetry. Even to the extent of taking a course in poetry writing. Dorothy Fields, one of the most successful of present day song writers, originally wrote magazine poetry. As you probably know, Dorothy wrote such song hits as "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby," "Exactly Like You," "Lovely To Look At" and "I'm In The Mood For Love." Irving Berlin was originally a poet. The idea of writing songs came to him later. Incidentally, those two perennially popular songs, "Jest A-Wearyin' for You" and "Mighty Lak' A Rose" were from poems by Frank L. Stanton. Carrie Jacobs Bond just wrote the music for these two classics.

In Great Britain there are over 1,000 amateur tobacco growers. They grow pipe tobacco in their backyards. I wonder how your grow tobacco suitable for cigar and stogie making. I may have to start growing tobacco in my backyard if the clients keep taking me for stogies the way they have been doing lately.

Bob Considine, distinguished foreign correspondent, star reporter, sports writer, novelist, short story writer, biographer and radio and television broadcaster. It makes me feel tired to even think of how much work Bob does. He is also the proud papa of four children. A remarkable fellow.

A Frankfurt, Germany, newspaper recently said Joan Crawford was 50. Joan was highly indignant. "That's insulting," she said. "I am only 49." Now they are giving feminine names to typhoons. As for example, "Typhoon Wanda" which in China caused the death of one hundred people, injured 600 and blew down 320 houses.

It is reported that on her trip to England, Marilyn Monroe took along 6,000 vitamin pills. These pills are said to have cost Miss Monroe about $1,000. Add members MNIAPAC—Donna Wanner, Lonsdale, Pa. Am asked what is the largest hotel in New York City. It is the Hotel St. George in Brooklyn. Largest hotel in Manhattan is the New Yorker.

done correctly. So far I've caught them on many mistakes in courtroom procedure, such as having the attorney put his foot on the witness chair. In the story, as in real life, the defendant goes free but the lover never is prosecuted for the murder because of legal difficulties. The motion picture code says a murderer cannot go unpunished on the screen, but the studio anticipates no trouble from TV censors.

New Storm Building Up Hurricane Force

Miami — (UP)—A new tropical storm, 500 miles off the Florida coast, rapidly built up force today towards hurricane strength of 75 miles per hour.

Storm Ethel, fifth tropical whirler of the season, posed no immediate threat to the U. S. mainland, the U. S. Weather Bureau said.

A hurricane hunter plane located the storm's center over the Atlantic east of West Palm Beach, Fla., Wednesday midnight moving on a north-northeastward course toward the open sea.

Ethel developed Wednesday among squalls churning for days about a low-pressure area in the Atlantic. A cold front moving down from Canada collided with warm air from the Caribbean

Airman Begins Alaska Assignment

Airman Third Class Morris J. Smith has arrived in Alaska to begin his assignment as an operations clerk with the 58th weather reconnaissance squadron. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Smith, 1401 Euclid, Medford, Oregon.

In the performance of his duties, Smith is aiding in the completion of the squadron's two daily missions which fly far over the Bering Sea and the vast arctic ice pack near the pole. Weather information, which is vital to forecasters in the United States and Canada, is gathered on these missions.

Before coming to Alaska Airman Smith was stationed at Ke-
